FASHIONS

Each season fashions always seem to be a popular topic of conversation and the present season is no exception. Clothes for spring, 1968, show designers assembling parts, pattern and colors for the great new "put-together" look.

Silhouette, color, and accessories all interplay to create today's fashion mood. There is something suitable for every figure, every age, every personality. It's a time for individual expression.

The Prettygirl look seems to sum up what is in store for spring/summer, 1968.

The Romantic Shape—done much closer-to-the-body.

The Romantic Touch—done with fluted cuffs and hemlines.

The Romantic Fabric—done with delicate prints right out of a Victorian picture book, lots of flowers, frills and lace.

This is just a way of saying that the fashions will be more feminine this spring.

SILHOUETTE: Silhouettes are gently shaped close to the body with the basic shape being FIT AND FLARE. The garment is fitted at the bodice and flared at the hemline. The LOOK OF THE 30'S will be very prevalent in the spring fashion—the look of softness and femininity. With it is a comeback for the waist often fitted and narrow at the shoulders flowing into softer looking skirts that swing because they are pleated, gathered or slightly flared.

BLOUSES: There will be a big comeback of the BLOUSE OR SHIRT, fitted and feminine. Many will have high bands of lace at the throat; fitting close under the chin. Lace, ruffles, embroidery and jabots may be found on the blouses. All this has called for a return of the stick pins, bar pins, and antique broaches.

SUITS: Suits for spring will have a softened effect. Coordinated with blouses or vests. These suits show a new kind of relaxed femininity with the dirndl skirt, the pleated or slightly flared skirt. The jackets may be long or short.

COLLAR: The Cadet collar is the newest type of collar on jackets. You will also see the Buster Brown collar as a fashion item.

VEST SUIT: Vest, shirt and skirt are making a grand entrance this spring in the form of the VEST SUIT. This is an ideal way to tie the blouse and skirt together into the COOL CHIC look (pulled together look).

CAPE: The cape, capelet, and gathered cape will be fashion news. In some, there will be flare over flare in the little capes over miniskirts.

SHIRT SHIRTS: Shirt shirts and skimmers continue to be a favorite of girls with other than perfect figures. These are great for casual or dress-up occasions. A bright scarf at the neckline adds interest to this near-classic style.

HEMLINES: The skirts will continue to be short for spring. Casual skirts are worn three inches above the knee only if the legs are slim. These are best left for the younger set. The "midi" length (mid-calf) will reappear mainly in evening or at-home clothes. Some designers show them 10 to 12 inches from the floor or about 5 inches below the knee. Hemlines on women's daytime clothes will remain above the knee for a while longer. It is predicted that by fall, they will drop a little. Don't panic. The drop will not be enough to create havoc with the clothes in your current wardrobe.

Arcola 4-H Club Meets At Clubhouse

The Arcola 4-H Club met at the Arcola clubhouse on Monday at 7:30 p. m. Mike Callihan, president presided.

Robin Capps, secretary and treasurer, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Clinton Capps, adult 4-H leader, gave the members their project sheets.

The members visited Mr. Bobby Barlow who showed them his dogs and talked about dog training.

Mrs. Carl Fleming served refreshments at the Arcola clubhouse. -Lynn Capps, Reporter.
