

Schedule Outlined For School Year

By HELEN HOWARD
Warren County School Superintendent J. R. Peeler has released the schedule for the opening day of school for county schools.

Tuesday, August 30, will be orientation day in each of the schools. Students will report to the schools at 8:30 a. m. and leave at 11:30 a. m. No lunches will be served this day.

The first full day of classes will be September 6 with elementary students attending from 8:30 a. m. until 2:30 p. m. and junior high and high school students attending from 8:30 a. m. until 3 p. m. This time difference is the same as last year.

Principals of the various schools in the county have released schedules for students on registration day, August 30, as follows:

John Graham - homeroom listings will be posted at the entrances and students will report to the proper homeroom.

Norlina High - homeroom assignments will be posted on the respective homeroom doors and students will report to the proper homeroom.

North Warren - grades 4-6 will report to the cafeteria; homerooms for junior high (grades 7 and 8) will be posted in the junior high building.

Hawkins - students report to the gymnasium; homeroom assignments will be made in gym and then students will report to proper homeroom.

Mariam Boyd - students enrolled in the school last year will report to the room they had last year while beginners and new students will report to the cafeteria for assignments.

Northside - students are assigned bus rooms according to the bus they ride then taken to the proper homeroom.

Principal Henry L. Green urged parents to let children ride the bus on the first day so proper bus routing can be made. He added that parents may come to the school by car and take the child home but to please put the children on the buses in the morning.

South Warren - kindergarten and first grades report to the E.S.E.A. building; 2-6 grades report to the auditorium for homeroom assignments.

Orientation is designed to give students a chance to meet with teachers and become familiar with their schedules.

Bus routes will be about the same as last year unless a need to change them is found.

New Teachers Arrive

Warren County teachers begin their school year today (Thursday) as work days and meetings are planned in preparation for the opening of schools on August 30.

Superintendent J. R. Peeler revealed the names of new teachers employed for the school system this year as follows:

Margaret A. Phillips, librarian at South Warren Elementary School. A graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, she has seven years experience and has worked in Norlina. She is from Louisiana.

Fonda C. White will teach special education at South Warren. A Durham native, she is a graduate of North Carolina Central University and this is her first year as a teacher.

Elizabeth M. Traylor will teach kindergarten at South Warren. The Warrenton native has taught at Warren Academy for eight years and graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Diane B. Davis will teach fourth and fifth grade combination at Mariam Boyd Elementary School. A graduate of East Carolina University, she has taught at Warren Academy and is originally from Raleigh but now living in Warrenton.

Sammie J. Wilder will be the county speech clinician. A graduate of East Carolina University, she begins her first year teaching. She is from Raleigh.

Johnnie O. Williams will teach math and science at Hawkins Junior High School. The Henderson native graduated from Fayetteville State University and begins his first teaching assignment.

Gloria L. Allen, a graduate of A & T University in Greensboro, will teach second grade at Mariam Boyd. She is from Warren County and this is her first year as a teacher.

Audrey S. Davis will be the reading instructor at North Warren Middle School. The Warren County native graduated from North Carolina Central University and has three years of teaching experience in Maryland.

Debra L. Ferruccio is the reading teacher at Norlina. A graduate of Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, the Ohio native has one year teaching experience. She now lives in Warren County.

James N. Robertson will replace Jerry Willard as social studies teacher at John Graham High School. He is a graduate of Appalachian University and taught at Lees McCrae Junior College for one year. He is a native of Rt. 2, Henderson.

Janest B. Honeycutt has been assigned as reading teacher at Norlina. The East Carolina University graduate, a native of Ayden, will begin her first year of teaching.

Jane L. Alston will be the special education teacher at North Warren. This is the first year of teaching for the Greenville girl who graduated from East Carolina University.

Jail Custodian Wants More Trash Pickup, Jury Reports

The custodian of the Warren County Jail wants garbage in the jail picked up three times a week instead of once, according to a Grand Jury Report submitted on Monday afternoon to Judge Edwin

Warren Resident In Line For Post

Mrs. Eva Clayton, chairman of the Warren County Democratic Party, is expected to be named to a high-level state post later this week.

The Warren Record has learned that Mrs. Clayton is under strong consideration to become an under secretary to Howard Lee, head of the Department of Natural and Economic Resources.

Governor Jim Hunt is expected to make the announcement of Mrs. Clayton's selection later this week.

Mrs. Clayton is the wife of Warrenton attorney T. T. Clayton. They make their home on Lake Gaston.

