

TOWN BONDS TO BEAR LOW RATE

3 Per Cent Maximum Amount
Of Interest Acceptable
By Town Board

FORMS ARE EXECUTED

The $10,000 issue of bonds for street and fire protection purpose to be offered for sale by the town of Warrenton will bear an interest rate not to exceed 3 per cent, it was ordered by the board of town commissioners in regular session here on Monday night.

Necessary papers and forms were approved by the board and will be forwarded to the Local Government Commission at Raleigh which will prepare necessary advertising, prepare and offer the bonds for sale. It is expected that the bonds will be offered for sale within approximately 30 days.

In view of the county's successful sale of bonds at 2 1/2 per cent interest, there was some talk of offering the Warrenton bonds at this figure, but it was pointed out that the 3 per cent interest rate would offer a wider field of sale and the difference would be compensated by a possible premium on the bonds. It was also pointed out that while the county did succeed in selling its bonds at 2 1/2 per cent, only one bid was made and the town commissioners decided in order to get wider bidding that it would be best to meet the maximum rate one-half of one per cent over that of the county issue.

Following passage of necessary measures to have the bond issue sent to Raleigh, Mayor Polk appointed W. R. Strickland chairman of a committee to consider purchase of a fire truck and pump. Other members of the committee are Harold Sullivan, George Scoggin and Big-nall Jones. This committee will work with W. H. Burroughs, Fire Chief.

Two Cases Tried, Two Continued, In Recorder's Court

Two cases were continued and two others were tried in this week's session of Recorder's court.

The charges of manufacturing whiskey which were booked against Kelly Enright and Joe Stallings, white men who were arrested near a still which officers captured two weeks ago, were postponed until the fourth Monday in April when each of the defendants expressed a preference to be tried by a jury.

Albert Jones, who escaped from the Warren county jail last fall before any work was done towards remodeling the bastille, was found guilty of jail breaking and sentenced to the roads for a period of four months.

Found guilty of indulging in an affray in which a deadly weapon was used, Garney Richardson and Perry Davis, negroes, were each sentenced to the roads for six months.

Young Democrats Rally At Dinner

Rallying at Hotel Warren last Friday evening to attend a banquet which was held for the purpose of organizing Warren County Young Democrats, around 40 men and women were encouraged to become more active politically, by Will Yarborough of Raleigh, president of the Wake County Club, who was the principal speaker of the occasion.

Mr. Yarborough reminded the Warren Democrats of the great political leaders which had been produced in Warren county, mentioning especially Nathaniel Macon. "Youth is coming to play a greater and greater part in our democracy," he said, as he commended the large turnout of Democrats at the rally, one of a series being held throughout the state.

The speaker was introduced by Mayor William Polk who served as toastmaster. Mr. Polk acquainted his audience with the fact that in years gone by Warren county almost held a monopoly on the high offices of the state and nation, referring to the long and almost uninterrupted period which this county provided Senators and Representatives who wrote their names in bold letters across the pages of history. Others who spoke were John L. Stinner, secretary-treasurer of the N. C. County Commissioners Association, and John Picot, Little-

Local Officer And Federal Agent Nab 130-Gallon Still

A 130-gallon capacity copper still was captured early last Saturday morning when Sheriff W. J. Pinnell and his force, Federal Officer Nitzer of Raleigh, and Sheriff Harry House and his nephew of Halifax county made a raid in River township.

The officers also destroyed around 600 gallons of beer, a number of kegs and other containers which were found at the plant. The still

210 Persons In Warren Aided Under Social Security Act, Says Miss Leach

Two hundred and ten persons in Warren county received financial aid under provisions of the Social Security Act during the month of March while many others received benefits through WPA work, CCC Camps and other relief activities which come under the supervision of the Warren County Welfare Department, Miss Lucy Leach, superintendent, sets forth in her report which was submitted to the Board of County Commissioners on Monday.

At present there are 270 applications for Old Age Assistance in her office, she says, adding that 88 have been no-arized and are waiting to be investigated. Her full report follows:

