BOARD HAS QUIET SESSION MONDAY

Appropriation for Continuing Fire Prevention Work in County Is Made

ADD NAME PAUPER LIST

Bringing to a close a rather quiet session with the Board of Education adjourned on Monday afternoon until next Thursday, June 13, when a county welfare officer will be elected and the jury list revised. The meeting next week is to be a special session with the Board of Education, which has a voice in the selection of the welfare officer. Miss I. Leach is the present welfare officer, and so far as it could be learned yesterday there is only one other candidate, Mrs. J. W. Warren, of River Township, for this position.

Before adjourning Monday the board ordered that enough of the fund be used to purchase a truck for the purpose of fighting forest fires, and that $750 be appropriated for the purchase of a truck for the purpose of fighting forest fires. The board also ordered an appropriation of $35.00 for the purchase of a typewriter for County Agent Bob Wright.

One new name was added to the pauper list, and the appropriations for two others who have been drawing financial aid from the county were increased. Two dollars a month was appropriated for Julia Williamson, Sallie Evans' monthly appropriation was increased to $5, and $1 was added to Mary Shearin's monthly appropriation.

All in all, the board had a rather quiet and uneventful day.

Washington Paper Says Kerr Is Waging A One Man Fight

from The Washington Herald. Without adequate foreign outlets the American tobacco industry will crash in bankruptcy.

That hard fact confounds all the governmental "do-nothing" bureaucrats who admit that American seeds in foreign soil are ruining the export market, but contend that they don't know how to change things.

For the last 20 years the average of each year's American tobacco crop to be exported has hung between 38 and 40 per cent of the total yield. Only a few million pounds of Greek and Turkish tobacco is imported for blending popular cigarettes, and this is not considered competitive.

Rep. John Kerr, of North Carolina, who comes from the heart of the tobacco country, has a program of defense which he has been unable to get approved by the Department of Agriculture although leading tobacco growers and dealers are flooding Washington with appeals for its adoption.

He would simply put an embargo on seed exportation, with a $5,000 fine and a year in jail for offenders, and then carry on an intensive campaign of education among the small farmers to teach them the harm they are doing themselves by shipping the rest of the world grow almost-American tobacco at prospective killing prices.

A bill is now pending before the House subcommittee of the House Committee on Agriculture, to prohibit exportation of seed except on written permit of the Secretary of Agriculture and then only for experimentation.

ACKS EXPLANATION

Mr. Kerr: I have introduced this bill every year for the past three years but have been unable to get consideration by the Department. Nobody is able to offer an adequate explanation for this refusal but it always is forthcoming.

There is certainly a precedent. The United States owns a natural monopoly on helium gas, just as it once had on tobacco. I modeled my tobacco bill after the bill for the exportation of helium.

Other countries successfully forbid the exportation of helium. I believe we can effectively prevent such here. It is true a very small quantity of seed will plant a crop, but it is also true that we have to replenish their supply regularly. If we can get the

In addition to re-electing these officials, the commissioners appointed committees on the board to serve for a year and passed an ordinance making it unlawful to park on Main Street from the Methodist church to Dameron's corner other than parallel with the street.

Man Violates Parole; Sent To Prison Camp

Violating the conditions of a suspended sentence was responsible for Charlie Hawkins, negro of near Warrenton, being carried to the Warrenton County Prison Camp on Wednesday night to serve a 30-day road sentence.

Hawkins was recently given a 30-day road sentence and fined $5.00 and costs, but the road sentence was suspended upon the condition that he remain of good behavior. Wednesday night his conduct was such as to cause his wife to notify the authorities, and he was taken into custody and carried to the prison camp by Deputy Roy Shearin and Night Policeman Lee Wilson.

Cotton Growers Must Apply For Certificates

By BOB BRIGHT, All persons growing cotton in 1935 must apply for cotton certificates under the Bankhead Act if they wish to market their cotton tax free. This applies to contract signers and non-signers. The applications have been in the townships for signatures since June 3 and will remain in the townships through June 8. Cotton producers have been very slow in making application.

All applications must be in the State Office on June 20. This means that this office will not be able to accept applications after June 17. Producers should sign their applications in the townships at once and not wait until they have been returned to this office.

There seems to be a question as to whether cotton growers are required to make application or not. I wish to make this clear, that the Bankhead Act is still in force and that unless a person makes application he will not receive any certificates. This means that any lint cotton sold in 1935 without certificates will be subject to the tax.

