TWO BOARDS TO CONSIDER SITE

To Meet In Joint Session To Consider Government's Proposal For Army

WOULD GIVE LOCATION

The Board of Town Commissioners and the Board of County Commissioners will meet in joint session here on Monday to consider a proposal of buying a site for a $25,000 army here, W. H. Burroughs, chairman of the county board said yesterday.

Mr. Burroughs stated that the government had agreed to erect the army in the event that a site was furnished. Efforts are being made to have the town and county joint purchase a site in or on the outskirts of the town for such project, and the meeting Monday will be to consider the matter.

Chairman Burroughs said that while the two boards would hold a joint meeting he was unable to predict what action the county board would take.

However, from outside sources, it is learned that the town board is anxious to have the army erected and it is believed that the county will co-operate in purchasing the site.

Five Cases On Recorder's Docket; Two Are Tried

Although five cases were docketed for hearing before Judge W. W. Taylor in Recorder's court on Monday only two cases were tried. One was remanded to the Justice of Peace court, and two were continued. Court adjourned about 12:30 o'clock.

J. A. Meeder, well known white farmer of the Ridgeway section, was in court on a charge of assaulting a female with a deadly weapon. At the request of the defense, Judge Taylor continued this case until next Monday morning.

A jury found Tom Hawkins, negro, not guilty on a charge of bastardy and non-support of child.

Jack Blackhall, negro, is to serve six months on the roads. He was found guilty on a charge of forcible trespass.

In the case of State vs. Andrew Walker, negro, charging assault upon a female, the prosecuting witness, Esther Walker, failed to make her appearance in court. A capias was issued for her and the case continued until next Monday.

The case against W. H. Holloway, charging false pretense, was remanded to J. P. Court.

Thinks Tobacco Prospects Good

Washington, Aug. 28.—J. B. Hutson, director of the tobacco, sugar, rice, peanut and potato sections of the AAA, today predicted that the 1935 true-cured tobacco crop will sell for an average price of between 22 and 25 cents.

"Any price above 22 cents will mean that the total amount paid for the crop will exceed the amount paid for the 1934 crop and so I regard the situation as a healthy one," said Mr. Hutson.

"Lower grades of tobacco are bringing less than the same grades brought last year and the lower average is also due in part to the fact that the quality of the crop this year is somewhat below that of last year," he continued.

Farmers were this year permitted to raise 90 per cent of their base acreage as compared with 70 per cent in 1934. The amount of re-duction for 1936 will not be fixed until December.

Friends of Sheriff W. J. Pinnell, who has been quite sick with influenza, will be glad to learn that he is improving.

Cash Loan Value Cotton Increased From 9c to 10c

Washington, Aug. 26.—Efforts of Southern Senators to repudiate the administration's plans in regard to cotton loans today resulted in a reluctant concession by AAA officials increasing cash loans to 10 cents a pound. This was a boost of 1 cent a pound over the 9-cent figure that caused the rebellion that upset adjournment plans of Congressional leaders Saturday night.

In addition to providing cash loans of 10 cents on 1935 cotton, the program forced through by Southern Senators provides that each farmer will receive a subsidy that will produce a return of at least 12 cents a pound for his cotton, this subsidy to be paid with a number of checks based upon an equal number of applications instead of with one check based upon one application, as contained in the former AAA plan. This change was particularly displeasing to AAA officials, as it will entail a considerable increase in administrative detail because of multiplication of subsidy applications and checks.

World Business Shows Recovery

Washington, Aug. 26.—The government checked over world economic ills today, diagnosed spotted improvement and reported the United States had demonstrated a "basis" for further recovery.

Although many problems still pressed for solution, the Commerce Department, in its world economic review of 1934, said "economic conditions in the United States improved further."

National income was reported up over 1934 by between 10 to 15 per cent and the increase said to be "diffused over a large number of income recipients." The department added:

"An outstanding phenomenon of the year was the increase in the income of the agricultural population notwithstanding one of the most severe droughts in our history."

Chief problems carried over in 1935 despite a "better balance" were listed as: Continued large volume of unemployment; national debt increases by large relief outlays; price disparities; low construction activity and restricted capita goods business.

The review said unemployment in the United States probably was at no time less than 9,500,000 in 1934, but some 4,000,000 were re-absorbed from the 1933 low point to the end of 1934.

