

Warrenton Tobacco Market Opens Thursday

Court To Begin Here Tuesday

The September criminal term of Warren County Superior Court will open on Tuesday morning with Judge Leo Carr presiding. Opening of the court was postponed one day due to the Labor Day holiday Monday.

Few cases of wide-spread interest have been placed on the rather long docket which embraces cases of non-support, drunk driving, carnal knowledge, assault, breaking and entering, speeding and manslaughter usually found on the criminal docket. Some interest may center on the trial of five defendants charged with refusal to aid an officer. These cases, which grew out of a racial disturbance the past summer, were continued from the May term of court.

The complete docket, with cases scheduled to begin Tuesday and end Wednesday, are as follows:

Tuesday — Wylie Gregory Mitchell, drunk driving; Ernest Ayscue, larceny; F. L. Hicks, assault; Thomas Campbell, assault; Byron Brown, Jr., speeding, reckless driving, driving after license revoked; Ollie Boyd, involuntary manslaughter; Linburg Clanton, breaking and entering; Roy Albert Williams, possession of stolen property; Arthur Evans, assault; Linton Holloway, violation of whiskey laws; Norman Judkins, Jr., reckless driving, no operator's license.

Also, Amos Ellis, breaking, entering and larceny; Will Roger Marrow, non-support, David Elmer Burdick, drunk driving; James Baxter, trespass; Clay Evans, carnal knowledge; Willis Moore, larceny; P. A. Bishop, Jr., bad checks; Julius Wood, non-support; Linburg Clanton, breaking, entering and assault; Bo J. Faulkner, profanity; using language calculated to bring on an affray; Mollie Williams Alston, hit and run; Thomas Moseley, forgery; Tom Lewis Rooker, drunk driving.

Wednesday—Charlie Herbert Tharrington, Jr., speeding, manslaughter; Harry Russell, refusing to exhibit operator's license, obstructing officer in discharge of duty; Melvin Tunstall, Frances Alston, Ernest Turner, Thurston Brown, and the Rev. Alex Brown, refusing to aid an officer.

Jurors selected for the term Rufus J. Harmon, Merritt Davis, T. R. Paynter, J. W. Atkins, Jr., J. R. Smiley, Billy Fleming, Leonard Wilker, James L. Knight, Julian W. Farrar, A. A. Williams, Julius W. Davis, Mrs. Anne A. Carter, McCarroll Alston, Guy Marshall Stegall, G. C. Robinson, Mrs. Vance Collier, Grace Patillo, Lowell Harris, Mrs. (See TERM, page 6A)

JOHN GRAHAM HIGH SCHOOL—One of the five Warren County High Schools where registration will take place on next Wednesday morning. Schools will begin a full schedule on Thursday.

Warren County Schools To Begin 1964-65 Term Wednesday

Following a week's delay in order that school children might help in the harvesting of tobacco, Warren County schools will open for the 1964-65 school year on next Wednesday, Sept. 9, with the registration of students. Thursday, Sept. 10, will be a full school day with regular classes and lunches served in school cafeterias.

One Warren County school—Littleton—was not included in the school postponement and began its year's work on Wednesday.

Last week Kenneth Brinson, principal of the John Graham High School, released plans for the operation of the John Graham, Macon Junior High and Mariam Boyd schools, and this week W. O. Reed, principal of the Norlina school, outlined plans for the Norlina school.

Reed yesterday appealed to parents of the Norlina school to have their children register in school on Registration Day, Sept. 9. The school buses will operate on that day, he said, and all pupils should be dismissed by 11 o'clock. The hour for registration will begin at 8:30 a. m.

Thursday, Sept. 10, will be the first day of school and classes will continue throughout the day until 3:18 p. m. School will open at 8:30. The cafeteria will be in operation on Thursday and students will pay the usual rate of 25¢ for lunch.

Reed said the following fees will be charged in the elementary school: An instructional supply fee of $1.00; supplementary reader fee, grades 1 and 2, $1.00; grades 3-5, $1.20; grades 6-8, $1.40.

