

MRS. ARRINGTON BURIED MONDAY

Warrenton's Oldest Citizen
Dies At Her Home Here
On Saturday Night

BURIED AT PETERSBURG

Funeral services for Mrs. Hannah B. Arrington, Warrenton's oldest resident and one of its most beloved citizens, were held from Emmanuel Episcopal church here on Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock with the Rev. B. N. de Foe Wagner, rector, in charge. Following the service here her remains were carried to Petersburg, Va., and buried beside the body of her husband, Sam Peter Arrington, who died in 1893.

Mrs. Arrington died at her home here Saturday night at 9 o'clock, following a slight stroke of paralysis she suffered about three weeks ago. She was 97 years of age and up until a short while ago she was unusually active. She was not only remarkable in the fact that her health permitted her to attend worship, walk down town, and visit friends but she was also superior in the fact that her mind and disposition allowed her to keep abreast of times and tolerant of the changes which took place during the near century that she lived.

The daughter of John White and Mrs. Priscilla Jones White, Mrs. Arrington is survived by five children: John Arrington of Greenville, S. C., William J. Arrington, Mrs. Howard Alston and Mrs. Walter Rogers of Warrenton, and Mrs. Rosa Heath of Petersburg; and two sisters, Mrs. Mollie Beckwith of Petersburg and Mrs. Sue Pretlow of Franklin, Va.

Among those attending the funeral of Mrs. Arrington in Petersburg on Monday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Alston, Mrs. Rosa Heath, Mrs. Walter Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. John Arrington of Greenville, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. Sam Palmer of Alexandria, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Lunsford Long and son, Lunsford Jr., and daughter, Miss Rosa Heath Long of Raleigh; Mr. Malcolm Palmer of Kinston, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cameron of Richmond, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Keppel Falkener, Mrs. John Turman of Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. John Arrington Jr. of Warrenton, S. C., Mr. Richard Arrington, Rev. B. N. de Foe Wagner, Mrs. Boyd Massenburg, Mrs. Arthur Petar, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Williams, Miss Kate White Williams, Mr. H. L. Falkener, Mrs. Tacker Polk, Mrs. Howard F. Jones, Mrs. C. H. Peele, Mrs. John Mitchell, Miss Laura Alston, Mrs. Hugh White, Mrs. John Kerr, Mrs. H. P. Reid and daughter, Miss Frances Reid.

Other out-of-town people attending the funeral in Warrenton included Mrs. Elizabeth Winn and daughter of Kittrel, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Palmer and daughter, Miss Sue Blount, Miss Ruth Mason of Roanoke Rapids, Dr. and Mrs. Tom Long, Mr. Wiley Long, Judge and Mrs. R. Hunt Parker, and Mrs. Jarman of Roanoke Rapids, Mrs. Alex Cooper and Mrs. Boyd Kimball of Henderson, Mrs. Cornelia Alston of Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Sam White and daughter of Wilson, and Mrs. R. B. Boyd Jr. of Oxford.

1,000th Passenger

LAKEHURST, N. J. . . . Mrs. Frances Springs (above), of Fort Mill, S. C., was in Germany and decided to come home by air, in the Hindenburg. It developed that she was the 1,000th passenger to be carried by the giant dirigible in its seven flights here, so she received a silver gift tray.

Mrs. Poindexter Dies At Her Home Here Sunday Night

Final rites for Mrs. Gordon Wallace Poindexter, who died at her home here on Sunday night at 9:30 o'clock, were held from Emmanuel Episcopal church on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. B. N. de Foe Wagner, rector. Interment followed in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Poindexter is survived by her husband; two sons, James Edward and Gordon Wallace Jr., and a brother, William H. Boyd of Reidsville.

Mrs. Poindexter, before her marriage in Richmond in 1913, was Miss Mary Boyd, daughter of the late William L. Boyd of near Townsville and Flora Brinkhouse Boyd of Baltimore, Md. As a young girl she moved to Warrenton with her family from Vance county, near Townsville, where she was born and received her education here under the tutelage of Miss Lucy Hawkins and the late John Graham.

