Members Discuss Trip At Drewry 4-H Meet

The Drewry Community 4-H Club met on Monday night with Randy Curtis presiding in the absence of the president. Dawn Curtis and Paula Fleming led the group in the pledges, and Nancy Mitchell gave the devotional.

After the roll call and minutes of the last meeting, each member recounted three things they saw on their recent tour to Williamsburg, Jamestown and Yorktown. Some of these were:

Crossing James River on the ferry; seeing a movie on the history of Jamestown, visiting the glass blowing pavilion and the museum; seeing a movie at Williamsburg, "The Story of A Patriot." In Williamsburg we saw the capitol, Governor's Palace, Raleigh Tavern, the Spinning and Weaving House and silversmith making spoons. In Yorktown we saw a movie "The History of Yorktown." We visited the museum and saw the tent Washington slept in, the historic battleground and the Moore House where representatives of General Washington and Cornwallis met to arrange terms of the British surrender.

History stepped out of the class room and came to life for these 4-H'ers who toured these historic places.

Mrs. C. B. Curtis, Jr., gave a most interesting program on "Sewing and Sewing Gadgets" to the girls. C. B. Curtis, Jr., gave a program on "Motors and How They Work" to the boys.

After the program, Mrs. Eugene Wilson served lime punch and cookies to the 10 members present.—Darlene Paschall, Reporter.
