

BALLOTS SENT TO POLL HOLDERS

Seven Thousand Ballots Are Printed For Primary To Be Held On June 6th

REPUBLICANS VOTE

Ballots to be used in the primary June 6 came off the printing presses early in the week and are now in the hands of the poll-holders.

Seven thousand ballots were printed this year and indications are that more of them will be used than heretofore. Claude Haincock, chairman of the Warren County Board of Elections, stated this week that "we have had one of the biggest registrations that I can remember." At least 300 new names have been added to the books, he said, and prophesied that 3,500 ballots would be cast in the primary next week.

No Republicans will be permitted to participate in the primary next week.

In a ruling on this matter last week Attorney General A. F. Seawell stated:

"There are no requirements with which a Republican can comply which would permit him to vote in the Democratic primary, nor are there any requirements with which a Democrat can comply which would permit him to vote in the Republican primary," the attorney general said.

The law also intends the Republican primary, when one is held, to be solely to permit Republicans to select the candidates of their own party without participation therein by any Democrat. Mr. Seawell noted.

The ruling Monday followed closely ruling by the attorney general last week at the request of Raymond C. Maxwell, executive secretary of the State Board of Elections, in which it was stated a voter who has registered and declared his party affiliation may not, after the books are closed and on the day of voting, change his party affiliation.

Senator E. D. Smith Praises Kerr's Work

The following unsolicited letter received by Congressman John H. Kerr from Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina, chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry, will be of interest to his friends:

Washington, D. C., May 11, 1936.

Hon. John H. Kerr, M. C., Warrenton, North Carolina.

Dear Congressman:

I do miss you solely now that certain vital legislation affecting agriculture is before the Congress. I know you will be busy in your office. I am sure that if the people of your District knew as I know, the work that you have done and the ability with which you have done it, they would realize that they could not get a better Representative from their District.

In all the efforts made to benefit the farmers in the marketing of their products, cotton, peanuts, tobacco, etc., you have been a constant force.

Mrs. J. S. Jones Named County Health Nurse

Mrs. Joseph S. Jones has been employed by the State Health Board as a county nurse for Warrenton. Her salary is paid by the state from funds provided by the Children's Bureau under the Social Security Act, and she will begin her duties on June 1.

Prior to the time that she goes to work, Mrs. Jones will go to Robinson county and to Chapel Hill to take training courses. She is to work among the indigent of the county and will hold meetings at three places in the county each month at which time she will impart advice to expectant mothers. A physician of the county will be with her at these meetings and occasionally a baby specialist from Raleigh will be present to give instructions.

Mrs. Jones' appointment was made known yesterday afternoon by Dr. George M. Cooper, head of the State Health Board, who was in Warrenton. ## Hog Cholera Is Spreading Over Warren County

Hog cholera is again doing its destructive work among hogs in Warren county. During the past week, I was called to eight farms to look after sick hogs. In seven of these cases, I found the hogs suffering with cholera. And through quick work I was able to save 21 of these hogs by vaccinating them. However, one man lost four of his hogs as they died before the medicine got here from Raleigh.

The greatest number of cases of cholera to date seems to be in Cool Spring section of the county. However, I found one case in Macon which was fatal.

May I advise that you do not wait until cholera is on your farm nor your neighbor's farm before you have your hogs vaccinated. To do this you will be taking a great risk, as it has been found that a large number of hogs that are vaccinated after being infected die.

Under normal conditions, it will cost about 28 to 40 cents per hog to have them vaccinated; whereas when infected it will cost almost twice that amount to do the same work.

By close cooperation with us, we can stamp out the cholera in Warren county, which will be a great saving to the farmers.

My services are free. I shall be glad to advise or serve you in any capacity you may wish.

Yours for service,
C. S. WYNN,
Negro Farm Agent.

MAN KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Fatal Accident Occurs On Norlina-Warrenton Highway Tuesday Night

CAUSE WRECK UNKNOWN

Jesse King, young white man of Warrenton, was fatally injured on Tuesday night around 9 o'clock when the Chevrolet coach he was driving was in a collision with a Plymouth automobile operated by Bennie Williams, negro, about a mile and a half from Warrenton on the Norlina road.

Following the wreck, which occurred on a straight stretch of road, he was carried to Henderson hospital where he succumbed to his injuries around 10:30 o'clock that night.

Neither Bennie Williams nor the other occupants of his car—James Allgood and Endy Allgood—were seriously hurt in the crash which badly damaged both automobiles.

