

College Expands Program For Area Cosmetologists

Beginning this fall, Vance-Granville Community College will expand its cosmetology program by offering evening classes for students, according to announcement this week by Dean of Instruction Elton L. Newbern, Jr.

The curriculum, which requires 68 minimum credit hours to earn a diploma, will cover a two-year period, since it will be offered only to part-time students.

Classes will begin September 13 and will be held Monday through Wednesday evenings from 5 to 10 p. m. in room 3226 on campus. Jackie Sutton, head of the cosmetology department, will serve as instructor.

Applications are now being received for the 20 class openings, and interested persons are encouraged to contact the college's admission office as soon as possible since class space will be limited.

Designed to prepare the student for employment in the field of cosmetology, the curriculum provides instruction and practice in manicuring, shampooing, permanent waving, facials, massages, scalp treatment, haircutting, styling, hair pressing, chemical relaxing, thermal waving, curling and wig service.

After fulfilling course work, which consists of 1200 contact hours, and passing the State Board of Cosmetology Examination, the graduate may begin work immediately as an apprentice. A six-month apprenticeship is required to provide in-depth professional experience with a licensed, experienced cosmetologist while earning and learning.

As an alternative, students may choose to complete 1500 contact hours of lab work on campus in lieu of working the six-months apprenticeship.

VGCC first opened its cosmetology department in January of 1980. Since that time 60 students have been enrolled, with 54, or 90 percent, earning their diplomas. Of those graduating, 44, or 82 percent, are now licensed and working, said Mrs. Sutton. At present, 18 day students participate in the program.

Sanitarians Given Salute

The Warren County Health Department is giving special recognition to the work of its two public health sanitarians during this week, proclaimed by Governor James B. Hunt, Jr. as Environmental Health Week.

N. L. "Red" Williams and Palmer W. King, who are both registered sanitarians, are authorized agents of the N. C. Department of Human Resources.

Among the major programs in which they have statutory authority are the inspection and grading of food services, institutional, and lodging establishments, school buildings, agricultural labor camps, child day care centers, adult day care centers, hospitals, nursing homes, orphanages, local confinement facilities, residential care facilities and summer camps.

There are approximately 21,000 establishments under routine surveillance by the local health department public health sanitarians throughout North Carolina.

Mrs. Nicholson Is Given Party

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Nicholson of Pinetops honored his mother, Mrs. Ruth B. Nicholson on her 90th birthday at Gardner's Baptist Church Fellowship Hall on July 17. The reception lasted from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m.

Greeting the guests were her son and daughter-in-law. Mrs. George Robinson registered over 100 guests from St. Petersburg, Fla., Petersburg and Ashland, Va., Winston-Salem, Henderson, Roanoke Rapids, Rocky Mount, Pinetops, Tarboro, Weldon, Wise, Wake Forest, Warrenton, Littleton, Epsom, Macon and the local community.

The Fellowship Hall was decorated with summer flowers and greenery. The honoree received greetings from President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. Jerry Daniel and Mrs. James Kearney, both great-nieces of the honoree, and Mrs. Wayne Robinson. Others assisting were Mrs. Allan Adcock, Mrs. Everette King, Mrs. Harry Leete, Mrs. Carl Lynch and Mrs. Linda Smith.

Dinner Honors Mrs. Paynter

On July 24, Roxanna Paynter of Wise was honored by her family on her 83rd birthday with a dinner at the Ruritan Clubhouse in Wise.

About 100 people were in attendance.

The Rev. Robert Rodgers, pastor of Wise Baptist Church, returned thanks and a delicious meal was enjoyed before Mrs. Paynter opened her gifts.

After dinner, everyone participated in a sing-along.

Warren Plaza News

By MARTHA PAGE

Oh, for some of the cool, breezy days of fall. It has been so hot that everyone is complaining, even the ones who complain of being cold all the time. Our trees, shrubs, flowers and grass are all dying from lack of rain, even though we have had several light showers.

We have had several people to bring things out to the rest home recently for the residents. Most of them didn't want to leave their names, but we thank them just the same. We had a beautiful bouquet of mums brought to us compliments of Henderson Assembly No. 195 and Village Florist in Norlina. Ms. Clarice Greene came over to visit and brought them to us. They have been out in our living room all this week and were certainly enjoyed by all of us.

The people in the communities surrounding us have been so kind to us here and we appreciate everything that they do. We can never say "Thank You" enough. Please don't ever forget that we are out here and will always need your kindness and caring.

Birthdays for the month of August include: Eugene Taylor 24, Harvey Richardson 8, John Wilkerson 22, Pattie Arrington 3, Mina Reid 14, Henry Robertson 8, Thomas Rhodes 12, Charlie Smith 5, and Michael Williams 16. I am sure that any one of them would appreciate a card from you on their special day.

The ladies from Shady Grove Methodist Church are still providing the ingredients for our monthly birthday party. They always bring us beautifully decorated cakes and punch for everyone. These ladies have been doing this for the last two years and the residents look forward to their coming each month. Birthdays are a real special thing to these people, and even though we only have one party a month, everyone shares in it.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and James Edmonds always look on our calendar and see those who have birthdays each week and they sing "Happy Birthday" to them each Sunday morning.

We still badly need underclothes for both men and women in all sizes. We have plenty of street clothes right now but do need the underclothes. We also need bedroom shoes in all sizes for both men and women.

Till next week, God bless.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Bolton of Norlina announce the birth of their second child, a daughter, Heather Marie, on July 15 at Maria Parham Hospital in Henderson. The infant weighed 7 pounds and 8½ ounces.

Mrs. Bolton is the former Miss Christy Hicks of Wise.

The maternal grandparents are Mrs. Elizabeth Collier of Wise and Horace J. Hicks of Richmond, Missouri.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bolton of Warren Plains.

The Boltons also have a daughter, Sherry Leigh, age 3.

The Rev. and Mrs. P. Dudley Neal of Surrey, Va. announce the birth of a son on July 21 at Williamsburg Community Hospital.

The infant weighed 7 pounds, 2½ ounces.

Mrs. Neal is the former Diane Gardner of Havelock.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Neal of Warrenton and Mr. and Mrs. James Gardner of Havelock.

Applications Sought For Next HRD Class

Admissions applications are now being accepted for the next Human Resources Development (HRD) class at Vance-Granville Community College to be held from August 1 through September 29.

HRD is a pre-vocational program mainly offering job seeking skills training. Non high school graduates are also aided in preparing to take the General Education Development (GED) exam. The planned results of HRD training are to increase employment opportunities for each student by instilling job knowledge and values. Therefore, those who complete should be better prepared to find jobs or to pursue advance studies and training.

The cost to attend this HRD class will range from $8 to $15.00 with actual charges determined on an individual basis.

Classes will be held between 8:30 a. m. and 3 p. m., Monday through Thursday of each week. Registration will be held July 28 and 29.

Interested persons should contact the HRD office at 492-2061 or 693-4088.
