

Sheriff Clarence Davis and two helpers are shown pouring captured moonshine whiskey down a drain in the Warren County jail yard. Sheriff Davis said yesterday that the whiskey had no connection with the big still captured on Monday of last week at the old Wallace Paschall home at Paschall. He said local and federal officers are still investigating the still operation at Paschall.

Officers Capture Whiskey And Car

Nine-five gallons of moonshine whiskey was poured down the drain at the Warren County jail under the direction of Sheriff Clarence Davis on Wednesday morning of last week.

The booze and a 1956 Chrysler car were captured by Highway Patrolman V. R. Vaughan and Deputy Sheriff Bonnie Stevenson around 8:30 o'clock the previous night between Park Town and Romeo Powell's car.

The driver of the car escaped. Deputy Stevenson said yesterday that he and Patrolman Vaughan were returning from Inez when they noticed a car ahead of them, on the road between the Powell Store and Park Town, appearing to be weighted down in the rear. As the patrolman sounded his siren and put on his blue light, the driver of the car in front of them speeded up, and out in the yard at the home of Lizzie and Nat Bullock. Driving through the yard, and with the car still rolling, the driver jumped out and disappeared in the nearby woods.

Stevenson said that the car was registered to Bobby Ray Scott of Route 2, Henderson. The license plate had been issued to C. McLean Rogers of Creedmoor. Stevenson said it is believed that the license plate had been stolen.

Ninety-Six Register In Little League

Ninety-six boys came out last Thursday to register for the regular division of Little League Baseball, Howard Oakley, secretary, announced yesterday.

This division is for boys nine through twelve and they will compete for positions on the four regular division teams. Each team is limited to 15 players, and those who do not make the regular team will be assigned to the minor divisions where the two teams will play their games on Fridays.

The registration for the senior division on Saturday was marred by rain, Oakley said. This kept some boys away for they did not know if it would be called off. He said there were a lot of new faces that did not come out, in fact, nearly enough to fill the vacancies created by the boys of last year who are too old this year.

Oakley said that to be sure that every one who wants to play has the opportunity to do so, the boys who did not register last Saturday can contact one of the coaches or his assistant coach. He will register the applicant and make arrangements for him to be assigned to a team.

The teams, coaches and assistants are:

Calf Show And Sale To Be Held Here Next Thursday

P. B. Boyd, Roy Pat Robertson and Clinton Capps look on as Laura Bender puts her calf through its paces at last year's Junior Livestock Show and Sale.

Show To Begin At 2:15 P. M.

The Warren County Junior Livestock Show and sale will be held on Thursday, April 17, at the Lions arena on the fairgrounds, Jim D. Hemmings, Associate Agricultural Extension Agent, announced yesterday. The livestock show will start at 2:15 p. m. and the sale will be held at 3:30 p. m.

The show and sale this year is being sponsored by the Warren County Livestock Committee in cooperation with the Warren County Extension Service.

Calves in the year's event will be shown by Laura Bender, Steve Bender, Elwood J. Burgess, L. C. Cooper, Jr., Philip Fleming, Valerie Fleming, Gary Limer, Delaine Meek, Mary Leigh Meek, Tom Skinner, Floyd Williams and Harry Williams, III.

Much work has gone into planning and putting on the year's show, according to A. L. (Bud) Meek, chairman of the livestock show and sale committee. He said that there are 12 beef calves entered in the show and sale competition and that all the calves are looking good. He urges all the exhibitors to groom and train their animals early so they will be easy to handle by showtime. The calves will be weighed at the Norlina stock yard from 12 to 1 p. m. on Thursday, April 17.

Between $150 and $200 will be awarded in individual prize money, plus ribbons and trophies to the junior livestock exhibitors.

Hemmings said that the Warren County Livestock Committee and the Warren County Extension Service acknowledges with grateful appreciation the splendid cooperation and assistance by the many firms, institutions and business establishments whose representatives, facilities and services have been contributing factors to the success of the Warren County Livestock Show and Sale.

Warren County 4-H Members Take Top Honors In District

Warren County 4-H members won first place in thirteen projects in East Central District competition, according to announcement made last week by the State 4-H Club office.

Miss Emily Ballinger, 4-H leader, said that this number, for the second consecutive year, topped the list won by any one county in the district. A total of 40 winners were announced by the East Central District.

The Warren County winners and the areas in which they won first place were:

Arlene Bender, Citizenship (girl) and Recreation; Sidney Fleming, Jr., Dairy and Tobacco (blue - cured); Linda Holtzman, Food-Nutrition and Dog Care and Training; Phillip Fleming, Poultry and Field Crops; Gwendolyn Davis, Home Management; Ruby Leigh Traylor, III, Home Grounds Beautification; Edward Tunstall, Safety; Laura Bender, Communications; and Richard Holtzman, Jr., Wildlife.

Miss Ballinger said yesterday that much credit goes to the 4-H Club members who completed these projects and compiled their long time records. They have accomplished much through their participation in these projects, she said. The community 4-H leaders and parents, she added, are to be commended for the leadership and support they have given these club members. "It is through the cooperation of 4-H Club members, 4-H leaders and parents that outstanding accomplishments are made in the 4-H Club program," Miss Ballinger said.

Thompson Is Hospital Administrator

W. Bernard Thompson, a retired Army Colonel, has been appointed administrator of Warren General Hospital by the board of trustees.

Thompson, who began his new duties on April 3, succeeds Sherrill Harris who resigned to accept a position as controller with Moore Memorial Hospital in Pinehurst.

Thompson, the son of Mrs. H. W. Thompson of Macon, retired from the Army with the rank of Colonel in March, 1961. Prior to his acceptance as the position of hospital administrator, he had been manager of Warren Recreation Club since it opened on July 1, 1967.

He was graduated from Macon High School and Army Service Schools, including Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Thompson is married to the former Miss Anita Anderson of Lawton, Okla. They have five children, Louis, Robert, Susan, Paul and Teresa.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson make their home in Macon.
