

Globetrotters Seen

By KENDRA HENDERSON And YVETTE TERI

On Monday, March 12, the Girl Scouts at Norlina Middle School sponsored a trip to Durham to see the Harlem Globetrotters. Approximately 40 students went.

There were several funny events in the show. Number 35 was a clown who danced with a man from the audience and scattered a ladies purse all over the floor. He also took money from a man's wallet. Curley wore a wig and danced around the court. They threw water and rice on some of the audience, too.

They were a lot of fun to watch, and they acted silly. You only had to watch them for a little while to see that they really know how to play basketball, though. They always had control of the ball and were excellent athletes.

The trip was a lot of fun, and if you ever get to see the Globetrotters, we hope you will enjoy it as much as we did.

The Norlina Blue Waves baseball and girls softball teams have set their schedule of games. The first three games of the season will be home games at 4 p. m. These games will be March 28 against Chevening (softball only), March 29 with Edward Best and April 2 against Hawkey.

We are looking forward to another championship season, so come and support the Blue Waves!

This week, we'd like to include in our column a poem by Scott Burchette:

"Love is...
Love is like sweet home
Love is like flowers
Love is like a new born baby
Love isn't like dirt
Love isn't like drowning
Love isn't like fighting
Most of all love isn't like killing."

Carter is the visiting artist at Martin County Community College and performed both at Warren County High School on Thursday and John Graham Friday. Arrangements for Carter's visit were made by Ned Gardner, visiting artist at Vance-Granville Community College. (Community Schools Photo)

At John Graham

Pageant Successful

By GAREY BALLANCE

The Miss John Graham Pageant held at Mariam Boyd Elementary School Friday night was a huge success. Rhonda Smith, a seventh-grader, was crowned Miss John Graham. Stacie Jones took first runner-up honors, and Halona Richardson was named second runner-up. All the talented contestants did a great job. The profits from this pageant go to the Teenagers of Today Club.

Our school was visited by a classical guitarist, Friday. He performed for each of the communities. We enjoyed and appreciated his music.

The eighth-grade Green Community will begin fundraising this week. The project is designed to raise money for the community tour of New York in May. The money raised will be deducted from the cost of the trip. The community will also have a talent show on April 6th in the JG gym. Everyone is invited to attend.

At Warren Academy

Testing To Begin

Warren Academy students in grades 1-11 will begin taking their annual achievement tests on Monday, March 26. The tests will last through Thursday, March 29. These tests help to aid in identifying and in correcting student needs in basic skill areas.

The fifth grading period is scheduled to end on Friday, March 23. Report cards will be sent home on Monday, April 2. The PTO is also scheduled to meet on April 2 at 7:30 p. m. with conferences immediately following the meeting.
