STRIKING NEW STYLES BOON TO WOMEN EAGER TO DRESS WELL ON SMALL BUDGET

Novelties in Fall and Winter green, with military braid trim, and the black abutting with dramatic white flower appliques shown here are washable, but they are. At practically no cost each can be freshened as often as the wearer wishes, if she has a household washer handy.

Designers admit that the fast growing popularity of washers, now in use in more than 15,000,000 homes, has an important effect on styles. Fashionists are planned to fit the living habits of the majority of women. Since there are washers everywhere, why not design garments that can be cleaned in them, even for Fall and Winter wear?

Washable outfits, made from a surprising array of fabrics that look like the most expensive materials, can be bought far more reasonably than garments made from the goods they resemble and, better yet, can be cleaned easily and quickly in the household washer and finished, ready for use again, in a minute or two on the family ironer.
