New Furniture Opening In Henderson Today

GOODYEAR

NEAL

Schewel's Furniture Company, which operates retail establishments in North Carolina and Virginia, will unveil its most modern store today (Thursday) during a grand opening at the firm's Henderson location.

Schewel will provide free gifts for the first 1,000 customers, and registration will be conducted for more than $3,000 in prizes.

The Henderson store features more than 13,000 square feet of merchandise, and is located at the intersection of Dabney Drive and U. S. 158 Bypass just west of Henderson.

The store will have at least two Warren County natives in its employ when doors open at 10 a. m. today.

Roy Neal, a former furniture company employee with 16 years experience, has joined the new firm as a salesman, and has issued an invitation to his friends and customers to see him at the new company.

Also extending an invitation has been Randy Goodyear, Warren resident who is associated with the firm's delivery section.

BUILDING BUSINESS

ACROSS MOST BUSINESSES lies the shadow of an individual. It may be that of the founder, a loyal employee, a farsighted executive. It is the shadow of the man who had the courage to build well.

VISION, FORESIGHT, ABILITY... all are familiar terms in the descriptions of these men. They are the characteristics looked upon as inherent in an individual, as gifts with which he is endowed.

YET BACK OF each successful business, another influence is often found. Its presence is less apparent, perhaps... but its effects are sometimes more pronounced. It is the influence of a good bank. And the characteristics of a good bank must parallel those of the individual. The bank must be possessed of vision, foresight, and courage. And it must have character, integrity, sound judgment.

OF THE SOUND business enterprises of a community, of the individuals responsible for them, of the continued growth of business, a good bank can be proud. Such pride is our most prized possession.

The Services of This Bank Are Not Limited to Larger Enterprises. We Welcome the Problems of the Small Business As Well.

after it had burned over about five acres. Most of this was on Stamper's farm, but adjoining property of Mrs. Kate Harris of Warrenton was also burned. Ernest Turner said none of his adjoining land was burned.

Firemen were kept busy during the past week fighting a number of brush fires, and one call that was reported because of a malfunctioning heating system.

The latter, which occurred at the Parsonage of the Pentecostal Holiness Church occurred at 9:25 p. m. Sunday. No damage was reported.

Appreciable damage was also prevented as firemen responded to a grass fire at 6:30 p. m. February 18 at the Cooper residence in the Perrytown Community.

A woods fire reported on the Larry Short property shortly after noon Tuesday was quickly brought under control, as was a leaf and grass fire reported at 6:40 p. m. the same day on property of George Walton on Rt. 1, Warrenton.

Norlina Outlet Is Moving Here

The Family Shop, an outlet store, has moved into the store occupied for some 30 years by the Polk-A-Dot Gift Shop and is expected to open formally within a few days, according to Robert Jenkins, owner.

Jenkins moved the shop from Norlina several days ago. At Norlina he had operated the store from a trailer on the Norlina-Warrenton highway for about six months.

Jenkins said the store here as well as his stores at Littleton and Roanoke Rapids would serve as clothing outlet for factories.

He and Mrs. Jenkins and their daughter are making their home in Macon.
