Mrs. C. M. Haithecock of Macon was installed chairman of the 15th District Organization of Home Demonstration Clubs at the meeting held in Louisburg on Wednesday of last week. Some 300 home demonstration club women from Granville, Vance, Franklin and Warren Counties attended the meeting held at Louisburg Theatre.

Mrs. H. K. Baker of Franklin County, chairman of the district, presided at the meeting. Mrs. H. M. Dickens, Franklin County, rendered special music and led the group in singing. Mrs. Charlie Merritt, president of Franklin County Council, gave the welcome with the response by Mrs. Nat Burwell, president of the Granville County Council.

W. F. Shelton, manager of the Louisburg Theatre, and County Commissioner Paul Childers, extended greetings to the group. Greetings from the state executive board were brought by Mrs. James C. Harris of Warren County, second vice president of the State Home Demonstration Club Organization.

Guests were recognized by Mrs. E. R. Dement of Granville County, district corresponding secretary, and past district chairmen were recognized by Mrs. C. M. Haithecock of Warren County, district vice chairman. Mrs. I. J. Jackson, Jr., district recording secretary from Vance County, had charge of the roll call by counties. Warren County had 50 women present.

The report of club work done in the 15th District during 1962 was given by Warren County club members. Those taking part in giving this report were Mrs. C. P. Pope, Mrs. Willis Fleming, Mrs. W. S. Smiley, Mrs. R. D. Chewing and Mrs. John K. Killian.

Mrs. Lillie Mae Dean, retired home economics agent from Franklin County, introduced the main speaker for the day, George W. Smith, Assistant Director of the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service. Smith spoke on Family Life in America. He contrasted family life here with that in several other countries; he also used several human interest stories, making his speech entertaining as well as informative.

Following a bountiful turkey dinner served in the Louisburg Armory by the Franklin County Home Demonstration Club women, the afternoon session was held in the theatre.

Minutes of the last year's meeting were read by Mrs. George M. Tucker, Jr., of Vance County. Reports were given from the nominating and registration committees. Warren County women serving on these committees were Mrs. J. D. Holtzman and Mrs. Goode Fleming. Granville County won the gavel for having traveled the most miles to the meeting.

Greetings were brought by Mrs. Mary McAllister, Northeastern District Agent. Talent numbers were presented by Jean Ellis, Beth Bullard and Talmadge Allen, 4-H Club members.

Mrs. Walter Haun, past district chairman, installed the new officers. The officers included Mrs. Haithecock, chairman; Mrs. Leon Frazier, Vance County, vice chairman; Mrs. E. R. Dement, Granville County, recording secretary; and Mrs. Charlie Merritt, Franklin County, corresponding secretary.

Know these men?

You should. They're industry hunters—experts at talking with businessmen north, east, south or west about the many advantages of doing business in the area served by CP&L.

They work with agencies of the state, chambers of commerce, and other groups to help sell industrialists on locating new plants in the Carolinas . . . or expanding the ones they already have here.

They're just two of the friendly folks at CP&L who devote their effort to fuller development of the area we serve. What they and others like them do is important to us . . . and you, too. Because new or larger plants mean jobs, and jobs mean payrolls that stimulate the whole economy.

During the last 10 years our industry hunters have helped bring into the area we serve new or expanded businesses that cost more than $600 million to set up, created over 90,000 new jobs, and resulted in annual payroll of almost $260 million.

It's just one more way CP&L is working to help build a Finer Carolina.
