

Parker Is Speaker At Monogram Meeting

Charles E. (Preacher) Parker of Wake Forest College Athletic Department, former head coach at John Graham High School, was the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the John Graham Monogram Club, held in the school cafeteria Friday night. The event was sponsored by the Warrenton Boosters Club.

Parker, presented by Howard Daniel, spoke briefly on the value of athletics, and the part that athletics play in the development of character and leadership.

An athlete is respected and looked up to, particularly by young people. This gives him an opportunity to set an example, and engenders confidence, Parker said.

Athletics teaches self-discipline. This began in the first training session and continues through his or her career. The discipline engender here, Parker said, proves invaluable all through life.

Athletics teaches maturity, Parker continued. It gives a boy or girl a sense of belonging, a sense of worth, a sense of service, and has been responsible for keeping many boys and girls in high school who otherwise would have been drop-outs.

Athletics teach sportsmanship, Parker said. They teach a boy or girl to fight hard for victory but to accept defeat without bitterness and in loss to keep their tempers.

Athletics engenders a sense of self-confidence, without cockiness, a sense of self-respect with no place for defeatism, Parker concluded.

W. A. Benson, Jr., Boosters Club president, presided over the meeting. The Rev. Troy Barrett gave the invocation and served as toastmaster.

Senior awards were presented by F. M. (Junie) Drake as follows:

Cheerleaders: Bonnie Gupton and Sandra Liles, and Sylvia Davis, who was absent.

Girls Basketball: Helen Rose Andrews, Linda Carroll, Brenda Clark, Wanda McGowan, Knox Polk, Patricia Rivers.

Trophies were presented to boys who played football, basketball and/or baseball. Billy Benson was singled out as the senior who had played all three sports for four years. Others receiving trophies were Raymond Bartholomew, Billy Benson, Al Blalock, Roddy Drake, Lacey Fleming, Macy Paynter, Herbert Rooker, Billy Shearin, Edward Shearin and Ricky Stoney.

Following the presentation of diplomas W. A. Benson presented to Miss Janice Allen and Jon Burwell, basketball coaches, the basketball used in the tournament play won by John Graham.

Helen Andrews presented a gift to Miss Allen on behalf of the girls basketball squad, and during the presentation lauded Miss Allen for the aid she had given the girls.

Knox Polk presented a gift to Mr. Burwell for his assistance in basketball and other school activities.

Sandra Liles, on behalf of the cheerleaders, offered praise to Mrs. Margaret Williams for her assistance in providing transportation for the cheerleaders and for assistance and counseling, and presented her a gift.

Roddy Drake, Al Blalock and Billy Benson, with Drake as spokesman, presented gifts to Coaches Webb and Wilson.

Miss Allen presented gifts to members of the girls basketball squad and to Mary Grissom, manager.

Bonnie Gupton presented a gift from the cheerleaders to the Rev. Troy Barrett for his cooperation, inspiration and help.

Coach Jimmie Webb thanked the Monogram members for giving him such a rewarding year, and Kenneth Brinson thanked the Boosters for the fine support given the school.

The activities followed a supper served by the home economics department under the direction of Mrs. George Davis. The meal consisted of fried chicken, stringbeans, sliced tomatoes, potato salad, hot rolls, iced tea, and apple pie.

In North Carolina... after a swim, beer is a natural

On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. There's hardly another beverage around that suits what you do for fun as much as beer. Camping, hiking, or just lounging on a lawn chair—beer brings to each just the right touch of extra good living.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

Keep North Carolina Growing!

Richardson Preyer believes that farming is a source of strength to our future. To grow and prosper, he proposes:

1. Establishment of a new tobacco research facility in North Carolina.
2. Full state supports for tobacco farmers.
3. Increased research into crop yields, fertilizers and food processing techniques to help bring more canneries and food processors to the state.
4. Growing more food for our own people to close the food gap—the annual billion dollar cash loss to other states to pay for food we do not raise ourselves.
5. Paving more farm-to-market roads out of Preyer's 300 million dollar road bond issue to help raise farm income, and attract industries that want convenient outlets for their products.
