Miss Daniel made her home in Littleton for a number of years and is favorably remembered by her friends.

Memorial Services At Baptist Church

Memorial Exercises were held in the Baptist Church last Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The Address was delivered by the Honorable L. L. Graveley of Nash County. Senator Graveley delivered a forceful, sincere and instructive address, and throughout demonstrated the truth of a phrase used in introducing that Senator Graveley observed Memorial Day ever in his heart.

The speaker said that if he had any criticism to make of the government it would be that too little was being done for those veterans broken in body, helpless, and suffering in hospitals. He said that there were three classes of Veterans: those who remained in France buried underneath the poppies; those who returned well and strong, and far better than before leaving, and those who returned maimed and broken.

Senator Graveley made a strong and favorable impression upon all who heard him. He was introduced by Mr. Jos. P. Phippen, and was entertained at supper together with Mr. Winfield Crew, and Mr. Phippen at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Wollett.

Henry Naves of Marshall, route 1, dug and set 480 small locust trees in small gullies formed in his pasture and then seeded the land to blue grass and timothy. Lespedeza was already growing. He says erosion is being brought under control by these measures.

Visitors From China

MR. AND MRS. C. K. DJANG, of Shanghai, China, who will be guests of Rev. G. A. Hendrick and Mrs. Hendricks, June 11-12. Mr. Djang will preach at Vaughan, at Gardner's, and at Littleton, on Sunday, June 12.

Chines Preacher To Speak In Littleton

During the week end of June 11-12 Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Djang of Shanghai, China, will visit in the home of Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Hendricks. On Sunday, June 12, Mr. Djang will speak at the Vaughan Baptist Church at 11 o'clock at Gardner's Baptist Church at 3 o'clock, and at Littleton Baptist Church at 8 o'clock. Everybody is invited to attend any of these services.

Mr. Djang is a Christian Missionary from China. Before coming to this country, he was Director of the Extension Department of the University of Shanghai, and Secretary of the China Baptist Publication Society. He has traveled extensively with Dr. M. E. Dodd, ex-president of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Dr. Charles E. Maddry, Secretary of the Baptist Foreign Missionary Board, who have visited China during recent years, and has interpreted for them.

Mrs. Djang is a graduate of Dodd College, Shreveport, La. She was formerly student secretary of Eliza Yates Girls' School in Shanghai, China. Both Mr. and Mrs. Djang studied in Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., last year, and will study in Wake Forest College this summer. Upon finishing their work here they will return to China to supervise missionary work among young people. They speak English well and it is hoped that everybody in the above mentioned communities will make a special effort to hear them.

Next Sunday, June 5, the pastor will close the special series of services at the local Baptist Church dealing with the general theme, "What it means to be a Christian and a church member." The subject for the morning will be "The well-rounded Christian," and for the evening will be "The future of the church." Everybody is invited to attend these services.

SAGAS OF THE SKIES

By R. C. Oertel

THE history of aviation is by now replete with incidents in which airplanes have rescued individuals from a variety of dangers. The manner in which the Coast Guard planes have performed heroic rescues at sea is a brilliant chapter in the history of flying. Lone air mail pilots have flown low over blazing homes to awake their tenants and to warn them of their danger. It is seldom, however, that an airplane serves an entire city in an emergency.

Down in Barranquilla darkness threatened this Colombian city. In a bygone day darkness may have been no threat to a city, but so essential is light that a community suddenly thrown into darkness today and deprived of power leaves its citizens exposed to a variety of dangers. That's why the burning out of a generator coil in its city lighting plant worried officials. Moreover, no coils of this type were available in Colombia. A Bogota radio station broadcast the story of Barranquilla's plight. A single generator was carrying the power and lighting load, and no one knew how long it could hold out.

In a hotel in Guayaquil, Ecuador, 1,600 miles away a group listened to this news broadcast. Among the listeners was G. R. Jimenez, Pan-American Grace traffic official, who heard the announcer say that Barranquilla faced many powerless days and lightless nights until a new coil could be obtained from the United States. He thought hard for a moment and suddenly excused himself.

That night an airliner winging its way from Guayaquil to Barranquilla carried generator coils and, thanks to Mr. Jimenez's thoughtfulness, Barranquilla's routine remained unbroken.

Vaughan Baptist Church will conduct a Daily Vacation Bible School, and will be engaged at the same time in a series of special services. The pastor will preach each evening at 8 o'clock. Bible School will open each morning at 8:30 from Monday through Friday. All children from four to sixteen years of age are urged to attend the school. Everybody is invited to attend the special services.

