PLANTING PINES IS A GOOD INVESTMENT

Many areas of cut-over land and poor cropland could be put back into productivity by planting them in pines. Some areas are ready for planting now; others will need site preparation.

You can plant pines in open fields or in wooded areas that have had brush and undesirable hardwood removed or destroyed. This job can be done by cutting, mechanical preparation, chemical treatment, or a combination of these.

Applications and instructions for ordering seedlings can be secured from your County Agents Office.

If you plan to plant your seedlings within two weeks after they are delivered, they may be held in the shipping package provided you do the following:

1. When seedlings arrive, dip in water or pour water into open end of the package. Roll package on the ground to thoroughly wet all the roots.

2. Store the package in a cool place where there is no danger of freezing. Raise one end of the bundle to allow it to drain.

3. Repeat watering and rolling process once each week. If you are not going to plant the seedlings within two weeks after receiving them, you should dig a 10 to 12-in deep V-shaped trench, break open the bundle, and "heel in" the seedlings, tamping the soil into the trench firmly. They need watering only at "heeling in" time.

Protect seedlings from extremes of heat and cold at all times before they are planted.

Entertain At Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Limer entertained at a New Year's Eve dinner on Sunday in observance of their 41st wedding anniversary. Places were laid for 20 guests. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Harper and sons of Rocky Mount, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Rideout and children, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Limer and children and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Limer of Warrenton and Mrs. E. H. Rule of Raleigh.

The really happy man is the one who can enjoy the scenery when he has to take a detour.
