

Driving Would Cost Man Term On Roads

A defendant in Warren County Recorder's Court last Friday was given the choice of not driving a motor vehicle in North Carolina for 18 months or of going to jail for 30 days.

Waymond Branch was sentenced to jail for 30 days when he was found guilty of speeding. The sentence was suspended for 18 months upon condition that the defendant not operate a motor vehicle upon the highways of the state for 18 months, and the payment of a $50 fine and court costs.

Alston Kearney, charged with larceny, was also given a choice of whether he serve 60 days on the road. Judge Banzet suspended the 60-days road sentence for two years upon condition that he remain of good behavior, not violate any criminal laws of the state for two years and pay court costs.

McKinley Brown, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, had his sentence of 30 days on the roads suspended for two years upon condition that he not violate any criminal laws of the state and remain of good behavior for two years and pay court costs.

Lee Clark had no choice but was ordered to serve 10 days in jail and pay court costs. He was found guilty of an assault with a deadly weapon. Elijah Randolph Hawkins was ordered to pay a $25 fine and court costs when he was found guilty on a reckless driving charge.

A case against Earnest Edward Davis, charged with driving with improper brakes, was not pressed with leave.

Len Summers, found guilty of careless and reckless driving, was ordered to pay court costs.

Isiah Marks, charged with giving a bad check, was ordered to pay the check and court costs.

Bettie Williams, found guilty of drunk driving and having no operator's license, was ordered to pay a $125 fine and court costs.

Cleveland Hawkins, charged with allowing a drunk person to drive his automobile without a driver's license, was found not guilty.

John Kearney Jones, charged with speeding, was found not guilty.

Six other defendants, charged with speeding, were ordered to pay court costs. They were Harry Edward Alexander, Marjorie Hawkins Basket, Paul Kenneth Stagg, David Arnold Hobles, Bobby Carol Jones, and Margaret L. Gorman.

College Memorial Association Meets

By RUTH MINCHER

LITTLETON — Members and friends at the Littleton College Memorial Association held their annual reunion at North Carolina Wesleyan College on Saturday, with 85 present for the occasion, including several from Warrenton.

The morning program, which was held in Garber Chapel, was a devotional service, with college President Dr. Thomas A. Collins presiding.

Dr. Ralph Hardee Rives, a friend of long-standing at the Association and Associate Professor of English at East Carolina College introduced the Rev. William K. Quick, pastor of the St. James Methodist Church in Greenville and secretary of the Methodist Historical Society, N. C. Conference, who brought the message for the day.

The Rev. Mr. Quick said in part, "No man can measure the worth of the Alumnae of Littleton College to the scores of towns and cities across this and many other states. There is no way to count the blessings that you have contributed to the life of both the church and the community. The flame lighted by President Rhodes burns still and your presence here is testimony enough of the brightness of that eternal flame.

"Your life and your ideals imbued by Littleton College characteristically reminds of the educational and moral philosophy of your Alma Mater. I am grateful for your heritage, your determination, your example. May you never forget the past! May you ever live for the future."

"We need you to remind us of those eternal principles that made this nation great," he declared.

Dr. Rives presented a beautifully painted and framed portrait of Frances Asbury to Wesleyan College on behalf of the Association. Dr. Collins said that it would be placed in an appropriate setting and would bear a marker signifying that it came from them.

It was of particular interest that the speaker found his fifth grade teacher present for the occasion and when she went to thank him for his talk, they "discovered" each other.

The teacher was Mrs. Curtis (Dell McGowan) Crissman, who later in the day was elected new president of the organization.

Following the worship hour, luncheon was served in the college cafeteria and a business meeting was held immediately following luncheon.

At this time, Mrs. Dora Hornaday Stephenson of Frederickburg, Va., turned over the president's gavel to Mrs. Crissman. Re-elected as secretary was Mrs. Lula McCall Usher of Arlington, Va. Miss Mary Shotwell of Oxford was re-elected as treasurer.

Mrs. Crissman appointed Dr. Rives as program chairman.

Mrs. Stephenson was praised for her "magnificent" work as president of the Association and during the open discussion, one of the visitors remarked that she had never had a more enjoyable time! "It's the liveliest Alumnae meeting I've ever attended," she added.

A few years ago, the Association established a scholarship fund for North Carolina Wesleyan "home" college.

The treasurer announced that this fund now amounts to more than $4,000 and the interest has not been added. There also were numerous contributions presented to be added to the fund at this meeting.

Following the meeting, Dr. and Mrs. Collins entertained at a reception at their home on the college campus.

Youths To Receive Bible Training

Should the Bible be watered down for youths? Not according to Jehovah's Witnesses. To prove it, thousands of Witnesses from the northeastern U. S. are bringing their children with them to New York's Yankee Stadium the week of August 24-29 to listen to six days of Bible discussion during their "Word of Truth" convention.

One such family group is Mrs. Minerva Turner and her five children, who live at Macon, N. C., R.F.D. #1.

Thousands of families like them will be filling Yankee Stadium. A large part of the audience will be small children who will sit quietly in their seats through two-and three-hour-long sessions, listening to discussions on varied Biblical subjects.

When charged with placing undue restrictions on their children, Witness parents point to the present noisy generation of teenagers with its empty indifference, its drug and watusi. They ask, "Could most tension-filled adolescents, with jazz-blasting radios glued to their ears, listen quietly to even five minutes of scriptural instruction?"

Said Mrs. Turner: "We have a number of small children who regularly attend the five weekly Bible meetings of instruction at our Kingdom Hall, so they have been already well trained to listen quietly."

"As a matter of fact," he said, "it is now an accepted fact that very young minds can learn quickly. Some of the children born to our missionaries learn to speak several languages at a tender age. We heard of one eight-year-old girl who could speak and understand Siamese, Finnish, English and Chinese! A young mind able to master such difficult languages certainly has the capacity to absorb intensive Bible training."

"The Witnesses have a good reason to be proud of their youngsters; notably well behaved. Hundreds of such youthfully trained men and women are helping to staff the Witnesses' 90 branch offices throughout the world. Many more hundreds are serving as missionaries all over the globe, and as the religious group adds tens of thousands to their ranks each year, more opportunities open up for youths. The Turner youngsters hope to share in similar work one day."