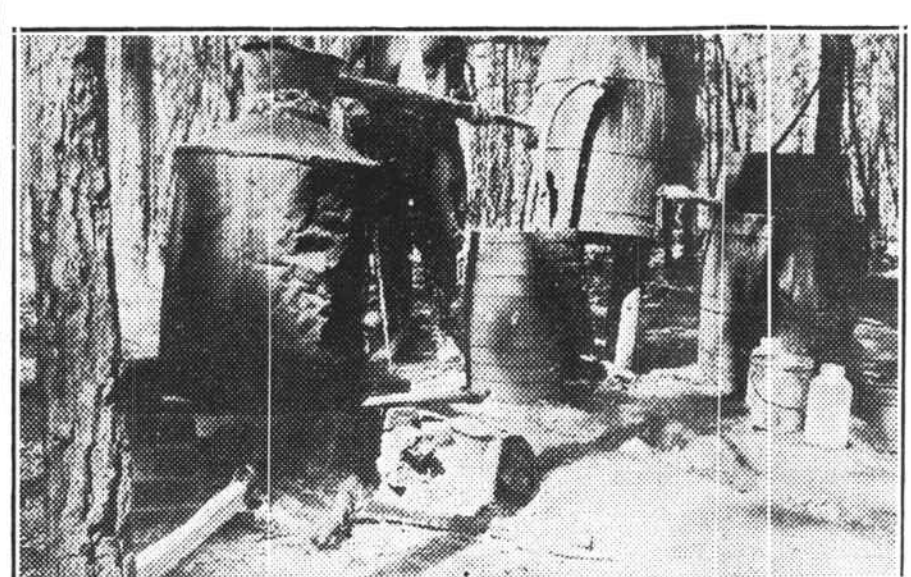

"Number of persons receiving Old Age Assistance Checks, 160; Aid to Dependent Children, 28; Checks for the Blind, 22; Certified to work on W. P. A., 18; referrals in the office, 19; Old Age Assistance Applications

Eliminating ABC Competition

Anxious to see a still in operation, several well-known Warrenton persons accompanied Sheriff W. J. Pinnell and his deputies on a raid which was made two weeks ago near Vaughan after the plant had been located and a trip made to Warrenton to gather those who had expressed a desire to see how moonshine liquor is made. Standing before the plant, which had been removed and set-up near the site where it was found, are: Dr. G. H. Macon, Henry Hithcock, Butcher Worthem, Kelly Enright, one of the two men who are charged with operating the still, Laurie Beddoe, manager of the ABC stores of the county, Dick Hight, Deputy Roy Shearin, Sheriff W. J. Pinnell, Macey Pridden, J. B. Boyce, chairman of the ABC Board, and a negro who was called in to assist in smashing the plant. Picture by Bruce Partin.

Moonshine Liquor Plant

The above is a picture of a complete still before it was destroyed near Vaughan two weeks ago by Sheriff W. J. Pinnell and his deputies in the presence of several Warrenton persons who accompanied the raiding party to see for the first time a complete still. Two white men were arrested near the plant and are charged with manufacturing.

Mystery Shrouds Death And Identity Of Man Found At Macon; Hundreds View Body At Funeral Parlor Here

Mystery still surrounds the death of the unknown white man who was found dead in Macon last Friday morning around 6 o'clock.

Although hundreds of persons have filed into the Blaylock Funeral Parlor here to view the body, so far no one has been able to definitely identify the man.

The only clue found after a week's investigation which might reveal his name was discovered in the trousers he wore at the time the dead body was found and also in his coat which was located a short distance below Vaughan and turned over to Coroner Jasper Shearin on Tuesday. Both these garments were marked Z. A. Collins.

The suit of clothes was bought in Atlanta, Ga., and in the lapel of the coat there was an Elk pin, but whether the clothes were second-hand and the pin found or bought is not known.

The body was found a short distance from the highway in the heart of Macon, and tracks there early Friday morning indicated to Coroner Jasper Shearin that the man either got off or was put off a truck which was traveling towards Littleton. The coroner is of the opinion that the man was living.

More Light For Warrenton Under New Contract

Brighter lights are to be provided for the town under the terms of a new ten-year contract ordered signed with the Carolina Power & Light Company on Monday night by the board of town commissioners. No reduction in rates could be obtained under the old contract, but under the new contract about 40 per cent more light will be provided for

County Board of Election
Holds Organization Meeting
Here Saturday

HAITHCOCK IS CHAIRMAN

Meeting pursuant to directions of the State Board of Elections, C. M. Haithcock and Z. M. Newman, representing the Democratic membership, and W. J. Bishop representing the Republican membership on the newly appointed County Board of Elections, met in the court house at Warrenton on Saturday, April 2 for purpose of organizing. C. M. Haithcock of Macon was elected chairman, and Z. M. Newman of Norlina was elected secretary.

Upon instructions from the State Board of Elections the local county board announced that all candidates filing for legislative, county and township officers must have their notices of candidacy and filing fees in the possession of the County Board of Elections by 6 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, April 23. Candidates can file with any of the three members of the county board. Section 88 of the Election Law provides that the filing fee required of a county or legislative candidate is one-half of one per cent of the annual salary of the offices contested for. It further provides that candidates for the office of Surveyor, Coroner, County Commissioner, Member of the Board of Education and any township office shall pay a

Too Much Trash Dumped On Streets, Town Board Says

A halt must be placed on the practice of dumping unusually large amounts of rubbish on the streets for the town truck to haul off, the board of town commissioners ruled at their meeting here on Monday night.

The board expressed itself as being anxious to cooperate with the citizens in removing trash and garbage and extend all the aid it could in helping citizens keep their places attractive, but at the same time members stated that they felt that many citizens were trying to take unfair advantage of a facility provided for the benefit of all the townspeople. These citizens evi-

Flowers Gardens To Be Opened To Public April 9-10

Flower gardens of Warrenton will be open for public inspection on Saturday and Sunday of this week rather than from April 16 through the 23rd as was originally planned in conjunction with Garden Fort-night and Tour in North Carolina.

