

Land Measurers Begin Acreage Checks

Some 25 seasonal ASCS employees trained in acreage measurement work have begun their summer job of checking crop acreages on farms participating in the acreage allotment, wheat stabilization, feed grain and soil bank programs, T. E. Watson, ASCS office manager, announced yesterday.

In connection with the acreage measurement job, Watson said, farmers are urged to give complete cooperation when the reporter visits the farm. Producer cooperation, he said, can help the workers to do the job faster and more economical.

Watson listed three ways in which the farmers can help in land measurements. There are: (1) see that stakes are in place on premeasured farms; (2) make sure plantings are within the staked area on premeasured farms, and (3) have someone who is familiar with the crop available to help the reporter if the operator is away from the farm.

ASCs reporters who visit the farm to measure the acreage are out there to perform a service to the farmer, Watson said. "Assisting in this measuring and designation of fields planted to allotment crops is definitely the responsibility of the farmer or his agent. It is greatly to the farmer's advantage to be there and assist in the measuring" Watson said that by being present the producer will realize how the acreages are determined and he will be able to assure himself that the reporter has received correct information and has correctly plotted the fields on the aerial photograph.

Performance reporters in Warren County will measure approximately 25,000 acres of crops and land used this season, Watson said. Allotted crops to be measured in this county include flue-cured tobacco, cotton, wheat and peanuts. All soil bank base crops will be measured on soil bank farms. Also all wheat, corn, milo and diverted acreages on farms participating in the 1963 feed grain and wheat stabilization programs.

The work of the reporter is only part of the performance check, Watson said. The reporter outlines the planted acreage on an aerial photograph, and that photograph is returned to the ASCS office where the acreage is computed by the county office staff. The acreage is computed by the use of a planimeter, an instrument which accurately computes the area outlined, and farmers will be notified by mail of the determined acreage.

Pittman Elected Member Of Warren County ABC Board

Gordon LeRoy (Roy) Pittman was elected a member of the Warren County ABC Board at a joint meeting of the county commissioners, the board of education and the board of welfare, held in the commissioners room Monday with County Attorney Jim Limer presiding.

Elected for a three-year term, Pittman succeeds Joe Neal, whose term of office has expired and who was not a candidate for re-election. Pittman was nominated by Richard R. Davis and the nomination was seconded by Amos L. Capps. There were no other nominations and the election was unanimous.

Present for the meeting were Amos L. Capps, John A. Wilson, Richard R. Davis, Dr. F. P. Hunter, Dr. S. H. Massey, Dr. Walter A. White, Robert C. Gupton and J. R. Peeler.

Ruritans Sponsor Two Dances Weekly At Wise School

The first in a series of summer dances for teenagers began Wednesday night at the Wise school.

Sponsored by the Wise-Paschall Ruritan Club, dances will be held each Wednesday night through August. Sol Perkinson, in charge of the dances, said admission is 25 cents per person and that Ruritans will provide a concession booth for the weekly dances.

The Wednesday night dances are one of two dance features promoted by the Wise-Paschall Club. Each Saturday night round and square dancing is held at the Wise school. Music for the dances is provided by the Versatiles.

Ruritans made plans for the teenage dances during their May meeting held last month. Jimmy Limer, Littleton attorney, was guest speaker. Cooper Perkinson was installed as a new member and James White, president of the Norlina Ruritan Club, was a guest.

Nearly 30 club members discussed plans for a ladies' night program slated for June 20 at Buck Overton's in Rocky Mount. Speakers for the ladies' night program will be Zone 3 Governor Marvin Sasser of Rocky Mount and J. B. Overton, Zone 3 lieutenant governor, also of Rocky Mount. Music for the occasion will be provided by Mrs. Jimmie Sammons.

Young, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Williford, Mrs. W. K. Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. L. D. Blackwell, Jr., Mrs. Tinley Moore, all of Oxford, and Miss Edwina Booker of Virginia Beach, Va.

BOARD

Julian Farrar, Welfare Superintendent, discussed the Welfare Budget with the commissioners. The 1963-64 budget calls for an increase of $2,417.55.

