

Determination grips the faces of these Northside youngsters taking part in their school's annual field day on Friday. The morning was filled with various competitive activities as classes vied for awards.

Pilot Grant Of $46,075 Approved For Agency

The Kate B. Reynolds Health Care Trust, a major North Carolina foundation, has approved a $46,075 grant to support the development of a comprehensive long-range plan, facilities evaluation, and improved management systems for the Warren County Health Department, it was jointly announced yesterday by Joseph S. Lennon, health department director, and Ben W. Latimer, president of the not-for-profit corporation which will perform the project.

Work will begin June 1 and be completed over the next 16 months by the staff of Carolinas Hospital & Health Services, Inc. (CHHS), which has been performing similar services for community hospitals and related agencies since 1969.

It's hoped that the planning and evaluation methods and systems developed for the Warren County project can be used by other county health departments in the future, says Larry Unger, CHHS development director who worked with Lennon to develop the grant proposal. The amount of research and development devoted heretofore to health department planning and management has been limited, he added.

"By necessity," Lennon said, "health departments have had to devote the bulk of their funds and attention to basic health care services and disease prevention. There's little money for planning and organizational improvements. However, when funds are limited for all programs, one of the most direct ways to expand services is to increase the 'productivity' of each dollar spent - maximizing its impact with good planning and management. The grant will help us do that."

The Kate B. Reynolds Health Care Trust, located in Winston-Salem, was created in 1946 through provisions in the will of Mrs. William N. Reynolds for the purpose of improving health care to the people of North Carolina. The Trust awards approximately $1.4 million annually in grants to non-profit organizations throughout the state. Its current program interest areas are access to primary health care, alternative delivery systems which offer improved health care and/or economy, and disease prevention-health promotion.

CHHS, headquartered in Charlotte with offices in Raleigh, West Columbia, and Atlanta, provides a variety of professional and technical resource services (including on page 11)

HUD Hopes To Begin Sale Of Soul City

The Department of Housing and Urban Development plans to begin selling property at Soul City on June 27, provided the Clerk of the Warren County Superior Court approves the sale at a hearing to be held on Wednesday, June 4, in the office of the Clerk.

Floyd B. McKissick, president and founder of the new town, was served a notice of the hearing by Deputy Sheriff T. R. Williams on May 12.

The sale would be held in front of the Warren County Court House at 12 noon on June 27, and would include real estate and personal property. Excepted from the real estate are property already deeded by Soul City, including 500 acres sold to Perdue Farm, real estate sold to HealthCo, Recreation Center, and a number of lots sold by Soul City upon which homes have been erected.

Some 2500 acres of undeveloped property would be sold.

McKissick said following the serving of the notice of hearing, the foreclosure would send the project "down the drain."

McKissick's attorneys already have filed suit to keep HUD from withdrawing its support of the project.

Way Is Cleared For Construction Grant Of $571,050 Awarded For Plant

The Warren County Industrial Office was notified Friday morning that a $571,050 EDA grant for the construction of a regional waste water treatment plant at Warrenton had been approved.

The EDA grant, coupled with previous grants from HUD in the amount of $210,000 and EPA in the amount of $246,735, covers a shortfall in the bidding, and brings to a total $5,790,000 as the total estimated cost of the project.

Announcement of the EDA grant, expected for several weeks, was made Friday by the offices of Senators Robert Morgan, Jesse Helms and Congressman L. H. Fountain. Jack Harris, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, and the Office of The Warren Record were also notified of the EDA grant.

Newsome said that the February meeting with HUD was set up by Senator Helms, who has would probably be made at the regular meeting of the county board on Monday.

also been helpful in other efforts. Senator Morgan's office and that of Representative Fountain has been most helpful in assisting with appointments and otherwise in the request for the additional grants. He said that the two Senators, Representative Fountain, as well as the Kerr-Tar Council of Governments had rendered an invaluable service to Warren County.

JOHNSON

CONN

STEM

Commencement Plans Made For Academy Grads

Baccalaureate services will be held at Warren Academy on Sunday, June 1, at 8 p. m. The Rev. Curtis Campbell will deliver the sermon. The Rev. Charles Owens and Miss Peggy Alston, a senior, will also participate in the service.

Commencement exercises will be held on Tuesday, June 3 at 8 p. m. with Thad Stem, Jr., author and lecturer from Oxford, giving the address.

