Cancer Crusade To Start

The American Cancer Society will launch its 1968 educational and fund-raising crusade the week of April 21-27, Mrs. Irene Dickerson, Warren County Crusade chairman, announced yesterday. Emphasis will be on cancer's seven warning signals.

Mrs. Dickerson said the Crusade will focus attention on the fact that too many people are not familiar with early signs that could indicate cancer. Familiarity with these signs, yet simple warning signals that could mean the presence of cancer, she said, could alert one to an early diagnosis when cancer is in its most curable stage.

The seven warning signals, Mrs. Dickerson said, are: (1) Unusual bleeding or discharge; (2) a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; (3) a sore that does not heal; (4) change in bowel or bladder habits; (5) hoarseness or cough; (6) indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; (7) any change in a wart or mole.

Crusade volunteers for various areas in Warren County are listed as follows: Warrenton—members of the Warrenton Woman's Club; Oakville—Mrs. V. R. Vaughan; Macon—Mrs. William Wilson; Wise—Mrs. Joe Riggan; Embro—Mrs. Joe Greer; Norlina—Mrs. Clint Hege; Warren Plains—Miss Gwen Allen; Vaughan—Mrs. Russell Sauser; Aton—Elberon—Miss Sandra Munn; Warrenton—Norlina Road—Mrs. Archie Ayscue; Harristown Road—Mrs. Vance Robertson; Churchill—Miss Loretta Lynch.

Pegram Is Appointed Middleburg Principal

HENDERSON — Ralph Pegram, who has been principal of Townsville High School for several years, has been elected principal of Middleburg High School by the Vance County Board of Education.

At Middleburg Pegram succeeds E. O. Young, Jr., who recently was designated principal of the new Vance county rural high school, which will be activated with the beginning of the fall term in September. Pegram's successor at Townsville was not immediately elected, but will be named well in advance of the start of the fall term.

Young has been principal at Middleburg for some thirty years. As head of the new rural high school, he will have the largest school in rural Vance county.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kilian, Sr., of Ridgeway were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kilian, Jr., of Williamson at Holiday Inn in Henderson on Saturday night.

Mr. Daniel E. Robertson of Vienna, Va., spent the weekend at home.

Students Initiated Into Local Beta Club

The John Graham Chapter of the National Beta Club presented a program before the student body on Thursday, April 11. Ann Duncan, Beta Club president, is in charge.

Other members participating in the program were Paul Whitley, Laura Turner, Ellen Mustian, Sandra Copley, Bob Rodwell, and Isabel Williams. They spoke on eight Beta virtues.

The highlight of the program was the induction of new members by a formal tapping ceremony. The club received eight new members: Linda King, Dianne Pennell, Irene Bowen, Lisa Coleman, Myra Johnson, Scoggin Jones, Dianne Tharrington and Ellen Twitty.

A special presentation was made by Paul Whitley to Mrs. Frank Banzet who was made an honorary member for years of devoted service as a Beta sponsor.

Calf Show And Sale To Be Held At Warrenton Today

Long Rites Held Here On Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Rosa Heath Long, 78, widow of W. Lunsford Long, were conducted at Emmanuel Episcopal Church at 11:30 a. m. Friday by the Rev. Robert W. Orvis. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Long died Wednesday, April 10, in Roanoke Rapids at the Guardian Care Nursing Facility. She was born July 11, 1889, in Petersburg, Va., the daughter of Rosa Gilmour Arrington and Tarlton Fleming Heath and the granddaughter of Hannah Bolton White and Samuel P. Arrington of Petersburg and Warrenton. She lived in Roanoke Rapids and Raleigh before coming to Warrenton to make her home.

Mrs. Long attended St. Mary's School in Raleigh after finishing at Southern Female Academy in Petersburg, Va. In Warrenton she took an active part in her church and in the re-activating of the Warrenton Garden Club and was interested in the Historical Society and all the town's community life. She was a member of the North Carolina Society of Colonial Dames.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James P. Beckwith of Warrenton and Mrs. Peter P. Williams of Raleigh; and nine grandchildren, including Ensign Peter P. Williams, Jr., stationed with the U. S. Navy in the Pacific.

Pallbearers were W. Lunsford Long, Walker A. Long, Tarlton H. Long, James P. Beckwith, Jr., and Mason L. Williams, grandsons; and S. Stevens Sands, Jr., and V. Ware Smith, grandsons-in-law.