The commissioners told the various groups that individual budgets would be studied and a decision would be made after all budget requests have been considered in special meetings to be held this month.

In addition the commissioners heard requests for improvements of several roads in the county.

W. Faulk Alston was again before the commissioners in the interest of having an investigation made of the Welfare Department. He came early and stayed briefly, but was present long enough to ask if the board had hired an investigator and to suggest that it might be well for the FBI to make an investigation. No action was taken by the board.

A. P. Rodwell, Tax Collector, reported taxes collected for the fiscal year in the amount of $332,544.38. Of this amount $14,925.03 was collected in May.

Only three of the commissioners were present for the meeting—chairman Amos L. Capps, and Commissioners Richard R. Davis and John A. Wilson. Commissioner A. J. Ellington was present for a few moments early in the morning but was excused when it was learned that his company was short a man because Jim Beckwith had been summoned to serve on the jury. Robert Thorne was absent due to his daughter's graduation from the University of North Carolina Monday.

COURT

(Continued from page 1) Charlie Ernest Rivers and Isaac Jerman. Rivers was given a 12-month sentence suspended for three years upon condition he not drive a motor vehicle upon the highways of the state for two years and pay a fine of $150 and costs. Jerman was given a six-months sentence, suspended for two years upon condition that he not drive in the state for one year and pay a fine of $150 and costs. Willie Jiggetts, charged with drunken driving, entered a plea of guilty and was given a six-month sentence upon condition he not drive on the public highways of the state for 90 days and pay a fine of $50 and costs.

Joe Nathan Robinson, also pleading guilty to drunken driving, was given a 12-month sentence, suspended for three years upon condition that he remain of good behavior for three years, refrain from driving on the public highways of North Carolina for one year, and pay a fine of $100 and costs.

Harold Bullock, charged with damage to county property, entered a plea of guilty and was given an 18-month sentence, suspended for two years upon condition he remain of good behavior for two years and pay a fine of $125 and costs.

Clyde L. Newton, pleading guilty to a bad check charge, was given a 30-day sentence, suspended two years if the defendant remains of good behavior for two years, pays the Clerk of Superior Court the sum of $25 for the benefit of Brooks Overby, and pay the costs of court.

Clifton Boyd Stegall, who pleaded not guilty to a speeding charge, was found guilty of speeding not in excess of 70 miles per hour. Judge Bickett ordered Stegall to drive no car upon the public highway of the state for 90 days and pay a fine of $50 and costs. A 60-day sentence was suspended for one year.

John Stallings, charged with two whiskey law violations, was given a two-year sentence, suspended for five years on condition he remain of good behavior, have possession of no alcoholic beverage and pay a fine of $250 and costs. Law enforcement officers will be allowed to search his presence at any time during the next five years without a search warrant.

Morris James Vaughan, charged with reckless driving, was fined $50 and costs.

Action ended in one case when it was learned that the defendant, Cicero Williams, was dead. Williams had been charged with possession for the purpose of sale. However, in several cases, the State did not prosecute, either attaching a not pros. or not pros with leave to the case. These included Leon and Jones, Jr., carnal knowledge; Roy Carey, willful failure to support and maintain his illegitimate child; Joe Nathan Robinson, assault on a female, assault with a deadly weapon and assault.

A detainer was issued for Ervin Lynch, charged with non-support and currently serving a prison sentence. William Burley, charged with manslaughter, was called, but failed to appear.

Cases continued for the term, in addition to the manslaughter case, included Sterling Richardson, Jr., assault with a deadly weapon, Ervin Lynch, assault on a female, Desmond Junious Harris, drunken driving; Charlie Edwards, interference with an officer in line of duty and attempted assault; John Wiggins, two whiskey counts; Lucy Farrar, liquor; Henry Dunston, liquor; Ray Russell Roberts, drunken driving; Eugene Farrar, possession for purpose of sale; Henry Dunston, liquor; Robert Perry Carter, drunken driving; and Wylie Gregory Mitchell, drunken driving.

One civil case came before a jury when a divorce was granted to the plaintiff in the case of Willie James Fields vs. Elizabeth Rhodes Fields.
