THANKSGIVING CONFESSION
I offer thanks to thee
for the blessings you've bestowed on me
I have shown I didn't care
I failed to offer up a prayer of thankfulness, as each day went without the blessings sent.

Ethel du Pont to Wed F. D. R., Jr., President's Son

GREENVILLE, Del. ... Ethel du Pont and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (above), are going to be married next June. Their engagement was announced in late November by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene du Pont, parents of the bride-to-be. The President's son and the du Pont heiress good-humoredly posed for news photographers, striding up and down the sun room and seated side by side before the fireplace. They laughed each time they were told to look at each other ... but refused to hold hands. "It is to be a small church wedding," says Miss du Pont.

WILSON-STANLEY
Durham, Nov. 23—The wedding of Miss Flora Wilson of Warrenton to William Ezra Stanley of Durham was solemnized in Duke university chapel Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. W. C. Wilson of Norlina, a brother of the bride, officiating.

Baskets of white chrysanthemums interspersed with branch candelabrae filled with cathedral candles, palms and trailing smilax were used as the nuptial background.

Edward Hall Broadhead, university organist, rendered a program of wedding music. Mrs. Rosa Myers sang "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "I Love You Truly". The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional and the recessional was "Mendelssohn's Wedding March".

The bridesmaids, Misses Mildred Finley, Mary Farmer, Dorothy Stanley and Pauline Freeland, were gowned in Dubenet chiffon velvet and carried arm bouquets of roses and fall flowers in pastel shades. They were met at the altar by the groomsmen, Messrs. Boyd and Stuart Wilson, brothers of the bride, Ludlow Rogers and W. S. Stanley, Jr.

The bride had as her maid of honor, her sister, Miss Mildred Wilson of Greenville, who wore a gown of gold chiffon velvet and carried an arm bouquet of bitter limes in pastel shades, Johanna Hill and Talisman roses in cascade shower.

Joyce May, lovely little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. May, was the miniature bride. She wore a long, white satin frock, entrain with coronet of real orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet, showered with satin streamers.

Miss Wilson entered with her father, S. G. Wilson, of Warrenton, by whom she was given in marriage. Her wedding gown was of Queen Mary blue, chiffon velvet with high neck line and long flowing sleeves. Her shoes were of the same shade as her gown.

Her modish turban was of matching velvet with shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of souvenir roses showered with orange blossoms. She was met at the altar by the bride-groom, who was attended by his brother-in-law, Fred Davis.

Mrs. Stanley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilson of Warrenton. She received her education at Greensboro college, Greensboro, and is a graduate of Watts hospital this city; Shepherd and Enoch Pratt hospital, Baltimore, Md., and recently completed a course in public health nursing at Peabody college, Nashville, Tenn.

Mr. Stanley is superintendent of the public welfare department of Durham county and is outstanding as a social worker in the state. He received his education in the city schools and the University of North Carolina.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley left by motor for southern points. Upon their return, they will be at home at 1017 Demarius street, Durham.