The change of date is due to the early opening and blooming of shrubs and flowers which the warm spring weather caused to unfurl their beauty sooner than was predicted. Other towns of the state which were included in the tour also moved up their dates for inspection for the same reason.

Gardens of Warrenton which will be open to the public are those of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson, known as the William Eaton House and famous for its box bushes; Mrs. Katherine P. Arrington, also

Graham Teams Win In Triangle Debate; To Argue In Chapel Hill For Aycock Cup

The Warrenton debating team won a unanimous victory over the Henderson and Enfield teams Monday, April 4. All the schools of Warren county that participated in the Triangle Debates were eliminated except Warrenton. The Warrenton team, composed of Dick Ward and Kitty Wilson on the negative, and John Long and Sam Allgood on the affirmative, were coached by William W. Seward, Jr., who is head of the English Department of John Graham High School.

The question for debate was resolved: That the several states should adopt a unicameral system of legislation. The Warrenton negative debated the Enfield affirmative at Henderson, and the Warrenton affirmative debated the Henderson negative at Enfield. Warrenton won decisive victories in both places.

Harris First Man To File Notice Of His Candidacy

A. D. Harris has planked down his one dollar and holds the distinction of being the first, and so far the only, person in Warren county seeking a political office to file notice of his candidacy with the County Board of Elections, as is required of every candidate before he can offer his name to the electorate for the purpose of being chosen to fill a county office, or to represent the county in the General Assembly.

Mr. Harris is seeking to become coroner of the county, a position which is now held by Jasper W. Shearin of Churchill. Rumor has it that former Coroner Ed Petar will enter the race before the filing date for county offices expires on April 23rd at 6 o'clock.

With the exception of Mr. Harris, who for several weeks had been regarded as a potential candidate, no new candidate definitely waded into the race this week; however, it is regarded as almost a certainty that several other persons will publicly express their intentions of running for a county office next week.

Warehouse Is Decorated For Show April 18th

The long, hard and tedious task of dressing Boyd's warehouse in colors which will offer a striking scene of beauty to all those who come to Warrenton to attend the Automobile Show and Merchants' Exposition has practically been completed, and those who have visited the warehouse and watched the work progress are unanimous in their opinion that the decorations this year surpass those of last year when the Warrenton Lions Club promoted its first Exposition.

The patriotic color scheme of red, white and blue is used beneath the ceiling of the building and along the walls are a variety of colors which have been blended to make attractive the booths that have been purchased by business houses for advertising purposes. In the center of the warehouse automobiles will be displayed, with ample floor space left for the high-class free acts which are to be given each night as a feature of the show.

The Exposition is to have its formal opening on Monday evening, April 18, when Carl Goerch, editor of The State magazine, comes here to speak. The next outstanding event will be on Tuesday night when Meyer-Davis' orchestra comes to Warrenton to provide music for a dance which is expected to draw crowds from a radius of many miles. His 11-piece band is regarded as being the highest class orchestra which has ever furnished music for a dance in Warrenton.

Low-Flying Planes Disturb Worship, Say Ministers

Barnstorming planes flying over Warrenton on Sundays between the hours of 9:30 a. m. until 1 o'clock p. m. are proving to be an annoyance to Sunday School and Churchgoers of the town, it was pointed out to the board of town commissioners here on Monday night by the Rev. B. N. de Foe Wagner and the Rev. R. E. Brickhouse, representing the Warren County Ministerial Association.

WORKER ADDED RELIEF FORCE

Miss Leach Authorized By Board To Hire Assistant
For Two-Three Months

MORE SPACE IS NEEDED

The Board of County Commissioners on Monday authorized Miss Lucy Leach, county welfare officer, to employ a case worker for two or three months to assist the present personnel of her office in investigating the cases of those who apply for old age pensions and other benefit checks under provisions of the Social Security Act in order that the names of eligible persons may be certified to the Raleigh office without unnecessary delay and those entitled to funds from this source may receive the money which has been appropriated for them by the federal, state and county governments.

In authorizing Miss Leach to hire additional help to assist in clearing her office of the large number of applications with which she has been overrun since the Social Security Program went into effect, the board acted in line with recommendations made last month by Clark W. Blackburn, a representative of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare, who at that time told the commissioners that this county was losing thousands of dollars belonging to eligible claimants due to the fact that their cases were not being investigated and certified to the Raleigh office as fast as they should. As a remedy, he suggested that the county employ another case worker, or a trained interviewer.

Accompanying Miss Leach before the board, William Taylor Jr., a member of the county welfare board, informed the commissioners of the vast scope of duties connected with the welfare office under the Social Security Program and pointed out the handicap which confronted Miss Leach in carrying out her work in crowded quarters with insufficient help. Reminding the board that she had only two small offices and that one of these was taken over by the Grand Jury when court was in session, Mr. Taylor said that he doubted if there was another welfare officer in the state attempting to carry on her work in such inadequate space and requested of the commissioners that they attempt to provide her with more room, as well as give her additional help in the form of a trained interviewer and a young lady to do stenographic work. The commissioners said they did not know where they could find more suitable quarters, but agreed to give Miss Leach a
