Vaughan Family Holds Reunion At Old Home

Descendants and relatives of the late Fielding and Mildred Rowland Vaughan gathered at the old home place near Norlina for the annual reunion on Sunday, July 8.

These reunions were begun approximately fifty years ago by Mrs. Vaughan, affectionately called "Mammy," and her nine children. The reunions were held annually until some time in the 1930's shortly before her death; Mr. Vaughan died in 1904. The grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan revived the reunion a few years ago, and plan to hold it annually the second Sunday in July.

In May, 1962, the last surviving child, E. Blount Vaughan of Henderson, died at the age of seventy. Among those attending this year's reunion were Mrs. Hamilton Stewart of Henderson who, at 86 years, was the oldest person present; and Mrs. Richard Webb (Minnie Wilson) of Vista, California, who had traveled the greatest distance to be present. Approximately 125 persons attended the reunion.

Following the picnic style dinner of Brunswick stew and many other delicious foods, the program committee, composed of Mrs. S. S. Spathey (Eunice Wilson) of Richmond, chairman; Mrs. Harry Wake (Eula Wilson) of Silver Spring, Maryland, and Miss Louise Vaughan of Henderson, presented an interesting and varied program, introduced by the reunion president, Boyd Burchette of Henderson.

Mrs. Spathey conducted an impressive memorial service for her grandparents, their children, and family members deceased since the last reunion. After this, a wreath and a Confederate flag were presented to be placed on the graves of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan in the Zion Methodist Church Cemetery; Mr. Vaughan served honorably in the Confederate Army.

Next, Mr. Burchette gave an inspiring memorial tribute, and D. T. Vaughan of Burlington, historian of the family, presented interesting historical facts concerning Fielding Vaughan's military service. Miss Louise Vaughan contributed a most fitting poem which was read by Lee Meadows of Norlina. Following this service a "fun-for-all" program was held, led by Mrs. Wake.

It was recalled that another memorial service for Mildred Rowland Vaughan was held in July, 1938, at Zion Methodist Church. That service was conducted by the Rev. Stamo S. Spathey of Richmond and the Rev. W. Carleton Wilson, now of Durham, whose wives are granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan. The Rev. Mr. Spatley married Eunice Wilson, daughter of Bernice Vaughan Wilson (later Mrs. J. T. Carter); and the Rev. Mr. Wilson married Essie Wilson, daughter of Carrie Vaughan Wilson (Mrs. Sam G. Wilson). The Rev. Mr. Wilson had been pas-
