Meet Richardson PREYER . . .

the man you can respect as Governor. Here are some of the many qualities that prompted the "People for Preyer" movement and made him the logical Democratic candidate for Governor of North Carolina!

RICHARDSON PREYER'S OUTSTANDING ACCOMPLISHMENTS AS A LAWYER, SUPERIOR COURT JUDGE, AND U. S. FEDERAL JUDGE HAVE EARNED HIM A UNIVERSAL REPUTATION FOR CHARACTER, HONESTY AND SOUND JUDGEMENT...

Businessman - Administrator

Judge Preyer's administrative experience dates back to World War II. During his four years in the Navy, he became Executive Officer of the Destroyer Preston directing 340 men and 20 officers. Following the war and law school he was trained in administrative duties of the Vick Chemical Co. His latest administrative responsibilities have been connected with operating the office of Federal Judge. He has proved himself in the day-to-day world of commerce - being a director of businesses in New York, Greensboro and Atlanta. His accomplishments and integrity as an outstanding North Carolina businessman and civic leader have earned him membership in the Newcomen Society, generally considered the "honor society of the business world."

Worker for Industrial Progress

When it was decided the 1963 N. C. Trade Fair should become international in scope, Judge Preyer was chosen as the most logical man in the state to lead 40 other business and professional men on an all-important trade mission throughout Europe (each man paying his own expenses). Several hundred overseas companies were contacted and given convincing reasons why they should show their wares and locate branches in North Carolina. Judge Preyer also was appointed by the late Spencer Love, president of Burlington Industries, to serve on a special committee for attracting out-of-state industries.

Leader for Education

Judge Preyer's consuming interest in educational opportunities is understandable. As father of five children, he naturally joins other parents in their concern for adequate schools and qualified teachers. Because of his deep and genuine interest, Judge Preyer holds one of the highest positions of any layman in the advancement of our schools - that of president of the N. C. Citizens Committee for Better Schools. He also is a trustee and member of the Curriculum Committee of Woodberry Forest School and is on the Board of Visitors for Davidson College.

Fighter Against Communism

Through the Richardson Foundation (a charitable organization for which Judge Preyer was a former North Carolina representative) Judge Preyer has had the unique opportunity to effectively bring the evils of communism to the attention of the American people. As a result, "Cold War Seminars" have been held throughout the nation to expose the dangers of communism. He advocated - and is presently aiding in developing - a program designed to better teach the values of our American heritage to the youth of our state. His wife is a member of the statewide "Educational Council on National Purposes" which is concerned with promoting Americanism as opposed to communism.

Humanitarian - Church Leader

Judge Preyer gives liberally of his time and talents to hospitals and his church. He helped establish the Central Carolina Rehabilitation Hospital and for five years served as its chairman, and he is vice chairman of the Board of Trustees of the L. Richardson Memorial Hospital. To help support more effective treatment in the state's mental health hospitals, Judge Preyer is active on the North Carolina Foundation for Mental Health.

Since earliest childhood he has been closely associated with the First Presbyterian Church of Greensboro. He serves as an Elder of the church and is a teacher of the Men's Bible Class with over 200 members.