After her marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Poindexter made their home in Richmond for several years, returning to Warrenton in 1920. Pallbearers were Arthur Petar, Hugh White, Hugh Holt, Stephen Burroughs, Roy Davis, Wallace Cawthorne, Edward Hall and Dr. G. H. Macon.

Mrs. Sue Harris Buried At Embro

Funeral services for Mrs. Sue Harris, 61, who died at the home of her son, Professor G. B. Harris, of Franklinton after a lingering illness, were held at the family cemetery at Embro on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 24. Mrs. Harris was the widow of the late James Benjamin Harris. A large gathering of friends and relatives were present. Rev. E. D. Weathers, pastor of the M. E. Church, Franklinton, officiated, assisted by Rev. Biddle, pastor of the Baptist Church, Franklinton, and Rev. L. C. Brothers, pastor of Prospect M. E. Church of which Mrs. Harris was a member.

Surviving are three daughters, Miss Minnie J. Harris of Franklinton, Mrs. Jermain T. Walker of Norlina and Mrs. Thomas Richard Banks of Charlotte; four sons, Claude E. Harris and J. Ben Harris of Charlotte, Will Harris of High Point and Grover B. Harris of Franklinton; and six grandchildren. Mrs. Harris was a sincere Christian, a devoted mother and was ever patient in suffering. Although she has gone to her eternal home her lovely Christian influence abides in the hearts of her loved ones and friends and she shall be greatly missed.

First Maternity Clinic Held Here

Six expectant mothers and three babies were here on Wednesday for the first of a series of maternity clinics which are to be held in three sections of Warren each month. Mrs. Joseph S. Jones, county nurse, stated yesterday.

The next clinic will be held at Vaughan, near Jesse Harris' store, on Wednesday afternoon, October 7, and on the second Wednesday in the month the maternity center will be at Stony Lawn, in Shocco township. Mrs. Jones said the clinics will be held in Warrenton every last Wednesday in the month, beginning at 2 o'clock, she added.

The purpose of the clinics, the county nurse stated, is to give all expectant mothers and mothers of young babies free examinations by physicians of the county, who will rotate in giving these examinations. There is no cost to the county for this service. Both the county nurse and the doctors are paid for their services from a fund set up by the Health Bureau in Washington, D. C.

Rev. Edward Wiley of Durham, who conducted revival services here during the summer, preached at the Methodist Church on Sunday. While here he was a guest of Rev. and Mrs. O. I. Hinson.

TOBACCO PRICES SHOW INCREASE

Farmers And Merchants Are Jubilant As Prices For
Golden Weed Soar

WEEK'S AVERAGE IS 27c

Tobacco prices have skyrocketed here this week, leaving in their wake smiling farmers and pleased merchants who are feeling to some extent the stimulant of the money which falls into the channels of trade as farmers receive their checks from the warehousemen for their labor.

Sales here during the entire week have averaged around 27 cents a pound, although the prices were slightly under this figure yesterday when the market averaged $26.92 per hundred.

The approximately 27c average of this week is about 40 per cent higher than the average for the corresponding week last year when the weed brought $19.05 per hundred. The season's average last year was $20.59.

Due to inclement weather the sales have not been as heavy this week as has been the case on other occasions, but many of those who did bring their tobacco here received prices as high as 50c per pound and above. The lower grades kept the average down to around 27c per pound, but this average, considered unusually high, has brought forth words of praise up and down the streets this week.

Highway Officer Alexander To Be Stationed Here

Parks Alexander, State highway patrolman, has been transferred from Louisburg to Warrenton and began his duties here on Thursday of this week. He replaces Paul Welch here, Mr. Welch having resigned from the patrol the last of August to accept a position with the Carolina Coach Company. Since Mr. Welch left here Warrenton had been without a state highway patrolman until the arrival of Mr. Alexander.

