And the Bananas Go 'Round and 'Round!

Bananas round out the dessert and make a masterpiece of pie! The brown beauty pictured here is a deep dish affair guaranteed to fill the family vacuum to perfection. Read how to make it, below!

"MUSA SAPIENTUM"—fruit of the wise man—is what botanists named the banana. Alexander the Great is supposed to have been one of the first to sing the praises of the banana. Wise men, ever since, have been choosing bananas—because they look good, taste good, do you good and are always available at budget-balancing prices, the year 'round.

Now it's pie that bananas make still better. Not content with gracing almost every dish on the menu from the breakfast cereal to dinner's frozen dessert, bananas have found themselves at home in salads, sandwiches, cakes, desserts, milk shakes, breads—and even in meat loaves and served cooked, as a vegetable!

Banana Cream Pie
 1 1/2 cups milk
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/4 tsp. salt
 3 tbsps. flour
 1 egg yolk
 1 tbsps. butter
 1/4 tsp. vanilla extract or 1/2 tsp. lemon extract

1 9-inch pie shell (baked pastry, corn flake or Graham cracker)
 4 bananas
 Whipped cream or meringue
 1/2 tsp. lemon extract

Scald one cup of the milk over hot water. Mix together the sugar, salt and flour. Add 1/4 cup of cold milk slowly, stirring until mixture is smooth. Stir into hot milk. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Cover and let cook for about three minutes. Stir a little of the hot milk mixture into the egg yolk, and add this to the hot mixture. Cook one minute longer. Add butter and flavoring. Allow mixture to cool. Fill pie shell with alternate layers of sliced bananas and cooled filling. Top with whipped cream or meringue. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Meringue
 2 large or 3 small egg whites
 1/4 cup sugar
 Flavoring

Beat egg whites until stiff, then add sugar gradually while continuing to beat. Add a few drops of flavoring. Spread over top of pie and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 10 to 15 minutes or until meringue is delicately browned. Covers one 9-inch pie.

Banana Chocolate Cream Pie
 To make the chocolate banana pie shown in illustration, use your favorite pastry to line a deep dish. Fill with a layer of sliced bananas, pour on chocolate filling, and garnish with banana slices and whipped cream, as shown.

See the above recipe, and many others tested in the Picture Cooking School, "Star in My Kitchen," sponsored by this newspaper and to be shown at the Warren Theatre, Monday and Tuesday mornings, October 31st and November 1st, at 10 o'clock. Free admission and prizes.

HONORS VISITORS

Mrs. McGuire Gives Luncheon

An outstanding event of the past week was a bridge-luncheon given on Thursday morning by Mrs. M. C. McGuire. Top score prizes were awarded Mrs. Edmund White and Mrs. W. R. Woodall. The rooms were gay in late fall flowers. A two-course luncheon was served the following guests: Mesdames G. H. Macon, E. J. Davis, R. J. Jones, J. P. Watson, Edmund White, W. R. Woodall, W. M. Gardner, J. B. Boyce, J. B. Bobbitt, J. H. Kerr, P. G. Seaman and Miss Lucy Burwell. Mrs. McGuire is spending the fall months in South Hill, Va., where the party was held.

Many Attend Candle-Light Service

A large congregation attended the impressive candle-light service on Sunday evening at Emmanuel Episcopal church with the Rev. D. N. de Foe Wagner addressing the group on the Symbol of the Candle. At this time the officers of the Young People's Service League were installed. Prior to the service, supper was served the members of the League in the basement of the Parish House by Miss Elizabeth Wagner, leader, with Miss Sarah Blount Massenburg and Mrs. J. Palmer Scoggin, assisting. Much enthusiasm has been aroused in the recent organization of this Junior Service League with meetings being held each Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

DANGER AHEAD

These bright, sunny October days make us forget that winter is "just around the corner" and that now is the time for us to begin fortifying ourselves against the hazards of approaching bad weather.

Perhaps there is no time during the entire year when your doctor and your druggist can be of greater assistance in helping you to keep well than NOW.

This is NATIONAL PHARMACY WEEK and we have a complete and varied assortment of tonics and vitamin preparations designed expressly to aid you to build up a better resistance to the common ills of winter, especially colds.

Consult your doctor for advice and go to your druggist for the products which he recommends. Remember, your doctor and your druggist work hand in hand. Together they constitute your fortress of health.
