Auxiliary Women Aid At Hospital

Five members of Unit #25 of the American Legion Auxiliary and one volunteer spent Wednesday at the Veterans Hospital in Durham, the occasion being the opening of the Gift Shop of the Auxiliary in the hospital.

Mesdames C. M. Bullock, D. F. Blaylock, Leonard Dantel, W. L. Fuller, Scott Gardner and William Bugg visited the assigned wards, made lists of the wanted gifts for the patients' families, selected gifts for the large array in the Gift Shop, wrapped and labelled all gifts for mailing.

This year the local auxiliary contributed 121 gifts at a cost of $193.43 to the veterans gift shop program. These gifts were for children as well as adults with some luxury as well as practical items included.

Every veteran is entitled to select Christmas gifts for his family at home at no cost whatsoever to himself, the entire operation being financed each year by the American Legion Auxiliary. This is part of the Rehabilitation program which the members carry on during the entire year for the Veterans and their families.
