MRS. JOHN COURTLAND RANDALL

Miss Godwin Becomes Bride Of Mr. Randall

LANHAM, Md.—Miss Joanne Mood Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Goodwin, Jr., of Lanham, Md., was married to John Courtland Randall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralston Randall of Ormond Beach, Fla., on June 26, in the Lanham Methodist Church.

The Rev. J. Lee Williams, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The altar was covered with a white and gold brocade cloth on which burned long tapered candles in matching candleholders. The altar flowers were white gladioli, snapdragons and lilies, all grown by the bride's father. Baskets of identical white flowers with baby's breaths decorated the rest of the church. A white decorated kneeler was placed in front of the altar.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Charles Brooks, organist, and Mark Westgate, soloist, who sang, among several selections, the Lord's Prayer while the bridal couple knelt at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of hand-clipped French chantilly lace over satin, designed by the bride and made by her mother, The Sabrina neckline was enhanced by the scalloped, bordered lace and the under part of satin, to form a heart. Seed pearls outlined the design.

The scalloped, bordered lace was effectively used in a tiered back pouf bustle, cascading into a full, chapel train. The scalloped border was again used to enhance the full-length empress style dress with long sleeves, hand applied around the bottom. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and iridescents. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with white orchids.

Miss Barbara Jean Tayman of Lanham, Md., was maid of honor. Miss Barbara Jean Curl of Littleton, N. C., cousin of the bride, and Miss Sally Harwood were bridesmaids. Misses Margie Tayman and Trudy Aycock, cousin of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses of pastel pink organza over pink silk taffeta, featuring pouf sleeves, full skirts and bows and headpieces were of pink silk organza and tulle bows with

Party Held On 25th Wedding Anniversary

GOLDSBORO — An outstandingly beautiful social event of the summer season was the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary reception of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Edgar Williams held at the Goldsboro Country Club Thursday evening, July 22, from eight until eleven o'clock, attended by approximately four hundred and fifty guests from Goldsboro and out of town.

The Country Club was cool and inviting with decorations of white, green, and silver in the foyer and main clubrooms. As the guests entered, they were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stevens and Dr. and Mrs. S. B. McPheeters. Facing the entrance was a table with cut-out figures "1935-1960" in silver, flanked by silver candelabra and a floral arrangement of white asters, chrysanthemums, and bells of Ireland in a silver pitcher. A shirred net table cover was framed with silver magnolia leaves, and garianded with smilax.

Mrs. George Bain and Mrs. Pearl Brashear introduced guests to the receiving line at the north end of the room. Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Wilkins presented them to Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Williams, Miss Sadie Futrell of Rich Square, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Futrell, Jr., of Portsmouth, Va., Mr. and Mrs. William Futrell of Rich Square, Mr. and Mrs. William Elam of Lumberton, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Watson of Clemson, S. C. Mrs. Williams was the former Adalia Futrell of Rich Square, and the receiving line included her brothers and sisters and their husbands and wives. Mrs. Williams wore for the occasion a light blue organza evening gown, cut along classic lines, with low-cut square neck and bodice detailed in blue and silver embroidery and applique; her flowers were white orchids with purple throats. The other ladies wore pastel gowns with matching or harmonizing corsages.

At either end of the large drawing-room, mantel decorations in duplicate featured large silvered numerals "25" surrounded by wreaths of silver and green, resting on a floral base of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. At each corner of the mantel were massive silver candelabra with white candles.

Mrs. L. D. Ertel directed the guests to the table holding the bride's cake at the mid-point of the west side of the room.

son Chemical Corporation of Pisgah Forest, N. C. He is chairman of the Western North Carolina Chemical Engineer's Club.

The bride has a position with Ruth's Originals of North Carolina as the designer's personal understudy.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall are at home at 1941 Haywood Rd., Hendersonville, following a two weeks wedding trip to the mountains of Pennsylvania and Wildwood, N. J.

Mrs. Randall's mother is a native of Littleton.

DR. AND MRS. ROBERT EDGAR WILLIAMS

Here a handsome three-tiered cake in white, green, and silver awaited. The table was festooned with smilax, and featured corner arrangements of white and silver wedding bells, with ribbon and tulle streamers. In the background was a tall cathedral candlestick with an arrangement of palm leaves, white flowers and candles. Receiving the guests at the bride's table were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Donnell, Dr. and Mrs. James L. Cox, and Mr. and Mrs. J. William Lynch.

At the south end of the drawing-room stood the refreshment table, covered with a sheer cloth extending to the floor. Large silver punch bowls at either end were presided over by Mrs. Mary Bache of Raleigh, Mrs. Ida Lee Porch, and Mrs. Beulah S. Worley. The centerpiece consisted of tall arrangements of white gladioli, asters, chrysanthemums, and bells of Ireland, in a silver and crystal urn, with silver pheasants at either end. Between center and punch bowls stood elaborate silver ewerperns with floral arrangements and white candles.

Inviting the guests to partake of refreshments were Mrs. N. A. Edwards, Mrs. Thelma Carroll Breese, formerly of Fayetteville, Miss Beth Moon, and Miss Sandra Watson of Clemson, S. C. Those serving were Misses Margaret Dale Elam of Lumberton, Faye Rice and Betty Phelps, Lillie Collier and Mrs. Gene Williams of Portsmouth. The out-of-town young ladies were nieces of Mrs. Williams.

The twin punch bowl offered fruit punch. Other refreshments, carrying out the general color scheme, were chicken salad shells, sandwiches in
