Show Loss Of People age as well as increasing yields per acre resulting in

A preliminary figure of 17,590 for the population of Warren County was announced Tuesday by Grady Howard, supervisor of the special census conducted by the U. S. Bureau of the Census.

Towns Also

Official figures will be published in a final report several months from now, but they are not expected to vary greatly from those released Tuesday, Howard said.

With the census work completed in the county, Howard is closing the temporary headquarters office in Warrenton.

The preliminary figures show a population drop in Warren County of 2,062 since 1960. and is 979 below the estimated census of Dr. C. Horace Hamilton, Reynolds Professor of Sociology at State University released several weeks ago.

Warren County's population in the 1960 census was 19,652. This preliminary figure of 17,590 represents a decrease of 11 percent in the population. Hamilton's estimated figure was 18,569.

The preliminary figures also show a drop in populawas si the hiree of the four incorporated towns of the county, with a possible loss at Littleton. The preliminary figures for Littleton only cover the Warren County part of this lown, while me 1960 figures are for the entire town. Warrenton's loss is 62; Norlina, 15; and Macon, 4.

Following are the preliminary figures showing the population for towns in Warren County: Vaughan . . . . . . . . . 100

Littleton . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 500 Norlina . . . . . . . . . . . . 912

The final official report will show the number of persons by sex, race (white, Negro, and "other") and 5-year age groups for the county as a whole. For smaller communities and townships, total population figures will be shown.

Parents-Teachers Ball Games Prove A Success

The Parent - Teacher basketball game at the John Graham High School gym Friday night proved a big success both from a financial standpoint and fun-wise.

Gate receipts totaled $265 and $150 was received from sale of chances on cakes in a half-time drawing. In addition the PTA received slightly more than $46.00 from the concession stands. These funds will be used to sponsor a music program at Macon Junior High School.

The ladies may have been a bit short on skill but that was made up by enthusiasm as the parents downed the teachers by the score of 30

Selma Tharrington was leading scorer for the parents with 16 points. Others playing were Juanita Wood 2, Ann Fleming, Rose Endicotte, Madge Reid 8, Anna Fuller 4. Leading scorer for the teachers was Nellie Gardner with 10 points. Others playing, including three non-teachers, were Sue King 8. Joe Fllen McLean, Jane Fleming, Frances King, 8, Verlie Stegall, and Grace Young 2. MEN'S GAME The game between the men teachers and parents proved to be a pretty fair ball game, with the parents winning 48 to Buck Fleming led the parents with 15 points. Others playing were Lewis Rooker 12, Jack Wilson 6, Claiborne Aycock 2, Clinton Capps 6, Bobby Fleming 2, Carl Fleming 6. Billy Fleming and Sidney Fleming, filling out the teacher's ranks, led the scoring for the teachers with 12 points each. Others playing were Jimmy Webb 7, Bernard Thompson 2, Fate King 2, Mr. Stegall 4.

Coaches for the women teachers were Sandra Wood, Gail Fleming and Sarah Wood. Mr. Chandler coached the men teachers. Officials were Allan Hob-
