

Norlina Hosts Franklinton At Homecoming Tonight

Norlina's Blue Waves and Franklinton's Rams will square off tonight in a homecoming match at Norlina in a game that should bring the first Tar-Roanoke win of the season to one of the clubs.

Norlina, currently on the bottom rung of league standings, respite a 2-3 season record, may get an opportunity to record their first league win of the year against a Franklinton team that was mauled, 25-0, by Weldon in its only conference encounter.

Norlina, which has posted wins over Spring Hope and Aurelian Springs in non-conference action, has lost to Weldon and Louisburg in conference competition.

Tonight the Blue Waves, playing before a home crowd, have added extra meaning to the game by making the event a homecoming affair. A queen will be selected from among candidates nominated by every high school organization, and a dance will follow the game.

Norlina fans, hopeful of their first conference win, took encouragement last Friday night as the Norlina club thrashed Aurelian Springs in a non-conference match.

Norlina quarterback Billy Fuller ran for two touchdowns and passed for two more as Coach Bob Price's charges displayed their biggest offensive show of the year last Friday night.

Norlina was held to a lone touchdown in the first half—a six-pointer by Fuller from two-yards out capping a 60-yard drive—but roared back in the second half to add four more.

Aurelian Springs got into the scoring column as they took the opening kickoff and returned it 80 yards for a lightning-like tally. Norlina came back on a 55-yard drive highlighted by halfback Jimmy Burton's ten-yard scoring sprint. Fuller grabbed an Aurelian Springs' pass on the Norlina 35-yard line later in the quarter and raced 65 yards to paydirt.

Early in the fourth quarter Fuller tossed a pass to Burton who raced across the visitor's goal line on a play that covered 70 yards.

Fuller passed for a second touchdown in the last quarter as he hit his end Arthur King in the endzone on a 15-yard toss. Fuller, who hit King with another pass for the extra point, added three other conversions via the ground route during the game.

Hayes To Exhibit His 1911 Model Car At State Fair

A 1911 Empire Touring Car, owned by Roy Hayes of Norlina, will be among the 50 antique automobiles on exhibit at the North Carolina State Fair next week, October 18-21. Hayes was invited to enter his car by the Car Selection Committee of the State Fair, and said yesterday that he has accepted the invitation.

The cars will be stored in a tent under guard day and night with the best possible care being taken of them, the selection committee said.

Hayes said that the 50 cars would range from 1900 up, and among the exhibits would be a 1901 White Steamer.

Corpening To Head 4-H Bank Drive

North Carolina bankers will join hands with 4-H Club members during October in supporting the educational programs of the National 4-H Club Foundation. Leading this drive for the fourth consecutive year is Wayne A. Corpening, vice president of the Wachovia Bank & Trust Company, Winston-Salem.

Corpening's appointment was made by Jesse W. Tapp, chairman of the board of the Bank of America, who heads the bank program for the National 4-H Sponsors Council. Sixty-three North Carolina banks participated in this program in 1960, an increase of nearly 25 per cent over the previous year.

This campaign enables bankers to broaden their traditionally strong local support of the 4-H Club program. Corpening believes. The National 4-H Club Foundation carries on a broad program of "Service to Youth" activities in citizenship education, leadership development, the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE), and operation of the National 4-H Center in Washington, D. C. Most recent project undertaken by the Foundation is a one-year study leading to expansion of science training through 4-H

Mrs. Frank Reams Joins Warren Welfare Staff

Mrs. Maybelle Reams of Warrenton joined the Welfare Department staff on September 25. Julian Farrar, Welfare Director, announced this week.

Mrs. Reams will be intake interviewer and will work with the adult boarding homes and carry a small case load of child welfare cases. She is a graduate of Meredith College and wife of County Agricultural Agent Frank Reams.

This new position in the Department was made possible, Farrar said, by additional State and Federal funds being made available to the counties by the 1961 legislature in an effort to strengthen Welfare Administration in the State.

Club work.

Corpening indicated that two North Carolina young people are now in Europe as IFYE delegates, representing the best of American rural youth. They are Lucy Evangelena Liney of Box 1371, Tryon, who is now in Scotland, and Jane Harris Owen of Route 2, Seagrove, who is in France. They will return to the state in late November, and spend several months sharing their experiences and observations.

Mrs. McKinnon Is Buried Here

Mrs. Rozelle Drake McKinnon, 90, died on Monday night in a Wake Forest Nursing Home. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Drake of Warrenton. Funeral services were held at St. John's Episcopal Church in Wake Forest on Wednesday by the Rev. R. W. Turner, rector, and interment followed in the old Warrenton cemetery.

Warrenton Plays At Littleton Homecoming

Warrenton's Yellow Jackets will be on the road for their fourth straight contest tonight when they meet their cross-county rivals, the Littleton Blue Jays, in a game slated to begin at eight o'clock.

A large crowd of football fans is expected to be on hand at the Littleton field when the Jays, who are making the game a homecoming affair, take on the Jackets in one of the oldest rivalries in this area.

Littleton, fresh from a 23-13 win over Davie, has its work cut out as it hosts a Warrenton club which has posted a 4-1 record so far during the season.

Last year, in a homecoming game here, the Jackets managed to get by the Jays by the tune of 13-7. Littleton, which has combined a strong running game with a capable passing attack, will be out to take the homecoming marbles.

Warrenton, which bowled over two highly-rated opponents before dropping their only game to Spring Hope, had its hands full against a scrappy Louisburg Club that was the first of the year to limit the Jackets to a single touchdown.

But a lone tally was enough Friday night at Louisburg, for Warrenton, which posted a 7-0 decision in the conference match. The win put Warrenton in front of the conference race with two more league battles to be played.

Littleton, out of the lime-light in the Roanoke Conference because of the record of a powerful Enfield team, added a third prong to its offensive weapon last Friday night when fullback Keywood Cheves booted the first Jacket field goal in Littleton history.

Littleton center Whit Neville's 60-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass iced the game for Littleton last week, after Jimmy Harvey, Jay quarterback, scored twice—once on a 30-yard end sweep, and again on a five-yard plunge.

Warrenton had to be content with a single score last week. That came in the second quarter on Steve Clark's eight-yard run on a fourth down situation. Halfback Gordon Halthcock, who also turned in a 73-yard touchdown punt return that was nullified by a penalty, added the extra point for the Jackets.

Warrenton's 70-yard touchdown drive was the only one the Jackets could muster. The Jacket defense stopped Louisburg twice on downs in the shadow of the Warrenton goal posts.

Tonight both Littleton Coach Tommy Satterfield and Warrenton Mentor "Preacher" Parker are expected to use the same lineups that began last week's contests.
