TAYLOR FINES

Carrying a concealed weapon, fighting, stealing and failure to provide as much food and clothing as desired were responsible for the four cases which were tried before Judge Taylor in Recorder's court on Monday morning.

Ben Howard, negro who killed one member of his race and seriously wounded another in a fight which took place in River township on Friday night, came before the court and entered a plea of guilty court and entered a plea of guilty to the charge of carrying a concealed weapon which was booked against him after a coroner's jury, impaneled in Littleton Saturday morning, said by its verdict that he was justifiable in killing Norman Booker and seriously wounding Jack West, negroes alleged to have jumped on him and threatened death as he was returning home after having escorted a girl to a social function. The judgment of the court was that Howard should pay a $50.00 fine and be taxed with court costs.