High school students will pay the following fees: Book fee, $5.00; instructional supply fee, $1.00; typing fee, $5.00; Agricultural fee, $2.50; home economics fees, $2.50.

Workbooks, Weekly Readers and supplies for arts and crafts will be in addition to the above fees. Students are urged to bring fees on the day of registration. School insurance, which is not a fee, will cost each pupil $2.00.

High school teachers for the 1964 year will be Mrs. Bessie R. Hicks, Thomas B. Williams, Mrs. Mildred C. Peeler, Miss Lucy E. Perkinson, Robert Price, Mrs. John U. McManus, Jr., C. L. Hege, and Miss Shirley Justine Stansbury.

Elementary teachers will be Miss Mary R. Ezzard, Miss Nancy Joyner, Mrs. Margaret W. Hicks, Mrs. Shirley H. White, Mrs. Gaye W. Mann, Mrs. Annie N. Breedlove, Miss Rosa H. Palmer, Mrs. Mildred

B. Hicks, Mrs. Myrtle L. Ayscue, Mrs. Anne W. Reed, William Lee Crenshaw, Grady W. Tunstall, and Mrs. Alma K. Mayfield.

Teachers Meeting To Be Held Friday

All Macon, Mariam Boyd and John Graham teachers are requested to meet at the John Graham High School library at 8:30 a. m. Friday, Sept. 4, Kenneth Brinson, principal, said yesterday.

The names of two of the five new teachers at John Graham High School were inadvertently omitted last week.

They are Mrs. Nancy Williams, a former teacher at John Graham High School, who rejoins the faculty this year to teach Physical Science, World History and Girls Physical Education; and Miss Patricia Keel, who taught at Rich Square last year, and who will teach French World History and English at John Graham this year.

Mrs. Nancy P. Blankenship, Catherine and Richard, spent several days last week in Wilmington, White Lake and Carolina Beach.

Additional Supervisor Appointed

A new supervisor for Hawkins, North Warren, South Warren, Northside and Vaughan Schools—Miss Areatha Troublefield of Wayne County—has been employed by the Warren County Board of Education.

Calvin White, supervisor of schools of Warren for several years, will have supervision of other schools, Roger Peeler, superintendent of schools, said yesterday.

The duties of both Miss Troublefield and Mr. White are general supervision which covers all areas of instruction.

A 1951 graduate of Carver High School at Mount Olive, Miss Troublefield received a B. S. degree from Fayetteville Teachers College at Fayetteville in 1955. She received an M. S. degree in Education, specializing in supervision, from Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind., in 1962, and did post graduate work at East Carolina College, Greenville, and Indiana University during 1962-64.

Miss Troublefield attended a workshop in school evaluation in 1963 and 1964 and a workshop in general elementary education, supervising student teaching, in 1964.

Federal Inspection To Be Under Clark

Federal tobacco inspection at the Warrenton market this season will be under the supervision of W. H. Clark.

Clark heads a group of U. S. Department of Agriculture inspectors recently assigned for the current sales season to the Warrenton market by the Tobacco Division of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Other tobacco inspectors assigned to the Warrenton market are C. J. Sizemore and R. D. Currin.

Officials grades for flue-cured tobacco this season, except for the addition of three grades and minor changes in specifications for a few other grades, will be the same as last season, Clark said.

The grades were revised last year to place more emphasis on maturity as a quality factor and to describe more accurately the quality of every lot of tobacco offered for inspection. In the revision, the number of grades was reduced from 173 to 157. The three grades added this season, X5KL, X5KF, and X5KV, make the total number 160.

Under the 1935 Tobacco Inspection Act, growers of flue-cured tobacco first began using the USDA inspection services in 1936, Clark said. By 1940, the service had spread to more than a third of the auction markets in the flue-cured area that extends from Virginia through the Carolinas and Georgia into northern Florida.

