Klan Is Blamed For Missile Being Hurlled

A piece of lead was either shot or fired from outside the upstairs apartment of Brown's Superette, where a group of "Friends" are quartered during a demonstration here on Thursday night of last week.

The lead entered a window of the apartment and penetrated a partition between two rooms. Members of the group said the missile was fired from a gun, but Sheriff Jim Hundley said the missile was too large to have been shot from a pistol or rifle, and leaned towards the theory that it was hurled from a sling-shot. He said, however, it constituted an assault and could have proved fatal had it struck any of the occupants.

Some 40 white men had gathered on the streets and in front of the building and their activities in addition to harassment of the friends consisted of sticking Ku Klux emblems of warning on the automobiles of the Friends and in sticking a warning sign on the door of the office of The Warren Record.

Members of the Friends group said that they had difficulty in contacting the local police and that finally Ganelle Brown succeeded in reaching the Sheriff's Department, the Highway Patrol and the office of the Governor. Upon the arrival of Sheriff Hundley and two of his deputies and several members of the State Highway Patrol, dangers of further harassment to the group was ended. The crowd of white people stood around the streets for some time, but offered no trouble.

The Ku Klux Klan is blamed for this and two other disturbances in recent days in which the Friends were threatened and told to leave town. However, the men wore no regalia or badges, and how many were Klansmen, how many sympathizers, and how many were drawn here by curiosity is not known. The posting of Klan signs would indicate that the demonstration was Klan inspired.

No Threat Now From Boll Weevil

Crop prospects for Warren County are excellent and with no present threat from boll weevils, County Agent Frank W. Reams said yesterday.

Reams said that corn, cotton and tobacco are looking just about as good as he has seen in the county during his stay here, but that the earlier crops were hurt by dry weather. A heavy wind and rain storm, with some hail, caused some damage in the Five Forks neighborhood on Wednesday afternoon. Reams said Thursday morning that rain was reported to have been about 2.5 inches and that the heavy downpour was accompanied by high winds. Crops were blown down, but he said that he had not had an opportunity to survey the damage.

As for the boll weevil, at present it is almost nonexistent, Reams said. A spot check this week found weevils on only three farms and on these farms the infestation was less than one per cent, he said.

James Otha Nichols was in court on a charge of drunk driving. The State accepted a plea of reckless driving and the defendant was ordered to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

John Allen Peacock, charged with driving an automobile without an operator's license, was found not guilty.

Ercell S. Williams pled guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $25.00 and taxed with court costs.

Sewage Plant Placed In Operation Here

Nello Teer, Jr., of Durham, president of the Oconeechee Council, and Congressman Horace Kornegay made awards to the Scoutmasters of Troop 52 for their work and participation in the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., last week.

The Town of Warrenton will no longer dump raw sewage into a creek.

This practice, in effect here since the water system was installed in 1915-16, was ended yesterday when Warrenton's new $210,000 sewage treatment plant was put in operation.

A test of the plant was made on Tuesday and since that time chlorine feeders have been hooked up.

Remaining to be completed is a driveway; grading and seeding of the grass. Water Supt. Harold R. Skillman said yesterday that his guess would be that it would be about two weeks before the final inspection of the plant by the engineers.

Raw sewage which has been dumped into the Possum Quarter branch east of town will be pumped into the disposal plant located near Fishing Creek where most of the town's sewage has been dumped since the completion of the water system nearly 50 years ago.

Of the $210,000 cost of the sewage treatment plant, $97,000 was from a federal grant.

Curtis Is First To Get Check

C. B. Curtis of Manson was the first farmer in Warren County to receive his final 1964 feed grain payment, Thomas E. Watson, ASCS office manager, said yesterday.

The check awaiting Curtis is for $78.66, which was the final payment for diverting 7.2 acres of corn. Watson said that at the time he signed up he received an advance payment of $78.66.

Watson said farmers in Warren County will receive final payments amounting to approximately $52,000. Advance payments in the amount of $36,578 were made at the time farmers signed up in the early spring.

Five hundred and fifty-six farmers in Warren County signed up to divert 3,533 acres of feed grains. In North Carolina, over 59,000 farmers signed up to divert over 645,000 acres of feed grains. Total payments in North Carolina will be approximately 20 million dollars.

In addition to the diversion payments, each farmer participating in the 1964 feed grain program will be eligible for grains. The price support rate for North Carolina is $.94 per bushel for barley, $1.89 per cwt. for grain sorghum, and $1.26 per bushel for corn.

Watson said each producer will be notified by card when the payment is ready to be made for his farm. The payment cannot be made until the producer is notified.

Franklin Farmers Like The Results

LOUISBURG — Franklin County farmers using tobacco weed control materials for the first time were pleased with early results, according to C. T. Dean, Jr., county extension chairman.

J. A. Rogers, Rt. 1, Kittrell, used a chemical on one-half acre of a two-acre field. In an early season check, grass and weeds were controlled, while the ground was covered with crabgrass in a check row in the untreated area.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Skillman of Thomasville, Ga., are visiting relatives in Warrenton and Arcot.

Govt. To Help With Pastures

The federal government will assist Warren County farmers in re-establishing permanent pastures destroyed by lack of rain during the spring and early summer.

The ASCS office will accept requests for cost-sharing to re-establish permanent pastures until August 31, 1964, T. E. Watson, office manager, said yesterday. Complete re-establishment will be required with the use of minimum requirements of lime, fertilizer and seed.

Watson pointed out that Warren County is among 35 counties in North Carolina which have been designated as disaster counties under Public Laws 85-58 and has received a special ACP fund allocation that may be used to assist farmers to re-establish vegetative cover destroyed or seriously damaged by the drought of 1963-64.

All producers interested in re-establishing pastures should contact the county office between now and August 31, Watson said.

Cecil Pope Receives First Certificate For Wheat Reduction Cut

Warren County's first certificate and diversion payment in the voluntary 1964 wheat program was made this week to Cecil P. Pope of Macon, one of the thousands of wheat producers cooperating in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service program.

W. S. Smiley, county ASC chairman, revealed that Pope received a check for $10.15 under 1964 legislation designed to help maintain wheat grower income, while avoiding any increase in government costs in the program.

Besides diversion payments, domestic and export marketing certificates are also issued, with a domestic certificate having a value of 70 cents a bushel and export value of 25 cents.

The cash value of the certificates is in addition to the market price of local support or loan value. Market prices in Warren County have been ranging from $1.30 to $1.40.

The loan rate on wheat in North Carolina is $1.45 per bushel. It is expected that payments (See FIRST, page 8)
