

Dove Hunters Get Five Days Bonus

RALEIGH — Tar Heel dove hunters get a bonus this year by way of five more hunting days and a two-bird increase in the daily bag, according to Clyde P. Potts, Executive Director of the North Carolina Wildlife Resource Commission.

This year's dove seasons will again be in two segments, the first from September 10 to October 15, and the second from December 12 to January 14. Shooting hours will be from noon to sunset, and the daily bag will allow 12 birds and 24 in possession.

Patton said that there has been an excellent crop of doves this year as reflected in the longer season and increased bag limit. He also announced the seasons and bag limits on marsh hens, woodcock and snipe. The season for marsh hens (rails and gallinules) will run from September 1 through November 9. The daily bag and possession limit for sora will be 25 daily and in possession. For rails and gallinules the bag will be 15 daily, 30 in possession, singly or in the aggregate.

The Woodcock season gets underway November 24 and runs through January 2. Daily bag and possession limits are four and eight, respectively. Wilson's snipe may be hunted from November 24 through December 23, with a daily bag and possession limit of eight birds. Shooting hours for marsh hens, woodcock and snipe are from sunrise to sunset.

Patton said that the seasons for waterfowl hunting have not yet been announced by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, but that little change may be expected over last year's rules.

Get The Most From Your Meat Dollar

Wondering how to get the most out of our meat dollar? The American Meat Institute suggests that you do your family and your budget a favor by getting acquainted with more thrifty cut-of-meats.

Women who make an art of both cooking and economy turn to the savory and inexpensive cuts to help solve their family's nutrition problems. The protein, B vitamins and minerals in meat are not stored in the body in any appreciable amount and should be supplied daily in the foods you eat. The cheaper cuts have the same body-building nutrients that all meat contains, and you get that meat flavor at bargain prices.

What's more, you have to stint on glamour when you serve these meats. Many of them are the basis for famed gourmet delights—beef Stronganoof, sauerbraten, exotic curries. Many are the special favorites men order in restaurants—tasty goulash, braised short ribs of beef, ham shanks and cabbage, spareribs and sauerkraut.

Mrs. Ruby F. Uzzle, consumer marketing specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, says when your family clamors for beef, keep in mind the savings in stew beef, ox joints, brisket and tongue. Look to the many tasty pot-roasting cuts—heel of round, rolled rump roast, "English" or "Boston" cut, round bone chuck roast, best shanks and short ribs. Don't forget the hundreds of exciting ways to serve ground beef.

If you want to save pennies on a pork roast, choose from the economical loin and rib

Artificial Breeding Has Reached New Milestone

By FRANK REAMS
County Farm Agent
According to J. O. Knight, artificial breeding inseminator for Vance and Warren Counties, the American Breeder's Service has reached an outstanding milestone in its breeding program. This service, has meant great dairy progress in Warren County. An example of outstanding results is shown in the picture above.

BECHWOOD MISTRESS CARNATION, an 8-year-old heavy producing Holstein, represents the 10 millionth cow bred artificially this week by American Breeders Service of Chicago, Illinois since 1941. Assembled to celebrate this event are, left to right: Robert Gralopp, the technician who bred the cow; Leland W. Lamb, who selects bulls used by American Breeders Service; Charles Brace, Lone Rock, Wis., National Fieldman for the Holstein-Friesian Association of America; and Lloyd Pinch, Rosendale, Wis., owner of the cow. The cow is the daughter of ABS Proved Sire Shiwana "Brandmaster" and was bred back to Wis "Captain," another ABS Proved Sire. She has produced more than 75,000 pounds of milk to date, as much as 16,000 in a single year. She produces an average of 520 pounds of butterfat annually. Mr. Pinch has raised his herd's milk production from 8,749 to 14,356 pounds in nine years with the ABS Proved Sire Breeding program and good feeding and management practices. American Breeders Service is quick to acknowledge that this great increase could not have occurred without the superior management and feeding that Mr. Pinch gives his herd. His feed costs, for example, are only $1.20 per hundred pounds of milk, including allowances for home-grown roughage and grain. Good feeding and good management are the best ways in the world to make good breeding pay off.

Mr. Pinch uses all ABS sired daughters in his herd replacement and expansion program. He's brought in no outside cows since he began using the Proved bulls of American Breeders Service. Of the 92 heads of stock on the place, only two remain from his original foundation herd.

More than 4,300,000 cows have been bred with ABS Frozen Semen since "Frosty," the first calf produced in America with frozen semen, was born in 1953. "Frosty" was sired by an ABS Proved Bull with ABS technical know-how and trained technicians leading the way.

The 10 millionth cow bred this week by American Breeders Service points up the growth that this organization has made in less than 20 years. In its initial year in 1941, about 400 cows were bred. By 1957 more than a million were bred by ABS in a single year.

Mrs. J. R. Paschall is visiting relatives in Richmond, Va., for some time.