In May 1942, a general referendum was held and passed for the remaining markets, but qualified inspectors weren't available for all of the markets until the 1946 season. Beginning that season, all flue-cured markets in the five states have had free and mandatory inspection service.

In addition to the free inspection service, the Tobacco Inspection Act provides two closely related services. One is the market news service and the other demonstrations for farmers on the best way to prepare their tobacco for market.

The market news service, Clark said, enables growers and others to keep currently informed on tobacco marketing. Daily market reports—prepared in each flue-cured belt for news media—carry quotations on grades representing around three-fourths of the total daily offerings, and review the highlights of the day's sales. In addition, weekly market reports and press releases reviewing the week's marketing activities are issued.

One of the most closely followed market reports according to Clark, is the daily price report. It is sent to every auction warehouse and posted conspicuously where it may be easily read by growers and others interested in tobacco marketing. These daily reports show for the entire belt the average price at which each grade sold the preceding day and the support price for the grade.

Warren County Recorder's Court last Friday served almost exclusively as a traffic court with eleven of the twelve cases tried being concerned with violations of the motor vehicle laws.

The only case tried other than motor law violations was one of assault in which Russell

Davis was sentenced to the roads for 60 days. The sentence was suspended for one year upon condition that the defendant not violate any criminal laws of the state for the period.

James Arnett Copeland pled guilty to a charge of allowing an unauthorized person to oper-

Prospects Are Good

The Warrenton Tobacco Market will open next Thursday morning, Sept. 10, with five warehouses in operation and with all principal company tobacco buyers on hand ready to bid the high dollars for the farmers' tobacco.

The market will have its first sale at 9 o'clock at Currin's warehouse.

Represented on the market will be American, Liggett-Myers, Reynolds, Imperial, Export, Monk-Henderson and Sanford Tobacco Company.

Warren County and surrounding counties from which the Warren Market draws its patronage has a bumper tobacco crop, and indications are that prices will be higher than last year.

Edgar Wood, Sales Supervisor for the Warrenton Market, said yesterday that the local market is looking for a good year with sales as high as they were last year when the market sold nearly 13,000,000 pounds. In spite of the week-end rains, which have cut the weight of tobacco, Wood said the heavy production is expected on most farms in the area.

There will be no changes in the operation of the five Warrenton Warehouses, Wood said. Tarwater's Warehouse will be managed by E. G. Tarwater and Gayle Tarwater. Boyd's Warehouse will be managed by Walker P. Burwell. Center Warehouse will be operated under the management of M. P. Carroll, Edward Moody and Edward Radford. Thompson's Warehouse will be managed by C. E. (Buck) Thompson and Dick Young. Currin's Warehouse will be managed by D. G. Currin, Jr., C. W. Currin and D. E. Tillitson.

James Edward Davis pled guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $25.00 and ordered to pay court costs.

Pupils Assigned To South Warren

All pupils who were assigned to the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades at the Hecks Grove School have been reassigned to the new South Warren School, J. Roger Peeler, Superintendent of Warren County Schools, announced yesterday.

Peeler said that Hecks Grove School will accommodate grades 1, 2 and 3 only during the 1964-65 school year.

Horse Show To Be Held Here Sunday

The second Warrenton Horse Show, rained out last Sunday, will be held on Sunday afternoon at the arena on the Tot Currin farm east of the town limits beginning at 1 o'clock.

The show, sponsored by the Warrenton Rural Volunteer

Fire Department, is expected to attract a number of horses, and riders from Eastern Carolina and Southern Virginia, and a special feature will be a bull riding contest.

Home cooked brunswick stew and ham biscuits will be served on the ground.

Farmers Work To Produce Crop From The Tobacco Fields Of Warren County

L. B. Hardage, assistant county agent, Jack Hawks and S. N. Hawks are shown in a tobacco field on the Jack Hawks Farm, Rt. 1, Norlina.

Tobacco can be grown without irrigation and as proof observe C. W. Robinson, Rt. 1, Norlina, reaching for top of plant, says County Agent Frank Reams. This tobacco is on the Martin Hayes farm.
