No Action On School Ruling Until Consultation With Board

The Town of Warrenton will not make an official decision on whether to appeal a District Federal Court ruling declaring a Legislative Act creating Warrenton as a special school district unconstitutional before conferring with the City School Board.

This was decided at a four and a half hour meeting of the town commissioners on Monday

Commissioner Aaron Allen made a motion that legal fees expended for the district school at Warrenton be discontinued "tonight;" that tax funds collected for the school be returned in full to the taxpayers; and that any legal expenses incurred in the matter of the city school be paid for by a levy in the 1970-71 budget.

The motion was seconded by Commissioner Thomas Gaskill. Each member of the board was polled and the results were Allen and Gaskill voting in favor and Clayton, White, Powell, Fair and Haithcock voting

Following the defeat of Allen's motion, Commissioner Gordon Haithcock motioned that the board meet with the city school board before making any decision. The motion was seconded by A. C. Fair. On a polled vote, only Allen opposed the motion.

Following the passage of this motion,' Mayor W. A. Miles told the commissioners that he would contact Dr. S. H. Massey, Jr., chairman of the city school board, and set up a meeting of the two boards next Monday

School's Top Honor

CHRISTCHURCH, VA.-John Boyd David, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Davis of Warrenton, North Carolina, received the "Bishop's Award", Christchurch School's top honor for a graduate, for 1970. In presenting the award to John Boyd Davis at the final exercises, June 6, Headmaster Yarbrough outlined these considerations in the faculty voting:

"To the member of the graduating class who in the opinion of the faculty has made the most valuable contribution to the life of the school. In selecting the recipient, judgment is based on the student's overall citizenship, his general example and influence for higher standards, trust-worthiness, scholastic effort and responsibility, with special emphasis upon Christian leadership."

This year John Boyd Davis has served with distinction as a student monitor and he was a loyal choir member and participant in the school's athletic program. For his higher education, John Boyd plans to attend the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. "The Seahorse" salutes this latest Bishop's Award winner whose picture will be placed among the group of forty-one distinguished alumni receiving the award in prior years.

All members were nominated by Commissioner A. J. Ellington and approved by Commissioners John Wilson and Rob-Thorne. Commissioner Richard R. Warren Rescue Squad. The commissioners ordered that money allocated to County Road No. 1109, known as the 'Read Road'', be deleted from the 1969-70 road program and used for another location, after they had been assured that it was impossible to secure the right-of-way for the "Read Road."

Mrs. Louise Champion of Durham appeared before the board to request adjustment of tax value on the J. Roy Devine property in Norlina, which she described as not rentable and not insurable. Told that the time for review of tax values had expired for the year, she said she hoped it could be changed for next year.

This represents a decrease in population of 3,887 since. the census was taken in 1960, and a loss of 8,247 since 1950, when the county's population numbered 23,539.

The preliminary figures were released by District Manager Donald R. Payne who supervised the taking of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing in this area.

The preliminary figures also showed that Halifax, Nash and Franklin Counties had a decline in population, with Vance County showing a slight increase. Population figures for Northampton County, which joins Warren, were not available to this newspaper.

Halifax County's population loss was more than 5,000 the exact figures not being available. Franklin's loss was 2,452; and Nash's loss was 3,769. The city of Henderson gained 1,150, which was responsible for a total gain in Vance County of 536.

The Census Bureau will commence in the fall of 1970 to publish official population figures for all areas in the United States-states, counties, cities, towns and villages. The population projection of 1963 predicted that the population of Warren County would be 15,730 in 1970. The projection was made for all the counties of the state by Josef H. Perry, Division of Community Planning, and Dr. C. Horace Hamilton, North Carolina State University.

At the time of making the projection, the authors stated that projected figures for both 1970 and 1980 could be expected if the trend then in effect continued. Preliminary figures show that the actual population of 15,292 is 438 less than the projected population of 17,730. The projected population for 1980 is 12,370.