Registrars from the fourteen voting precincts in Warren county met here yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock with members of the Warren County Board of Elections, and received the registration books which are to be opened on Saturday for the purpose of receiving new names before the whiskey referendum is to be held in this county on July 6.

Whiskey Trouble Leads To Court

Trouble, said to have been born from booze, was responsible for Lee Perry, negro of Sandy Creek, receiving a severe cut on his arm and a stab in the leg Sunday afternoon about 6 o'clock, and with the injured man and Johnnie Watson, negro alleged to have done the cutting, both being bound over to Recorder's court on assault charges.

The affray, according to Sheriff Pinnell, was the outgrowth of a dispute over some whiskey. The cuts were inflicted on the body of Perry by Watson with a pocketknife, it was stated.

AMUSING—Along about this time of the year preceding State-wide primaries, candidates for the big posts begin to visit Washington to ascertain how they stand with the boys from the home-state who have proved their vote-getting ability. So far, not a single one has returned discouraged. The lads who get to Congress must be good at politics and must be better to stay there. They know better than to give office seekers the impression that his Congressman is not his friend. It's the old army game of science and skill but it still works.

SCRAPPING—North Carolina power industries are going after the Rayburn bill, now in the United States Senate, out in the open. Some of the companies are running advertisements in the State newspapers giving the public their side of the case. Privately some power officials express the opinion that there is so much of the undesirable in the measure to put unprejudiced control of local business in the hands of the Federal Power Commission that the public can be trusted to decide against the Rayburn bill. Be that as it may, Tar Heel members of Congress have reported that their mail has been filled with protests against the power control bill.

IN THE MAKING—It now appears that Wrightsville Beach, near Wilmington, may be given a new lease on life by the building of a bridge to the island and constructing a road on the sound side beyond the center of attraction. New Hanover county commissioners have asked the State Highway and Pub-

BOARD CHANGES PARKING METHOD

Commissioners Pass Ordinance Requiring Parallel Parking On Main Street

A COPY OF ORDINANCE Hoping to improve traffic conditions here, the Board of Town Commissioners, in regular session on Monday night, passed an ordinance forbidding double parking and requiring that all vehicles be parked parallel with the street between the Methodist church corner and the Dameron building corner. Persons violating this ordinance are subject to a fine of $5.

The narrowness of Main street here has been responsible for Warrenton being confronted with a parking problem since automobiles and trucks replaced carriages and teams. During years gone by several schemes have been tried out, some of them more satisfactory than others, but the problem has always remained. At present cars are being parked on both sides of the street, on one side parallel with the curbing and on the other at an angle.

Following is a copy of the ordinance passed Monday night: "That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to park any car or truck on Main street from the Methodist church corner to the Dameron store corner other than parallel with the curbing. No double parking shall be allowed. "Any person, firm or corporation violating this ordinance shall upon conviction be fined not exceeding $5.00 for each offense."

Local Stores Observe Half Holidays

Business houses of Warrenton began this week to observe the first of their Wednesday afternoon holidays, a custom which is to be observed through the summer months of June, July and August.

Agreement was reached two weeks ago by merchants, who signed a petition to the effect that they would observe the summer half holiday until September, starting with the first week in June.

U. D. C. Celebrates At Macon Grave Site

(Contributed) The U. D. C. had a most delightful evening, Monday, June 3rd, in the Nathaniel Macon grove with the members of the D. A. R. and Confederate Veterans and others of the war period as special guests. We have but three old soldiers left and were so disappointed that Messrs. Riggan and Shearin, living nearby, were not present, and others that had been included as special guests.

The program was on Jefferson Davis, our only president. A selection was read from Hon. George Davis of Wilmington, Attorney-General for the Confederacy, telling us what a great soldier, scholar, orator, statesman and patriot Davis was but especially mentioning his worth as a man, declaring, he was the honestest, truest, gentlest, bravest, tenderest, manliest man he ever knew. A paragraph from Jefferson Davis' oration on General Lee delivered in Richmond, Nov. 3, 1870, was read, as it was said by

Two outstanding features of the ladies' tournament were the close game between Mrs. Jim Watson and Mrs. Will Dameron, and the low score of Mrs. W. D. Rodgers.

After 12 holes Mrs. Watson succeeded in defeating Mrs. Dameron for consolation prize by one point. Mrs. Watson is to play Mrs. R. B. Boyd Jr. in the finals this afternoon. Low score on the course during the tournament has been made by Mrs. Rodgers, who shot a 45. Honors also go to Mrs. John Mitchell, who shot a 49.