In Memoriam

N. J. ROBERTSON

On Sunday morning, May 8, 1938, at 9 o'clock, the Angel called and in obedience to the summons the soul of Mr. Nathaniel J. Robertson gave up its earthly tabernacle of clay and went to dwell in that eternal city where suffering and sorrow are no more.

Mr. Nat, as most of the people called him, was the third son of Matt and Missouria Robertson. He suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he never regain use of some of his limbs and as the years went by he grew more feeble and weak until the end came. He was 64 years old. All work of the willing hands, guided by anxious loving hearts, were unable to prolong the precious life.

Mr. Robertson was born and reared and spent his entire life in the community around Macon. So his life is an open page to be read, admired and emulated by the many who knew and loved him.

He was married to Miss Estelle Hardy of Warren County about 38 years ago. During Mr. Robertson's years of suffering and confinement he kept his Bible close to his side as long as he was allowed to see to read, and then he would like to hear the others read and he also enjoyed the visits of relatives and friends that came in and talked with him for a while and especially his pastor's visits, Rev. R. E. Brickhouse, which seemed to cheer him so much.

Mr. Robertson joined the Macon

Baptist church in early life and he remained a member until death. His last look was a glance of his eye at his little grandson.

Surviving are widow, five sons, Frank, Theo, Vance and Nathaniel, Jr., all of Macon, and Walter Robertson of Rocky Mount; one daughter, Estelle, of Macon; one sister, Mrs. R. I. Riggan of Littleton; two brothers, Henry and Fester, of Macon.

Funeral services were conducted from his home by his pastor, Rev. R. E. Brickhouse, assisted by Rev. Joe Riggan, and the burial took place in the family cemetery by the side of his mother to await the resurrection morn. The floral designs were large and appropriate.

The pallbearers were Robert Shaw, Harry Kenyon, T. J. Tucker, J. C. Stegall, C. W. Hilliard, and Eugene Dickerson.

The large assemblage was an evidence of the esteem in which he was held.

Our hearts go out in sympathy to the bereaved loved ones. May the Peace of God comfort the many hearts that have been saddened because of his departure.

A precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our home which never can be filled. God in his wisdom has recalled The boon his love had gained. And though the body slumbers here, The Soul is safe in Heaven.

MRS. FRANK ROBERTSON.

Fletcher Martin of French Broad, Buncombe County, has planted 100 acres of permanent pasture using two tons of limestone and 300 pounds of superphosphate per acre. He reports that the sod will now pasture one beef animal per acre.

"Lack of something to feel important about is almost the greatest tragedy a man my have," says Dr. Arthur Morgan, president of Antioch College.

HOUSE AND HOME

By MARY E. DAGUE

Making Shades Last

If your window shades have become faded and soiled past cleaning you can make them presentable for another season by giving them a coat of kalsomine. There are several kinds of kalsomine that come in powdered form and are very easy to use. Take the shades down and dust them thoroughly. Spread out on a flat surface and paint with the kalsomine which has been mixed according to the manufacturers directions. When thoroughly dry turn over and paint other side. Of course shades treated this way will waterspot so insist on having them removed from windows before washing windows or woodwork around windows.

Painting Awnings, Rugs

If your awnings have become soiled and faded they can be freshened up by dyeing them a solid color, preferable the original color of the stripes. Of course the stripes will show slightly, a "shallow stripe" effect, but the result is generally satisfactory. Or you can give them a thin coat of house paint. The paint should be thinned with turpentine, using about one-part turpentine to four parts of paint. Be sure the cloth has completely absorbed the paint and that the paint is perfectly hard and dry before you attempt to fold the awning. You can paint your fiber porch rug, too, to give a fresh look. Use paint thinned as for awnings. Work the paint well into the fiber of the rug if you want your effort worth while.

Ice Cream Sauce

Here is a quick and easy sauce for ice cream. Melt chocolate and permit creams over hot water. Since you can get them both at the corner drug store unexpected need cause you no concern.

Meadowsweet is a splendid plant for a spacious perennial border because it will give height, has large leaves and big feathery looking flowers in June and July. The plants spread rapidly and like a rich moist soil. If you have a sharp spot use them as a background for low growing plants.

An application of limestone and phosphate has appeared in the corner drug store under the name Hooper, Speedwell, Jackson County.

Stop The Sun With AWNINGS

Colorful awnings will add a world of beauty and comfort to your home. Now is the time to install them and get a full season's use.
