Names Published In Error

The Town of Warrenton incorrectly listed in last week's issue of The Warren Record Service Cleaners as taxpayers owing taxes which are liens of real property.

The Town of Warrenton regrets the error.

The American flag was first called "Old Glory" in 1831, when a New England seaman William Driver, who was setting sail for the Orient, unfurled the flag and declared, "I name thee Old Glory!"

Accreditation Teams Visit Warren County Middle Units

Both John Graham and Norlina Middle Schools hosted teams of educators last week during Southern Association accreditation visits.

The group of visitors at Norlina was headed by W. W. Edmonds, principal at Grey Culbreth Middle School in Chapel Hill. John Graham's visiting committee was led by Curtis Rains, director of In-service Programs for Wayne County schools.

The visits by the accreditation teams followed over a year's work by the faculties and staff of the two schools. Under the leadership of consultant, Dr. William B. Rice, principal at Brogden Middle School in Durham, both schools have completed in-depth studies of their educational programs, listing strengths and weaknesses and making plans for improvement.

The accreditation team members arrived at their respective schools Tuesday afternoon, April 17, and attended receptions in the schools' libraries. Following the socials, the group met with their leaders, Rains and Edmonds, and were given tours of the schools.

On Tuesday evening the teams were entertained jointly at a banquet at the Norlina Woman's Club. A musical program was provided by a chorus made up of faculty members from both Norlina and John Graham, and directed by Glendora Powell.

On Wednesday, the two teams reported to

Arrives For Duty

Air Force Sgt. Zevell O. Mason, nephew of Marion R. Mason of Rt. 1, Macon, has arrived for duty at Clark Air Base, Philippines.

Mason, an air traffic control specialist with the 1961st Communications Group, was previously assigned at Howard Air Force Base, Panama.

His wife, Janet, is the daughter of Julie B. Stiff of Henderson.

He is a 1974 graduate of John Graham High School.