Violent winds, or perhaps a small tornado, twisted this old oak in the front yard of the home formerly occupied by the late Sam Allen at Axtelle. The strong gusts flipped over the trailer below several miles to the east of the old Allen homeplace. (Staff Photos)

Trailer, Trees Are Listed Among Windstorm Victims

A torrential downpour on Monday afternoon came too late to help the corn crops but tobacco and grains welcomed the water. The late afternoon rains have turned everything green again. But some crops are too far gone. The county has already been declared a disaster area.

Grass, soybeans and pasture land was turning green again following rains during the week and Fishing Creek, a major source of Warrenton's water supply, was filling fast on Tuesday.

Another severe wind storm struck in the county on Friday afternoon following one which caused considerable damage in the Ridgeway-Manson section on Sunday night. About 3 p. m. on Friday the high winds cut a path along the Warrenton-Henderson highway just east of Greenwood Village.

A trailer belonging to Wilbur Jones of Rt. 2, Warrenton, was overturned, landing on the top. Jones was not at home at the time.

Miss Ethel Jones, next door neighbor, said she heard the lightning and thunder and looked out the window. She said she couldn't see her neighbor's house 60 feet away and branches were flying across the road. Then she noticed the trailer upside down, she said.

Huge oak trees were uprooted by the winds. One pine tree fell on a house occupied by Mrs. Viola Davis. The tree did not break through the roof but caused slight damage to the roof. While falling the tree struck power lines but no loss of power was reported.

Limbs and debris from the wind storm continued along Paved Road 1116 toward the Afton-Elberon community. Tobacco and corn along the path were pulled up by the roots and bowled over.

No estimate of damages to the trailer, house or crops had been determined early this week.

Million-Dollar Pledge Is Made For Soul City

The South-Southwest Regional Meeting of the American Association of Minority Enterprise Small Business Investment Companies (MESBIC) at its closing session at Soul City on Friday, August 12, pledged a minimum of one million dollars as its goal for venture capital for the Soul City new town.

According to James F. Hansley, Conference spokesman, the American Association of MESBICS represents some eighty-seven MESBICS whose venture capital resources exceed 100 million dollars. Hansley stated the purpose of MESBICS is to "provide equity capital to small business persons who are socially and economically disadvantaged."

Soul City hosted the three day conference, August 10-12, which brought together leading MESBICS throughout the region and nation to discuss major issues facing the venture capital industry.

Speakers at the conference included Philip T. Drotning, Director of Social Policy, Standard Oil Company (Indiana); Michael Lacagnina, Purchasing Director, Westinghouse Turbine Components; and Clarence Bishop, Senior Legislative Aide to Congressman Parren J. Mitchell.

The million dollar pledge will boost Soul City's efforts to recruit industries to the area. Floyd B. McKissick, developer of Soul City, said Monday "this pledge will definitely help our recruitment of industry because it will allow us to offer financial assistance to firms interested in locating at Soul City."

MESBICS supporting the million dollar pledge were AMOCO Venture (Continued on page 8)

Option Taken For Property For New Health Facility

A two-year option on a tract of land in Soul City was purchased Monday afternoon by HealthCo officials. The land was purchased through a donation by New York Life Insurance Company via the Soul City Foundation, Hubert Avent, health director, said Tuesday morning.

The 1.38 acre-tract will be used as the site of a 5,300-square-foot facility for HealthCo, which is now

Two Young Warren Men Die In Auto Crash

Road Deaths In Warren Number 12

Herman Lee Hampton and Harvey Boyd, both 18-year-old residents of Rt. 2, Warrenton, were fatally injured Sunday night in an automobile accident on Rural Paved Road 1116 about 6:20 p.m. The deaths brought to 12 the number of road fatalities recorded in Warren County this year.

According to Highway Patrolman V. R. Vaughan, Hampton was driving the vehicle at the time of the accident. The wreck occurred on a cut-off road between the Warrenton-Henderson Highway and Highway 401 near Afton. Vaughan said his investigation revealed that the car skidded, went off the right of the roadway down a slight embankment, hit a mailbox and overturned at least twice. The impact threw both Hampton and Boyd from the vehicle.

Hampton was pronounced dead at the scene and Boyd died at Duke Hospital around 10 p. m. Sunday. A passenger, David King Kearney, 14, also of Rt. 2, Warrenton, was injured and transferred to Duke Hospital from Warren General Hospital.