The cause of the accident is not known. Coroner Jasper W. Shearin stated that Bennie Williams and Endy Allgood told him that the car being operated by King was not apparently traveling at an excessive rate of speed and appeared to be on the right side of the road until it got within around 20 feet of their car and then drove headlong into it. Mud on the highway, alleged to have dropped from the cars when they struck, indicated that King's car was on Williams' side of the road, the Coroner stated. Williams was traveling towards Norlina and King was coming to Warrenton.

Wise and resided in Norfolk, Va., until the death of her husband and son several years ago. She had made her home with Miss Barnes only a few days before her death Monday night. She was a member of the First Baptist church of Norfolk.

Brothers Was Due To Get Diploma

An oversight was responsible for Lloyd Brothers, son of the Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Brothers, not receiving his diploma last Friday night, Paul W. Cooper, principal of the John Graham School, states in the following note of explanation which also carries with it an apology:

"The name of Lloyd Crawley Brothers Jr. was omitted when the diplomas were awarded the graduates of the John Graham High School last Friday night. The omission was merely an oversight on the part of Mr. V. F. Ward, chairman of the school board. The name was third on the list of graduates and the diploma was in the basket with the others. Mr. Ward and the school officials regret this occurrence and apologies for it."

Superior Court Ends Shortest Term In Number Years

One of the shortest sessions of Superior court held in Warren county in years came to a close last Friday at noon—three hours after Judge Cranmer had sentenced the Winkler brothers to from six to ten years in prison on charges of breaking, entering and burglary.

The Virginia men, alleged to have broken into the Swan Sandwich Shop and Beer Garden at Norlina and robbed the place of a considerable amount of cash and several hundred dollars worth of property after disarming the night clerk, Clyde Jeff Coat, and leaving him tied to his cot, were found guilty on Thursday of last week but judgment was postponed until the following morning.

Notice of an appeal was given before judgment was passed and it is understood that attorneys for the defendants have 30 days to perfect this appeal. In the mean time the young men are held in the Warren county jail.

After sentencing the Winkler brothers, Judge Cranmer gave his attention to the civil docket which was disposed of in a short time. Superior court in Warren county, held only three times a year, usually runs from ten days to two weeks.

Saturday Is Last Day For Sharing In Soil Payments

By R. H. BRIGHT
County Agent

All producers that intend to file work sheets under the soil conservation program are urged to do so it once. The Washington Office is calling for a final report not later than Saturday, May 30. I am not authorized at this time to make any statement regarding extension of time. The only instructions I have are that all work sheets must be signed and filed in this office not later than Saturday, May 30.

Producers that fail to file work sheets will not receive any payment although they qualify for payment. I am very much interested in this program and wish every producer in the county would file a work sheet. Producers that file and fail to qualify are not penalized, but producers that fail to file and qualify are penalized in that they do not receive any payment. In the face of this dry weather and adverse crop conditions I am sure that every producer in this county would profit by co-operating in this program.

I have instructed all committee-

VETERANS TO GET HUGE PAYMENT

Former Soldiers of Warren To Receive Approximately Quarter Million Dollar

EXPECT BUSINESS BOOST

Approximately a quarter of a million dollars is expected to flow into the hands of Warren county veterans with the payment of the bonus on June 15. The state is to receive a total of $34,622,162.80.

With the distribution of these adjusted service certificates, business in this section is expected to receive the biggest boost since the depression.

Economists contend the spending of a dollar creates $5 in buying power. Therefore, if veterans of this county spend their bonus paying debts, buying clothes, furnishings, homes, household equipment, automobiles, etc., there will be created buying power approximating $1,500,000.

Economists predict every industry will feel the invigorating effects of this new life blood for business, pointing out its effects will flow back through a myriad of industries to farms and factories.

Meanwhile, as the Treasury Department works night and day preparing bonds totaling $3,458,770,834 for 3,515,369 veterans throughout the country, Veteran Bureau officials announced more than two million applications had been approved.

It is expected that the teacher of history in the high school will be the coach of football and that the teachers of the first grade will also teach public school music, Mr. Boyd added.

Other candidates for the place are E. L. Green and Fate Weaver.

Laundry Woodpile Gives Fire Scare

Fire starting in the boiler room of the Harris & Gardner Pressing Shop and Laundry and spreading to a large pile of outides adjacent to the building caused considerable excitement here on Wednesday evening about 9 o'clock, but a small amount of damage.

The town responded en masse when the siren sounded and gathered around the flames back of the building as Harold R. Skillman smothered the blazing pile of outides with a garden hose while firemen attempted to get their apparatus to function. A porroded coupling, which prevented the hose from being disconnected, was said to have been responsible for the delay on the part of the local fire company, which was approximately 15 minutes in getting water on the fire after the alarm had been given.
