Chairman Or Chairperson?

The following article from the July-August issue of Journal Of Extension, was submitted by Emily Ballinger, Home Economics Extension Agent. It reads as follows:

Confusion often exists about what you or others should call the person who presides over a committee or group. Should it be "chairman" or "chairperson?"

The 20th convention of the National Association of Parliamentarians (NAP) in San Francisco passed the following resolution that should help you make a decision:

Whereas, Parliamentary Law has a language all its own; and
 Whereas, In olden times the one presiding was the only person provided with a chair, while others sat on benches, hence he was called the Chairman; and
 Whereas, No parliamentary law authority or dictionary recognizes the word Chairperson; and
 Whereas, Since time immemorial the term "MISTRESS Chairman" or "MADAME Chairman" has always been employed to differentiate between the sexes; and
 Whereas, Further effort toward sex differentiation is redundant and contrived; now therefore be it

Resolved That organizations and parliamentarians of the National Association of Parliamentarians must use the term Chairman instead of "Chairperson" and be it

Resolved That all N.A.P. members should habitually stress the principle that the word Chairman belongs to the title of the office the same as the title of President or Secretary.

TREASURE...Antique dealer shows early Russian silver cigar box, 1865, which will be among items displayed at The National Arts and Antiques Festival in New York City, October 8-16.

EARLY STYLE...A gift to Greenfield Village, this early 18th century New England salt box home was completely disassembled and moved from Connecticut to Dearborn, Michigan where it was re-erected.

War Claims 53,000
 Of the two million men who sailed to France during World War I, 53,000 died in combat and 204,000 were wounded, according to "We Americans," the National Geographic's informal history of the United States.

Card Of Thanks
 Four generations of the late Harry and Leathie Perry and Willie and Jane Alston met Sept. 3rd. for the third annual reunion which took place at the Lions Den in Warrenton. We plan it once a year to get the family together. One sister from Boston, Mass., travelled the farthest. Sisters and brothers came from N. J. and also an uncle and aunt. Faithful cousin from Baltimore, Md., and relatives here in N. C., my appreciation to all and friends.
 LILLIAN MANSON

In Memoriam
 In loving memory of our mama and wife, Mrs. Lula Lynch. Slowly 2 years seem to have slipped by. Vivid memories and love for you in our hearts shall never die. It may seem like nothing has really changed. But without you here it will never be the same.
 CHILDREN & HUSBAND

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, James H. Boyd, Sr., who departed this life one year ago on September 23, 1976. It broke our hearts when you left us, But you did not go alone. For part of us went with you. The day God called you home. A thousand times we have missed you. And a thousand times if we could have saved you. You never would have died.
