

Warrenton Journeys To Franklinton Tonight

Warrenton will try to top the next-to-last hurdle in its quest for a novel Tar-Roanoke conference championship tonight when it tackles the Franklinton Rams in a game played at Franklinton.

The Jackets, eyeing a possible championship from atop their 5-1 season record, will have clinched at least a tie for the league honors if they can get by the Franklinton Club which has experienced difficulty in getting a win against other loop contenders.

Weldon beat the Franklinton aggregation 25-0 and the Rams took a 21-0 pounding from Norlina in their only previous league outings. Warrenton has beaten Weldon and Louisburg by single touchdowns and must get by its next two games in order to grab the loop laurels.

Friday night the Yellow Jackets stepped out of the conference action when they met Littleton in a homecoming match played on the Jays' home grounds.

Senior Halfback Gordon Halthcock turned in a pair of 60-yard scoring runs to spoil the affair for the Littleton club and Quarterback Clinton Neal added a third tally to bring the final score to 21-6.

In the first period Warrenton drew first blood as Halthcock gathered in a Jay punt and raced 60 yards to pay dirt. Neal blasted over the extra point to give the visitors an early lead.

Warrenton lengthened their lead in the second quarter as Neal bulled over from three yards out to climax a drive helped along by two passes. End Wilson Bolton grabbed a Neal pass for the extra point and Warrenton took a 14-0 lead.

Fullback Keywood Cheves got the Littleton club back in the ballgame as he drove over from the five to cap an 85-yard run which featured a variety of plays called by Quarterback Jimmy Harvey.

In the third quarter Warrenton clinched the contest as Halthcock found a hole on a draw play and dashed to the goal line 60 yards away. The 145-pound speedster ran the extra point across for Coach "Preacher" Parker's club.

Another Jacket drive ended on the one-foot line as Littleton's forward wall rose to contain the Warrenton plunges. The two teams were fairly even in statistics, with Littleton having a slight edge in passing yardage, and the Jackets getting the nod on the ground.

Norlina To Play Park View Team

Norlina steps outside the conference again tonight for an encounter with Park View High School, a consolidated high school in Mecklenburg County, Va.

The Blue Waves, pulling even in the win-loss column with two consecutive victories, will be trying for their fourth victory of the year tonight when they travel to Park View.

Coach Bob Price's charges, who started off the season with a come-from-behind win over Spring Hope, lost three straight before knocking off Aurelian Springs in their best offensive show of the year.

Friday night senior Billy Fuller caught two touchdown passes and galloped for a third, along with scoring all three extra points, as he alternated in the backfield and played in the line.

Fuller, who had a big night two weeks ago, getting in on four touchdown plays, was the Norlina offense Friday night as the Blue Waves played before a host of old graduates in a homecoming affair at Norlina.

Fuller tallied twice in the second quarter as the Norlina eleven threw a stingy defense that allowed only 32 yards to be gained by the visiting Rams.

Quarterback Buck Wiggins hit Fuller, then holding down an end position, on a pass play that covered 28 yards. Fuller, who filled in at quarterback and halfback at times during the Tar-Roanoke contest, then switched to fullback to ram the ball across for the bonus point.

Minutes later, after the Norlina defensive unit forced a Franklinton punt, Wiggins and Fuller teamed up again on a 13-yard touchdown pass play that put the Waves out in front by a 13-0 score. Fuller carried the extra point attempt across.

In the third period Norlina added their last touchdown as Fuller, on an end around play, trotted ten yards for the six-pointer. Again he added the extra point. The final touchdown came on a drive of 60 yards.

During the contest—the second Tar-Roanoke affair in which Franklinton came out second best—The Blue Waves gained 139 yards on the ground and 70 yards through the air. An alert Norlina squad picked off two Ram aeriels and recovered a Franklinton fumble during the game.

At halftime, Alice Rooker, senior at Norlina High School, was crowned homecoming queen. She was sponsored by the FHA club at the Norlina school.

a glass of beer means many things

All over North Carolina county fairs are in progress in October. This historical phenomenon is symbolic of carnival time in rural America — a period of relaxation after the harvest is gathered.

Another symbol of relaxation that goes along with this time of year is a glass of beer, the light refreshment of moderation which also produces important tax revenues particularly to the benefit of those areas where its "legal sale" is permitted.