Minister Thanks Public For Courtesy

In a letter to the editor of The Warren Record, The Rev. W. M. Partridge, Missionary Priest of the Episcopal Church who has been visiting in Warrenton, and who held services in Emmanuel Episcopal Church and other places in this county during his visit, expresses his thanks and appreciation for the courtesies extended to him on this occasion. His letter follows: Dear Mr. Editor:

Before I leave your delightful little town I wish to say a word of thanks for all the kind hospitality and courtesy shown me and my little dog.

First of all I wish to thank The Warren Record for the excellent article about my work, which I am sure was a great help in interesting many people both here and in Littleton to come to the respective churches to hear the story of my wanderings over American for Christ. I do not believe that some people realize the help the news-

Commissioners To Sit As Board Of Review June 17

The Board of County Commissioners will meet on Monday, June 17, at 10 o'clock to sit as a board of equalization and review, for the purpose of equalizing and adjusting tax valuations.

The third Monday in June is set aside by law as the time for taxpayers to make complaints regarding the valuations placed upon their property and at no other time during the year have the commissioners the right to make adjustments on property except in cases of extraordinary circumstances.

In notifying the taxpayers of the meeting on June 17, Jos. C. Powell, clerk to the board, asked that all taxpayers who may have complaints relative to their valuations appear before the board and make their complaints known.

Full Session Of Recorder's Court Following Recess

After a recess of two weeks, due to Superior court occupying the sanctuary of the law, Recorder's court swung into full session at Warrenton on Monday with Judge W. W. Taylor, presiding. Carrying a concealed weapon, immoral conduct, escaping from prison, assault on a female, receiving stolen meat, booze, and assault with deadly weapon were represented in the bills of indictment.

Found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon, Jack West, negro, was sentenced to work the roads for 30 days. He gave notice of appeal to the higher tribunal and was placed under bond of $75.00.

Miss Dallas Daniel plead guilty of disorderly conduct and was sent to the Industrial Farm Colony for Women.

Joe Rogers, white man who took "French Leave" from the Warren County Prison Camp a short time before his sentence expired, was given 30 days additional to serve on the roads after he had completed his former sentence.

Upon payment of cost, prayer for judgment was continued on Al Davis, negro found guilty of assault on a female. Prayer for judgment also continued in the case of the state against Amy Jones, negro convicted of receiving stolen meat knowing it to have been stolen.

Earl Thomas and Wilson Lee, negroes, were in court as the result of a fight. Thomas, a small man, was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon. Lee, a large man, was found guilty of simple assault. Prayer for judgment was continued upon payment of the costs in the action.

Hilliard Jones, negro, was ordered to pay a $5 fine and court costs as the results of having been found guilty on a charge of possessing and transporting whiskey.

A request for a jury trial resulted with the case against Ray Weston and Beulah Dean, charged with possessing whiskey for the purpose of sale, being continued until next week.

Found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon, Dock Davis, negro, was fined $50 and taxed with the costs in the case.

James Gardner, negro charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was found not guilty.

ELECTION TO BE HELD ON JULY 6

Date of Election Postponed One Week In Order To Comply With Law

USE SAME MACHINERY Voters will go to the polls on July 6 rather than June 29 to voice their sentiments in the referendum which is to be held in Warren to decide whether whiskey shall be sold legally in this county.

The change in voting date was ordered by the Board of County Commissioners, in regular session here on Monday, in order to comply with the election laws, which require that the registration books remain open for three Saturdays for the placement of new names on the books and one Saturday as challenge day.

Had the registration books been opened on Saturday of last week the referendum on June 29, the date set by the board in special session here on Monday of last week, would have been in compliance with the requirements of the law in general elections, but C. F. Moseley, chairman of the Warren County Board of Elections, was in Halifax county engaged in his duties there with the Seed Loan Office and the books were not placed in the hands of the registrars.

Registrars and poll holders appointed by the board for the last election are expected to serve in this special election. No new men were appointed for these places by the commissioners.

The whiskey question came in for a little discussion at the meeting here this week. Solicitor Joseph P. Pippin told the board that citizens of Littleton are interested in knowing if the whiskey store will be opened in that town under the supervision of the County Alcoholic Beverage Control Board in the event the county repealed the Tur-lington Act, and J. C. Hardy, editor of the Norlina Headlight, stated that he thought a store should be opened at Norlina if the county went "wet." Editor Hardy, an ardent dry, said that he would like to have the job of running the store, but whether this statement was in jest is unknown. The board took no action on the matter Monday, and it is not thought that members of the county governing body will designate places where stores will be opened or name those to serve on the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board until the voice of the people has been heard.
