Friday Night Concert Was Definite Success

The concert given in the Norlina gym last Friday evening by Miss Irene Weldon and Fletcher Wolfe was declared to have been an overwhelming success by the sponsoring organizations, the three women's clubs of Norlina.

Mrs. Jeanette Robinson, the accompanist from Atlanta, Ga., added much to the program, one of the sponsors commented yesterday. She added that Miss Weldon and Mr. Wolfe charmed their audience with selections from Le Nozze di Figaro, by Mozart, and opera by Handel, Debussy, Brahms and Leoncavallo.

Approximately 400 guests attended from Norlina, Warrenton, Henderson, Macon, Raleigh, Chapel Hill and South Hill, Va.

Following the concert a reception was held in the gymnasium to meet the performers and their parents. Mrs. A. S. Wyckoff, president of the Literature and Music Club, Mrs. George Stultz, Jr., president of the Norlina Woman's Club and Mrs. Owen Robertson, Jr., president of the Junior Woman's Club, and Mayor and Mrs. Graham Grissom of Norlina also received the guests.

The three women's clubs had sponsored the concert to pay tribute to Miss Weldon and Mr. Wolfe, natives of Norlina, and in order that the people of Warren County would have an opportunity to hear these two fine artists perform.

MRS. RICHARD PERRY IVEY

Miss Norvell Weds Richard Perry Ivey

Miss Nancy Jean Norvell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eugene Norvell, was married Sunday to Mr. Richard Perry Ivey, son of Mrs. Helen Ivey Hardee of Rocky Mount, N. C., and the late Mr. Linwood Ray Ivey of Norlina. The Rev. R. Bruce Pateperformed the ceremony at the Norlina Methodist Church,

Norlina, N. C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a portrait gown of French silk organza. The scalloped neckline and elbow length sleeves were of alencon lace. The wateau train of matching alencon lace was attached to the gown by an organza bow. Her tiered veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a cabbage rose of peau de soie with lace appliques and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white orchids and valley lilies.

Mrs. Glenn Weldon of Norlina, organist, rendered traditional wedding music and Mrs. Walter Newman of Norlina sang "Because," "At Lawning" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Miss Brenda Riggan was the bride's maid-of-honor. Her dress was of pastel blue brocade taffeta with an empire waistline, short sleeves, round neckline and knee-length

A-line skirt. On her head she wore a matching bow attached to tulle. She carried a cascade of mixed spring flowers. Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Perkinson and Miss Claude Ivey of Rocky Mount, sister of the bride-groom. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Peggy Rodwell of Warrenton, cousin of the bride. Their dresses were identical to that of the maid-of-honor being in pastel shades of pink, yellow and green. They each carried colonial bouquets of mixed spring flowers.

Honorary bridesmaids were the Misses Sharon Lund and Donna Bryan of Rocky Mount, Linda Suggs of Elizabethtown, Ann Mitchell and Sandra Holoman of Aleshie, Dot Pegram of Middleburg, Karney Faulk of Norlina and Barbara Hawks.

They each carried a single long stemmed carnation.

Johnny Johnson of Charlotte, cousin of the groom, was best man and ushers were John Freddie Perkinson, brother of the bride, Charles White of Warrenton, cousin of the bride, and Charles Hayes of Norlina.

The bride's mother wore a dress of ice blue nylon jersey with cap sleeves and accordin pleated skirt. Her hat was of matching jersey and accessories were dyed to match. She wore a purple orchid.

The bridegroom's mother wore a sheath dress of celery green imported silk wool with short sleeves and round neckline. Her tulle hat and other accessories were dyed to match. She wore a purple orchid.

Mrs. Ivey is a graduate of Norlina High School and attended Hardbarger Business College in Raleigh. Her husband is a graduate of Norlina High School and is now serving in the U. S. Air Force, stationed at Warner Robins, Ga., where they will make their home after a wedding trip through the mountains of Virginia.