Speaks under auspices of the United States Flag Association, of Washington, D. C., before civic organizations on "True Americanism and Peace Time Patriotism." And gathers first hand information for his latest travel book to be dedicated to American Youth entitled "See America in 30 Days on $100.00."

Senator Reynolds To Use Trailer In United States Tour

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—Prior to embarking September 2 on his nation-wide tour to speak before civic organizations on "True Americanism and Peace Time Patriotism" under the auspices of the United States Flag Association, Senator Robert R. Reynolds has announced the acceptance of invitations to deliver two addresses in the Carolinas.

His first address will take place at the annual convention of the North Carolina State Federation of Labor at Durham, N. C., August 29. The second will be before the annual convention of the Loyal Order of Moose of North Carolina and South Carolina, September 1, at Spartanburg, S. C.

While on this cross-country trip, Senator Reynolds will act in the capacity of North Carolina's Ambassador of Good Will by distributing in the visited cities thousands of pieces of literature, folders and pamphlets sent to him by Chambers of Commerce of the Tar Heel State. In addition, he will include in his talks before the civic clubs, an invitation for his hearers to come to North Carolina and view its scenic grandeur from ocean to mountains, as well as its gigantic industrial enterprises.

The itinerary for the tour mapped by Colonel James A. Moss, President General of the U. S. Flag Association of Washington, D. C., covers about 9000 miles and embraces thirty-five states.

Senator Reynolds has been invited to address principal civic organizations in the East, New England States, Southwest, the far West and the South. He intends to girdle the continent, touching at Hamilton, Canada, in the North, and old Mexico in the South in a trailer attached to his automobile. He will eat and sleep aboard the trailer, thus being enabled to complete the circuit of the nation within thirty days after taking off at Washington, D. C.

The trailer is equipped with beds, kitchen and ice box, library, radio, typewriter, electric lights and lounging quarters—in short, it is a home on wheels.

Commenting today at the Capital on his scheduled trans-continental tour, Senator Reynolds said:

"My mission in fulfilling this cross-country engagement for the U. S. Flag Association at this time to speak on 'True Americanism and Peace Time Patriotism' is threefold:

"First, to personally familiarize myself with economic and social conditions prevalent in many sections of the country so that I may use the knowledge thus obtained to advantage during the next session of the National Congress.

"Second, to inform the people of the cities I visit of the wonders of our great state, its fine educational facilities and religious institutions, its historical, natural and industrial wonders, its agricultural, textile and other enterprises, its Great Smoky Mountain National Park, marvelous highways and other alluring and outstanding features.

"Third, to gather first-hand information for the publication of my new travel book to be dedicated to American Youth, entitled, 'See America in Thirty Days on $100,' with the hope that it will instill in the younger element of our land the desire to see America first, so that it will appreciate all the more the limitless opportunities within our own borders, and appreciation of our form of government.

Cotton Farmers Receive Nearly 15 Millions Dollars

Raleigh, Aug. 28.—North Carolina cotton farmers received a total of $14,732,147.51 in benefit payments for all crops in the fiscal year ended July 1, Dean I. O. Schaub of the N. C. State College Extension Service announced yesterday after receiving an official report from Washington.

Tobacco payments led with $8,015,380.21, while cotton was second with $5,145,844.43. Corn-hog control contracts resulted in payment of $719,383.20 in benefits, while wheat farmers in this state got $51,559.67.

Paralysis Losing Control In State

Washington, Aug. 28.—As infantile paralysis was losing its hold fast on Virginia and North Carolina, Surgeon-General Hugh S. Cummings of the Public Health Service, said today that schools "practically everywhere" could open on time.

In Virginia, where talk of delaying school opening had been general, only 39 new cases were reported for the week ending last Saturday, as compared to 75 cases the week previous.

In North Carolina, the new cases numbered 11 as compared with 17 the week before, a situation no longer regarded as unusual for the time of year.

Even in other states where the disease showed a tendency to rise, the Surgeon General said no increase would follow school opening if advice of health authorities is followed.

"The old-fashioned idea, when disease threatens or an epidemic was present, was to close the schools," Dr. Cummings said. "Under present conditions it is only exceptionally such a course is wise."

LISTS FOUR NEW CASES IN STATE WEDNESDAY

Raleigh, Aug. 29.—Dr. J. C. Knox, epidemiologist of the State Department of Health, last night reiterated his position that school openings in North Carolina should be delayed until September 16, at least, to avoid the danger of spreading infantile paralysis in the state.

