A Warrenton woman and her husband had left a jet plane only a few minutes before it crashed and killed 81 persons in Delaware Monday.

A few moments later the plane crashed near Wilmington, Delaware.

Mrs. Schoonover, the former Carolyn Satterwhite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Satterwhite of Warrenton, and Mr. Schoonover were married at McLean, Va., on November 30.

Overwhelming Approval Is Given Cotton Quotas

Cotton growers in Warrenton County gave overwhelming approval Tuesday to marketing quotas and price supports for their 1964 crops.

The count in Warrenton was 753 for and 26 against, according to Thomas E. Watson, Warrenton County's ASCS office manager.

A two-thirds favorable vote was necessary to retain quotas on the 1964 crop, but balloting in the state and throughout cotton-producing areas ran far in excess of this margin.

Like tobacco, wheat and other crops, cotton has been in trouble because of big surpluses, and the 1963 crop added to the problem because of bumper yields.

Last year, marketing quotas for the 1963 crop were approved in a similar referendum with 93.7 per cent of those voting favoring upland controls and 81.8 per cent quotas on extra-long staple.

Cotton producers voted Tuesday to determine whether marketing quotas, with marketing penalties on "excess" cotton produced, will be in operation for the 1964 crop.

Approval means price supports will be available to growers who comply with their farm allotments at levels set by the secretary of agriculture.

The secretary can set the 1964 price support between 65 and 90 per cent of parity—now 40.27 cents a pound.

Littleton Native Is Selected For Job As County Sanitarian

Samuel Nathaniel Moore of Littleton has accepted a position as Sanitarian with the Warrenton County Health Department.

Notice of Moore's appointment was made this week by Dr. Robert F. Young, Warrenton County Health Director, who said that Moore would spend the next two or three months in training with Health Departments in Halifax and Vance Counties.

The position of sanitarian in Warrenton County has been vacant since the resignation of Howard Stultz in July.

Moore is a graduate of Littleton High School and has spent his entire life in Warrenton County, Dr. Young said. Moore's wife is the former Helen Watkins of Drewry.

Mailing Is Begun

The Warrenton County Draft Board began mailing Selective Service questionnaires to registrants reaching the age of 19 and older Monday, Selby Benton, chairman, announced yesterday. He said the questionnaires are being mailed as rapidly as possible and the board requests each registrant to complete and return them promptly.

Benton said that all men are still required to report to the Selective Service office for registration upon their eighteenth birthdays.

Farmers Gamble By Late Card Return

Farmers will gamble on losing vital tobacco and peanut acreage because of failure to promptly return marketing cards to the Warrenton ASCS office, W. S. Smiley, ASCS committee chairman, said this week.

Tobacco and peanut farmers are required by program regulations to return their marketing cards to the local ASCS office within 30 days following the close of markets in the general locality.

Many farmers, Smiley said, delay returning marketing cards and are penalized by reduced allotments.

Local Merchants To Close For Two Days

Warrenton merchants will close their stores on both December 25 and December 26, Vernon Whitmore, chairman of the hours and holiday committee of the Warrenton Merchants Association, said yesterday.

Merchants will also take New Year's Day as a holiday, Whitmore said. Local stores, he added, will be open until 9 o'clock tonight and on next Friday night.

Autopsy Shows No Foul Play

The death of a young Negro child near Arcola on Monday morning of last week was probably due to a heart attack, according to a preliminary report from the Department of Pathology of the University of North Carolina Medical School.

An autopsy was ordered by Coroner N. I. Haightcock following the death of three-month-old Otis Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ossia Lynch of near Arcola. The child was found dead in bed early Monday morning. Haightcock ordered the autopsy following consultation with the board of county commissioners and upon advice of a local physician who said he recommended it as a health measure.

The preliminary report from the University Medical School said that it was indicated that a heart condition was responsible for the child's death. The report stated that no external bruises or lacerations were noted and an x-ray examination revealed no broken bones.

"The heart, particularly the right heart, was dilated and enlarged. Examination of the other organs revealed no gross abnormalities. The child was well nourished," Dr. F. D. Norvich and Dr. N. F. Rodman, Jr., Professor of Pathology, said in a report to Warrenton County Coroner Haightcock, under date of December 7.

The physicians said the report would be completed in two to three weeks.

'Do-It-Day' Planned By Warren County Tuberculosis Group

"No time like the present—and no present like good health!" That's the theme song for Friday, Dec. 13, designated by the Warren County Tuberculosis Association as "Do-It-Day"—the day for all good citizens to catch up with the mail and respond to their Christmas Seal letter.

Charles T. Johnson, Jr., Seal Sale Chairman of the Association, pointed out that Christmas Seal contributions are the sole support of the organization, whose continuing effectiveness in fighting TB and respiratory diseases will depend on the degree of public response. The funds are used for health education, x-rays, tuberculin testing, patient services, research, and activities in connection with all respiratory diseases.

"Of course during the Christmas season everybody's swamped with things to do," Johnson said. "I'm sure lots of people, who've been trying to get a chance to answer their Christmas Seal letter, just haven't had a moment to do it. That's what 'Do-It-Day' is for. To all those

The two clubs, pre-season favorites to battle for the two-county conference crown, fought to a 50-50 deadlock at the end of the fourth period, before the Waves, who trailed by a point going into the final stanza, caught fire in the extra period.

Guard Marion Wise led the visiting Tornados, dropping in 25 points. Joe Peterson had 17 for the losers.