The trooper said he believed another passenger to be in the car but had left the scene before he arrived.

The 1971 Chevrolet was declared a total loss.

Small Car Proves No Match For Rigs

A small MG could not measure up to two tractor-trailers on Interstate 85 last Thursday.

According to the Highway Patrol, Cleophus Coleman of Washington, D. C., was driving a 1975 MG in the northbound lane of I-85 about one and a half miles from the Oine Road about 12:50 a. m. when he ran into the rear of a tractor-trailer driven by John E. Beckham of Charlotte.

The automobile bounced off, went into a skid and was hit by another tractor-trailer operated by John W. Sanders of Greenwood, S. C. The impact caused the small foreign car to flip over.

The drivers of the tractor-trailers and other passersby turned the vehicle over and removed the injured occupants.

According to Patrolman William Palmer, Coleman and a passenger, Bobbie Joe Henry of Meridan, Miss., were transported to (Continued on page 7)

This is the car in which two Warren County young men were fatally injured Sunday night five miles southwest of Warrenton. The twin fatalities brought to 12 the number of road deaths in Warren this year. (Staff Photo)

Breaking, Entering Cases Occupy Court

Breaking and entering or larceny cases have consumed much of the time during a criminal session of Warren County Superior Court which convened on Monday with Judge Edwin Preston of Raleigh presiding.

A jury trial in which Teen Lynch is charged with selling beer to minors, was in session at press time Wednesday. Other cases disposed of were as follows:

Larry Semedo plead guilty to breaking and entering and larceny and was ordered to the custody of the Department of Correction for five years, suspended and placed on probation for five years on the condition that he pay court costs, attorney fees, $100 restitution to Moses Levister and that he remain of good behavior and not violate any state or federal laws. He was given credit for time served.

Henry Evans was ordered to pay $100 on Monday and $15 each week until September 9 when he will pay $25 per week after pleading guilty of nonsupport. The case was continued until December 12.

Carver Andrew Richardson was found guilty of bastardy and ordered to the Department of Correction for two years, suspended for five years on the condition that he pay court costs and $10 each week for the support and benefit of his minor child and that he remain of good behavior and not violate any state or federal laws and remain gainfully employed.

Keith Michael Edwards plead guilty to driving under the influence and was sentenced to six months in the custody of the Sheriff of Warren County, suspended for 12 months on the condition that he pay court costs and $200 fine and surrender operator's license for 12 months and remain of good behavior and not violate any state or federal laws. A charge of failure to drive the right half of highway was dismissed.

James Alston, Conrad Solomon, Willie Lee Richardson and William Richardson, Jr., plead guilty to larceny as they appeared on charges of breaking and entering and larceny. Each was given five years in the custody of the Department of Correction, as committed youthful offenders, suspended and placed on probation for five years on the condition that they pay court costs, $135 as restitution to Amos L. Capps and remain gainfully employed or in school and remain of good behavior and not violate any state or criminal laws. All of the defendants except James Alston were also ordered to pay attorney fees. The charge of breaking and entering was dismissed for all the defendants.

Voluntary dismissals were granted to James Alston, Conrad Solomon, Willie Lee Richardson, William Richardson, Jr., and Eddie Williams on charges of receiving.

Jim Watson Lynch and Wayne Richardson plead guilty to a charge of receiving and were ordered to five years in the custody of the Department of Correction as a youthful offender; suspended and placed on probation for five years on the condition that they pay costs of court and remain gainfully employed or in school and remain of good behavior.

Eddie Williams, plead guilty to charges of breaking, entering and larceny and was ordered to five years in the custody of the Department of Correction as a youthful offender; suspended and placed on probation for five years on the condition that he pay costs of court and $135 as restitution to Amos L. Capps and remain gainfully employed or in school, remain of good behavior and not violate any state or federal criminal laws during suspension and pay (Continued on page 8)

Warrenton Mart Leaf Prices Rise

Poundage figures and the corresponding revenue figures for sales last week and Tuesday on the Warrenton Tobacco Market were rising slowly and the poundage bought by the Stabilization Cooperative under the price support program was down.

Sales on the market for the three days were 470,551 pounds, which sold for $413,230, an average of $87.81.

The daily sales for last week and Tuesday were as follows:

Monday, August 8 - 134,323 pounds for $109,639, an average of $81.62.

Wednesday, August 10 - 88,130 pounds for $74,394, an average of $84.41.

Tuesday, August 16 - 248,098 pounds for $223,197, an average of $92.38.