Time To Think Christmas Safety

Glass Christmas tree ornaments definitely are not recommended by baby's diet this holiday season. Absurd statement? Of course. But not as absurd as you might think. Every Christmas season physicians are called upon to give emergency treatment to small children who have swallowed bits of ornaments and glass.

Christmas is a time of bright little lights on a tree in the parlor, of shiny glass ornaments and decorations, of filmy spun glass filaments, of toys that sometimes have sharp, rough edges, of lots of candy, nuts and other rich edibles. These are part of Christmas, and no one is suggesting there's anything wrong about it. The American Medical Association at this holiday season, however, points out once again that there are safety hazards at the Christmas season that aren't encountered during the rest of the year...hazards that can turn a happy holiday into tragedy.

—Check over your old strings of Christmas tree lights and discard those that are worn or brittle. If there are very small children around your house, discard burnt-out bulbs with caution, so baby can't get at them.

—Keep the glass ornaments and filmy glass "angel hair" out of baby's reach.

—Make absolutely certain that no toys coated with lead-based paint are included in Santa's pack. Lead poisoning is a danger should the child chew on the toy.

Almost all manufacturers now avoid dangerous paints.

—Select toys with a minimum of sharp, rough edges, toys that won't burn quickly if flicked through a candle flame, toys that are large enough so that babies can't swallow them.

—Electrical toys, such as trains, should be selected with safety in mind. Is the wiring intact and strong, or is it loose and flimsy?

—Air rifles, sling shots, archery sets and other missile throwing toys are obviously dangerous if carelessly used. Set up a target range and make certain the youngster is taught to use the toy properly and safely.

This list could be continued, but you can make your own. The prime thing to remember is that in the bustle and excitement of Christmas, accidents can happen. Certainly no one wants to spoil the holiday with undue worry.

Raines Selected As Outstanding AF Instructor

U. S. Army Sergeant First Class Jessie E. Raines, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Raines of 526 Ridgeway St., Warrenton, has been selected Outstanding Instructor of the Year in an air training command unit at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

Sergeant Raines was honored for effective teaching techniques and exemplary devotion to duty.

The sergeant entered the Army in 1962.

Brinkley Graduates

Sergeant Louis B. Brinkley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Brinkley of Littleton, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the U. S. Air Force technical training course for aircraft loadmasters.

Sergeant Brinkley, now trained to compute aircraft loads and deliver materials and supplies by parachute, is being assigned to Little Rock AFB, Ark., for duty with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

The sergeant is a 1973 high school graduate.

Griggs Is Promoted

Claude E. Griggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hansel E. Griggs, Wise, recently was promoted to Army private first class while serving as a reconnaissance driver with the 1st Cavalry Division at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Pfc. Griggs entered the Army in December 1975.

He is a 1974 graduate of Norlina High School.