"This time limit, of course, applies only to schools in the affected area," Dr. Knox said, commenting on the statement in Washington of Surgeon-General Hugh S. Cummings of the Public Health Service, who said schools "practically everywhere could open on time.

Four new cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the board of health yesterday, in contrast to Tuesday's record of no new cases. The new sufferers were, two from Durham County, one of which was in the City of Durham, and one each from Orange and Wayne counties. The Wayne sufferer was stricken in May, but was not finally diagnosed until this week.

Dr. Knox estimated yesterday that the number of contagious cases in the state, exclusive of those reported yesterday, is about 25.

BRIGHT TOBACCO MARKETS OPEN

Prices Lower On Poorer
Quality of Golden Weed,
Reports Show

BIG SALES AT OPENING

(Charles J. Parker in The News
And Observer)

Raleigh, Aug. 27.—More than 10,000,000 pounds of tobacco congested warehouse floors of the 15 markets as New Bright Belt opened its season yesterday.

Low grades predominated in the opening breaks, and generally expressed satisfaction with prices received was interspersed with grumbling because opening averages fell as low as seven cents under last year's first day figure of 25 cents.

Weather conditions were blamed everywhere for the lower grade of the weed, and it was noticeable that the lower grades, which go largely into the export trade, were not bringing prices as good as last year. On most markets, however, it was reported that tobacco suitable for domestic consumption was holding up in comparison with last year's figures. There were instances, however, of lower prices for domestic cigarette tobaccos.

CONGRESSMAN KERR IS SPEAKER AT WILSON

(John D. Gold, in Wilson Times)

Wilson, Aug. 26.—Crowds of farmers, buyers and manufacturers from all over Eastern North Carolina, and the country at large gathered in Wilson this morning to attend the opening of the tobacco market. The warehouses were covered with the golden weed, and the sales were heavy. It was estimated the sales were 1,750,000 pounds. Tobacco sold all the way from five cents to fifty cents per pound, and the tobacco was not as good as last year, and this was admitted by the majority of farmers with whom we talked.

The Editor of the Times figured two rows one each at two warehouses, and the tobacco was not as good on these as the balance of the sale. The average on these two rows was twenty cents per pound, while the general opinion obtained that the sale today would average from 20 to 22 cents, and we think that is a fair estimate.

There was a broadcast at two warehouses, the Planters at 9:45 and the Banner later on in the day. Judge Kerr was unable to be at the first broadcast at the Banner on account of the failure of Congress to adjourn Saturday night.

He arrived in Wilson later in the day and in his radio address urged farmers to stand by the control program, saying that better prices for tobacco are due to their co-operation with the administration.

Last Link In Highway To Be Let For Hard-Sur-
facing September 5

DISTANCE OF 12 MILES

The last link in the long delayed Warrenton-Louisburg road will be let for hard-surfacing on September 5, according to an announcement of listing for lettings in Tuesday's News and Observer.

The announcement of the listing by the State Highway and Public Works Commission calls for twelve miles of bituminous surface treatment on Route 59 between Ingleside in Franklin county and Afton in Warren county.

The letting of this road was forecast last week when Chairman William Burroughs of the Board of County Commissioners received a letter from the State Highway Commission informing him that the project had already been sent to Washington for approval and in the event that it was approved there the contract would be awarded the next time the commission met to let roads.

Two-Thirds Of Growers Sign New Tobacco Contracts

Two-thirds of the tobacco growers of Warren county have signed tobacco contracts for the years 1936-39, R. H. Bright, county agent, announced yesterday, and requested that other growers sign the contracts as early as possible as it is believed, Mr. Bright said, that an early sign-up will have a beneficial effect on the prices paid this season.

Contracts signed now will be in force for 1936, but signers may withdraw from the 1937, or subsequent years, contract by notifying the county agent of such intention early in July of such year, Mr. Bright said.

Under the new contract, the agent continued, there will be no rental payments, but each producer is guaranteed parity for the particular grade sold. Should the crop sell above parity, it is expected that an additional payment of around two cents a pound will be made. Allotment cards for the 1935 crop have been filled out and are now ready for delivery. Mr. Bright said that if any grower could not come in person for his card, that he would be required to send a written order for his card.