Planning Board To Hold Second Meeting Thursday

The second meeting of the Planning Board, named several weeks ago by the Board of Town Commissioners to study and work out plans for zoning the town, will be held in the Mayor's Office on Thursday night, October 8, C. A. Tucker, chairman, announced yesterday.

The first meeting of the board was held last Thursday night in the Mayor's Office with Mr. Tucker presiding. There were around 20 citizens present to express views or endorse those of others, but no definite conclusions were reached at the first meeting.

Chairman Tucker said that the board is not only interested in working out a satisfactory zoning law, provided the people wanted it, but is also interested in improving the parking system, beautifying the town, and other matters pertaining to Warrenton. He asks that the citizens of the town attend the meeting and express their views in order that the board may work out the most satisfactory and pleasing solutions to the problems.

Gibbs Chairman Of Elector Committee

Frank H. Gibbs, Warrenton attorney, has been appointed town chairman of the Roosevelt Elector Committee by the Democratic National Committee to raise funds for the party and assist in the re-election of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mr. Gibbs is now ready to accept contributions from those wishing to make a donation in behalf of the President and the party and within a few days expects to name a committee to assist him in soliciting funds.

Barham Davis Wins Seat In S. C. House

Friends here will be interested to know that William Barham Davis, son of the late W. J. Davis and Mrs. Hannah M. Davis, and former principal of the Warrenton high school, has been elected to serve in the legislature of South Carolina as a Representative of Pickens county, S. C. In the second primary, which was held this month, he led his opponent by a majority of 1986 votes.

Mr. Davis was not only honored by being elected to the South Carolina House of Representatives, but he also had the distinction of leading the entire ticket, which was composed of six offices to be filled and twelve candidates.

The Warren County Fair Opens Here On Monday

Parade Features
Warrenton Day At
Agricultural Fair

Exhibits and Midway Expected To Bring Big Crowds Here For Six Days

Monday, October 5, has been designated as Warrenton Day at the First Annual Warren County Fair and a gigantic parade is being arranged to march over the streets of Warrenton headed by Warrenton's famous military unit, Company B, with Captain Claude T. Bowers in charge. Many local business men are entering floats and attractive cars in the parade which will move promptly at 12 o'clock noon on Monday.

The big tent which will house all the exhibits will arrive in town today and will be immediately erected at the entrance to the fairgrounds and carpenters will begin the work of erecting the hundreds of shelves, stands and tables to take care of the many agricultural and home economic exhibits.

Over $4,000 In Bank Of Warren Funds Unclaimed

Four thousand, seventeen dollars and eighty-six cents, belonging mostly to residents of this county who failed to file claims, or filed too late, for funds they had in the Bank of Warren when it closed, has been placed in the hands of the Clerk of Superior court of Warren county and will be turned over to former depositors provided they go before him and establish their claims within three months.

The Clerk will hold these funds, together with a list of creditors, for a period of three months from the date of the final report of the liquidation of the bank and creditors are notified elsewhere in this paper to take action necessary to protect their interest. What money not claimed will be turned over to the University of North Carolina.

Most of those having claims against the defunct bank are residents of Warren county who had a dollar or so in savings account or a small sum in a checking account, however, there are one or two claims which run up to more than $100.00. There are approximately 1,700 eligible claimants for the $4,017.86.

William Newell, clerk of court, will not mail out notices to those who have claims, but he has a list of them and will turn the money over to the rightful owners as soon as they go before him and establish their claims.

In addition to the individual claims, there are several on record in the name of old businesses which have ceased to function, and in the name of trustees for schools and various organizations and concerns.

Wilson Announces Garbage Schedule

The garbage schedule which the town truck will follow in removing trash from the streets of Warrenton is announced as follows by Chief of Police Lee Wilson:

Mondays, West side of Main street; Tuesdays, East side of Main street; Wednesdays, East side of Main street and East side again on Fridays.

Chief Wilson said that it will require the full time of the truck to remove the garbage and keep the streets cleaned and that in the future no leaves and tree limbs will be hauled from the yards of citizens here. He requested that all complaints be made to him.