The nine schools, which will participate in the contest are: Merrick-Moore High School, Durham; Central High School, Hillsboro; Hillside High School, Durham; Roxboro High School, Roxboro; Hawkins High School, Warrenton; Person-Albion High School, Franklinton; Caswell County High School, Yanceyville; Jordan-Sellers High School, Burlington; Central High School, Graham.

Exum said that the public is cordially invited to attend the contest.

CORRECTION

An advt. in last week's paper, advocating the candidacy of Dr. A. Craig Phillips for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, bore the signature of J. Roger Peeler in display type through an error in this office. To meet legal requirements, this advt. should have borne in small type the words: "This advt. paid for by J. Roger Peeler. This paper regrets any embarrassment that may have been caused Mr. Peeler by the unnecessarily large display of his name."

Food Program To Be Continued In County

The Commodity Food Program, in effect here since January, will be continued through May and June, Amos L. Capps, chairman of the Warren County Board of County Commissioners, said yesterday.

The commissioners had decided to terminate the program at the end of the April distribution period, but Capps said that apparent need was the reason for extending the program through June. He said that prospects for the Food Stamp program being started in July appears to be good.

Capps said that no new certification will be necessary, but that if any persons have destroyed their cards under the impression that the program was over they should call by the Welfare Department for another card.

Persons applying for commodity food should apply on the same day of the week on which they previously applied, Capps said.

White And Blue Speakers At Scott Dinner Saturday

State Senator Thomas J. White of Lenoir County and former House Speaker Clifton Blue of Moore County will be the featured speakers at a political rally to be staged at the Warren County Armory in Warrenton on Saturday night by supporters of Lt. Governor Bob Scott in his campaign for Governor.

Advance ticket sales indicate a large crowd of several hundred persons will attend to enjoy a barbeque and Brunswick stew dinner while listening to live organ music and the campaign speeches. The announcement came this week from C. Brantley Overby, well known local automobile salesman and chairman of the Scott finance committee in Warren County. The dinner will get underway at 6:30 p. m.

Senator White, a Kinston attorney, is a veteran North Carolina Legislator having served in both the House and Senate since 1953 and for the past six consecutive years has been Chairman of the Governor's Advisory Budget Commission which is considered by many to be the most powerful political position outside the Governor's office.

Cliff Blue, a seventeen year veteran of the N. C. House of Representatives, is also publisher of two newspapers, The Sandhill Citizen of Aberdeen and The Robbins Record of Robbins. He became Speaker of the House in 1963 and ran for Lieutenant Governor in 1964, losing in a close race. Ironically, his opponent in the Democratic Primary was Bob Scott who went on to win handily in the general election by leading the state ticket with over 815,000 votes.

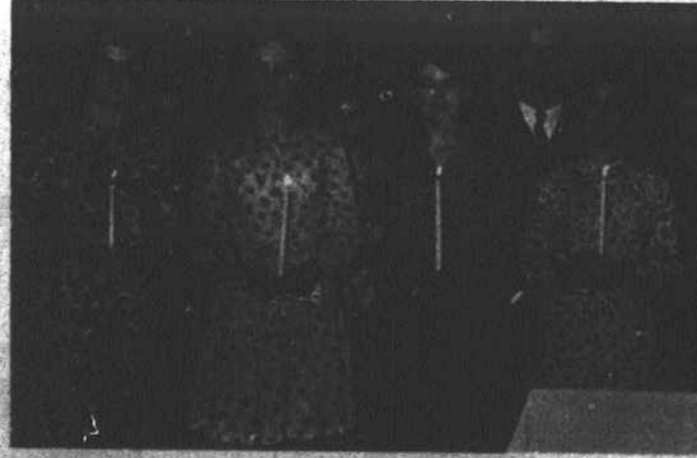

Charge of non-support. The court recommended that he be placed on work release.

Hugh Davis was sentenced to the roads for 60 days when he pled guilty to charges of drunk driving and failing to drive on right of road. The sentence was suspended for two years provided the defendant does not violate any of the criminal laws of the state for two years, remain of good behavior and pays a fine of $100 and court costs.

Herley Fimmel Moss pled guilty to charges of having an improper muffler, improper registration, no insurance and no inspection insurance. Prayer for judgment was continued until Nov. 29, 1968, upon condition the defendant not operate his motor vehicle until same is properly licensed therefor, properly insured, and properly inspected, and pays a fine of $25 and court costs.

Elijah Shearin pled guilty to a charge of drunk driving. He was ordered to pay a $100 fine and court costs.

Sam Harris was ordered to (See COURT, page 8)
