SUMMERTIME IS SANDWICH TIME

Sandwiches highlight August in dazzling variety. From hearty to elegant they star at every occasion this month. Picnic menus call for quantity, but family lunches, snacks and parties, too, all demand special variation of this most popular form of food.

A favorite sandwich filling of mine and one which I think your families will really "go for" is this Lemon-Sweet Filling. Here's how you make about 1 1/2 pints of this "tart" sandwich spread.

First add 1 cup of sugar to 1 beaten egg; then add to this mixture the juice and grated rind of one lemon. Cook this mixture in a heavy saucepan over low heat until slightly thickened.

Remove from heat and cool slightly, then add one cup of finely chopped or ground raisins, one cup of finely chopped or ground nuts and one cup of mayonnaise to complete the filling.

When cool, place in refrigerator and use as a spread when needed. This makes a good sandwich filling for summer picnics as well as being a good lunch box filler the year-round.

Let's Freeze Sandwiches

Smart teens and homemakers depend on sandwiches when they plan food for a crowd. Good wholesome sandwiches made ahead of time, then frozen to stay fresh are a good bet for the food chairman who wants time to join the fun at the picnic.

Frozen sandwiches can be packed in the picnic basket in the morning before leaving. By the time everyone is ready for lunch, the sandwiches will be thawed and ready to eat—still cool and fresh!

When making sandwiches to freeze, it's simple to make a lot at one time. Even if you don't take them all on one picnic, you can leave the rest in the freezer for your next outing.

After spreading and cutting the sandwich you're ready to wrap them for the freezer. Wrap each sandwich separately in moisture-vapor-proof material. Tape the ends securely with freezer-tape and label the tape to show kind of filling.

Sandwiches should be stored no longer than two weeks. To thaw, remove from freezer and leave in wrappings. They will be thawed and ready to eat within four to five hours.

These fillings freeze well: Cooked egg yolk, cooked or canned chicken, turkey or fish; cooked or canned meat; dried beef. For chopped fillings, these "binders" freeze well and add new flavor interest: lemon, orange or pineapple juice; crushed pineapple; applesauce; dairy sour cream.

These fillings don't freeze well: hard-cooked egg white (becomes tough); raw vegetables (lose their crispness); mayonnaise or salad dressing separates and soaks into the bread.

For Goodness Sake — Stretch The Freezer

You cannot exactly stretch the freezer but you can stretch your mind and think up ways not to waste the space you have. You may be wishing for more space now so you can get more of those big, ripe peaches in the freezer.

Miss Nita Orr, frozen food specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, advises you to count the corn cobs now. Corn on the cob is an extravagant user of space. However, if you feel you must freeze some on the cob, use the corn with small cobs — for example, Seneca Chief.

Large bones have no place in the freezer. Boned meat is easier to carve, easier to serve, and easier to eat. Miss Orr says you can store three turkey rolls or one turkey with its bones in the same space.

A good freezing bag in a sturdy carton uses space well. Corned pans for cakes, pies and other cooked foods are better than round ones. They wrap easier and stack better.

"Extra wrapping on meat and poultry slows up freezing and does no good in storage," says Miss Orr. "Use just enough to cover the food and to make a tight closure."

Keep your food moving in the freezer. Keep up with what you put in and what you take out. If you manage your freezer space right, you can put more food into it.

Say you saw it advertised in The Warren Record.

Gasoline Refund Deadline

This is a reminder to farm owners, tenants, or operators that the deadline for filing for refund of federal tax on gasoline used for farming purposes is September 30, 1960.

Claims should be filed on form 2240 (1960), and copies of this form are available at the County Agricultural Agents Office.

The refund is three cents per gallon on gasoline purchased between July 1 and before October 1, 1959. For gasoline purchased on or after October 1, 1959 to July 1, 1960, the refund rate is four cents per gallon.

Save Dairy Heifers

The demand for milk in North Carolina and adjoining states is expected to double in the next decade. To supply this increased demand, dairymen will need more cows and better cows. One of the best ways to get cows is to raise heifers out of your own herd from best producers.

Artificial breeding has given individual farmers access to the very best bulls available.

High producing cows require more total feed but they save feed cost and labor cost per 100 pounds of milk produced.

By doing a good job in raising dairy herd replacements, you will (1) reduce losses from disease, (2) have animals that will reach the milk line sooner and at the right size, and (3) have well grown animals that produce more milk.

Beautify Your Home With Beautiful Shrubs

It doesn't cost a fortune to have beautiful shrubs around your home. Many shrubs can be rooted easily. Maybe you already have a few favorite ones and would like more. Chances are you have friends and neighbors who would be glad to share some cuttings with you. It does take a little longer to get the size of shrub you would like but this way it can be done inexpensively.

There are several ways in which shrubs can be rooted. One of the easier ways, recommended by John Harris, in charge of horticulture for N. C. State College follows.

Place six to eight inches of clean, coarse sand in a 12 to 16-inch deep box, tub, or similar container. Be sure there are holes in the bottom for drainage.

Make your cuttings, three to six inches long, and take them early in the morning or late afternoon. Be sure to take the cuttings from new growth. Remove the leaves from the bottom two-thirds of the cutting. Keep cutting moist and place bottom two-thirds in clean, coarse sand as soon as possible.

Place cuttings one to three inches apart, pack sand around cuttings, and water thoroughly. Keep watered enough to prevent wilting, perhaps every day at first. Keep your container in the shade or provide shade.

Use glass or plastic over container if possible. Remove glass or plastic when the plants root. Most cutting root in one to three months, but leave them in the bed through the first winter to protect them from being killed by cold