Dove-Squirrel Open Season Closes

The season for shooting doves and squirrels closed on September 30 and will not re-open until November 20, when the rabbit, turkey, and bird season opens, E. Hunter Pinnell, game warden for Warren county, stated this week. The game warden pointed out that this county has a split season on doves and squirrels, which opened September 1, and stated that he thought it advisable to call the attention of the public to the fact that the season has now closed and it is unlawful to hunt this game.

Edward E. Gillam, President of the new Warren County Fair which will be held all next week on the Norlina Road fairgrounds, located just between Norlina and Warrenton, announces that everything will be in readiness for the grand opening of the fair on Monday noon, which will start off with a huge parade. The huge tent which will house all the exhibits will arrive in Warrenton on Friday and will be erected at the main entrance to the fairgrounds and all exhibitors can make arrangements to place their various exhibits on Sunday and Monday morning early.

The Board of Directors for the Warren County Fair are composed of Mr. Gillam, President; Claude T. Bowers, Vice President; and Robert H. Bright, Secy-Treas. The various superintendents in charge are W. E. Turner, Field Crops and Tobacco; S. E. Allen, Horticulture; O. F. Albert, Poultry; P. W. Cooper, Schools; G. R. McCall, 4-H Clubs; C. H. Drye, Vocational Agriculture. The Ladies Department heads are Mrs. W. A. Connell, General Superintendent; Mrs. R. L. Capps, Mrs. E. T. Harris, Pantry Supplies; Mrs. J. A. Dameron, Mrs. S. E. Allen, Canning Department; Mrs. Frederick Williams, Miss M. R. Burroughs, Needle Work, and Mrs. A. H. Walker, Cut Flowers.

The officials of the Warren County Fair promise an abundance of real exhibits in all departments and in addition many Warrenton and Norlina business firms have entered mercantile exhibits. In addition the local automobile dealers have all entered beautiful models of their cars in the automobile show. International Harvester Co. will also have a display of trucks, tractors of their make in the exhibit top.

The midway of the fair will have one of the greatest amusement organizations in the entire outdoor show world as its big feature—the famous Dennert and Knepp Combined Exposition Shows, Inc., with more than 50 amusement features of the midway, which will include 10 thrilling and sensational riding devices, including merry-go-rounds, ferris wheels, Loop O Planes, Rideo, Chairplane, Lindy Loop, and many others including several rides for the kiddies; 14 high class, clean, moral and refined shows will be on the Dennert and Knepp midway, including the big Circus Side Show with its collection of freaks and curiosities gathered from the four corners of the globe, the "Wall of Death" where intrepid motorcycle riders race each other around the circular wall of the dome at more than 110 miles per hour, the Dixie Minstrels and a "Night in Hawaii" are other real features.

Twice daily at 4 and 11 p. m. the Six Flying Melzoras and the Aerial La Preas will present death defying free attractions on the midway. A mammoth display of fireworks will also be on the program each evening during the fair.

All white schools in the county will be released at Noon Tuesday to allow the children to participate in the fair and all school children will be admitted free from Noon until 6 p. m., and on Wednesday from noon to 6 p. m. all colored school children will be at the fair.

Wednesday evening a real live six weeks old baby will be awarded to some lucky couple in attendance at the Fair. The parents of the child are too poor to properly raise the child and have asked the Lions Club to find it a good and fit home and this will be done on Wednesday evening.

Thursday night will be the night of all nights and will be known as "Public Wedding Night" and a popular Warrenton couple, Miss Mayme Burroughs, who is employed at Roses Store, and Mr. Ira Weaver, employed by the Dameron Company, will be publicly married promptly at 10 p. m. on a beautiful flower bedecked altar on the midway with a most beautiful and impressive ceremony. Many local merchants are presenting the happy young couple with many useful gifts for their new home which they will establish in Warrenton after a short honeymoon trip. The bride was presented with a beautiful white gold wedding ring of the latest design by the Loughlin-Goodwyn Jewelry Co., a pair of blankets