Stem, a native of Oxford, received his education in the schools there, at Darlington Prep in Rome, Ga., and at Duke University. He has written the third editorial for the News and Observer for 25 years. During this period he has written a signed column for several smaller papers such as the Southern Pines Pilot and the Roxboro Courier. In addition to a variety of prose and poetry in magazines, Stem has published 17 books, both prose and poetry. His latest book is Thad Stem's Ark.

Others on the program are the Rev. William Crouch, Cory Conn, Robert Fleming, Charles Johnson, III, Kent Daeke, and B. L. King. The Warren Academy Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Coleman, Jr., will provide the music. The organist will be Mrs. Monroe Gardner, and the pianist will be Mrs. Julius Banzet, III. The public is invited to attend.

Charles Thomas Johnson, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Johnson, Jr., of Warrenton, has been named valedictorian of the Class of 1980. He has served his class as secretary and president. He has been active in the student council, serving as treasurer, vice-president, and representative; on the annual staff, serving as business manager and editor; on the newspaper staff, serving as editor; and in the Beta Club, serving as treasurer and president. He was the recipient of the Danforth "I Dare you" award in 1979 and attended Governor's School in 1979.

Robert Cory Conn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Conn of Arcola, has been named salutatorian. He has served his class as vice-president and has been a active in the student council, drama club, and monogram club. He has also played football and basketball.

The members of the senior class and their plans for next fall are as follows:

Robert Cory Conn, agriculture; Kent Gustav Daeke, N. C. State University; Dalton Tart Dickens, Halifax Community College; Charles Thomas Johnson, III, Wake Forest University; Ronald Lewis Reid, East Carolina University; Edward Eugene Rooker, Chowan College; Samuel Robert Floss, J and J Logging Company; Kevin Paul Williams, East Carolina University; Peggy Mae Alston, Peace College; Linda Faye Bobbitt, Louisburg College; Kathryn Allison Craig, UNC-Greensboro; Cynthia Louise Isles, Louisburg College; Janice Lina Ormsby, Guilford Technical Institute; Linda Margaret Seaman, Hard-barger Junior College of Business; Tonda Jean Seaman, secretarial work; and Alice Bowen White, N. C. State University.

Hutton To Address Norlina High Grads

The Rev. Malcolm Hutton will address the Norlina seniors Sunday night, June 1, in the Norlina Gymnasium. The Baccalaureate message will be given by a former Norlina Baptist minister who will address the 91 seniors, their families and friends.

Malcolm M. Hutton, Sr., was born in Broadway, Va., on August 29, 1929. He was educated at the University of Richmond and at the Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary at Wake Forest.

In the summer of 1970 he was involved in the Asian Wide Evangelistic Crusade sponsored by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention and preached for two weeks in revivals in the Philippines.

Following 17 years in the pastorate, he entered the field of full time evangelism. Subsequently, he preached in revivals and conducted Bible studies in a number of states.

In August of 1979 he became pastor of the Oak Grove Baptist Church in Chesterfield County near Richmond, Va. He remains actively involved in the support of southern Baptist work at home and abroad.

He is married to the former Ann Davis of Norlina. They have two children, Deborah, age 20, and Malcolm, Jr., age 18.

In issuing the announcement of the Baccalaureate service, Principal Clint Hege invited everyone to attend the service which will begin at 8 p. m.

Stronger penalties for drug handlers were urged by Attorney General Rufus Edmisten during a chicken picking held Thursday night at the Warrenton Lions Den. Put on by the Warren County Democratic Party, the outing attracted approximately 50 party faithfuls.

In the photo above Edmisten discusses his proposed drug legislation with area office holders. From left to right are Warren Sheriff Clarence Davis, Edmisten, Rep. T. W. (Tom) Ellis of Henderson and Senator James Speed of Franklin County. (Staff Photo)

June Term Of Court To Begin On Monday

A mixed term of Warren County Superior Court is scheduled to get under way here on Monday at 9:30 a. m. with Judge Robert Farmer of Raleigh presiding.

The names of 11 defendants charged with failure to pay money as directed at previous court sessions appear on the appearance docket for this term of court. Ten civil cases appear on an estates and special proceeding docket, two cases appear on the motion docket and eight cases appear on the probation docket. Six cases appear on the sci fae docket.

The following cases appear on the grand jury docket:

Ronald Stanton Walters, larceny, felonious larceny and felonious possession of marihuana.

Julian Boone, Jr., breaking and entering and larceny.

Charles Dillard, breaking and entering and larceny.

Frederick "Buck" Alston, discharging firearm into occupied building.

Allen Crossin, assault with a deadly weapon, kidnapping, two counts of felonious larceny, assault with a deadly weapon (Continued on page 11)