

Bike Rodeo, Ride Being Planned

A bicycle rodeo and a seven-mile bike ride will be held on June 9 at 9 a. m. at Mariam Boyd School in Warrenton. The event is open to all Warren County boys and girls ages 9 to 19. The rodeo and ride is sponsored by Warren County 4-H, the youth program of the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service.

Entry forms are due in the 4-H office at 101 South Main Street in Warrenton no later than June 6. Entry forms are available at the 4-H office or school offices. There is no entry fee.

Awards will be given in three age divisions: ages 9 to 11, ages 12-14, and ages 15-19. Age eligibility is determined by the participant's age as of June 9.

First, second, and third place trophies will be awarded in each division. All participants will receive ribbons. Placings will be determined by the total score including the rodeo and bike ride.

Adults are invited to participate in the bike ride. All riders age 20 and over will receive certificates and plenty of exercise.

Youth ages 9-11 will ride four miles. Youth ages 12-19 will ride seven miles. All safety precautions will be taken. Riders will be escorted by the Warren County Sheriff's Department. Bicycles will be inspected prior to the ride.

James Jefferson, a leader of the Best Better 4-H Club, will head up a maintenance crew that will accompany the bike riders. Free refreshments will be served along the route to all riders.

Teenage and adult volunteers are needed to serve in the bicycle ride safety patrol. If interested, contact the 4-H extension agents.

The rodeo will be held after lunch at Mariam Boyd School. The public is invited. The 4-H County Council will sell hot dogs, drinks, and snacks for lunch. The rodeo special will be one hot dog and a drink for $1.

Rodeo events will include the straight line balance, bicycle shalom, hit the ball, short radius turn, emergency stop, bicycle inspection, bicycle safety quiz and operation I.D. The rodeo events will be judged by law enforcement officers.

For more information, contact Glenn Woolard or George Koonce, 4-H extension agents, at 257-3640.

Card Of Thanks

The Wright family would like to take this opportunity to thank you for all of your kindness, cards, prayers, visits, flowers and other gifts of kindness shown to us during my wife's illness. Thank God she is much improved. If we had Ten Thousand Tongues we could not thank you enough.

HAYES

Hayes Is Given 4-H Scholarship

David Hayes, son of Henry and Oleathia Hayes of Warrenton, has been named winner of a $500 educational scholarship from the North Carolina 4-H Development Fund.

Hayes is one of 10 4-H members from across North Carolina selected to share $5,000 in scholarship money being distributed this year by the fund.

Mrs. Zulene Wooten of Hookerton, president of the fund, said the scholarships are awarded to outstanding 4-H members for college study during the 1984-85 academic year.

The 4-H Development Fund, with headquarters at North Carolina State University, was organized in 1958 by friends and alumni of 4-H to help support certain phases of 4-H work.

Mrs. Wooten explained that this is the 23rd year that scholarships have been awarded. Recipients, she reported, are selected on the basis of their high school records, evidence of college aptitude and 4-H achievement.

Hayes has compiled an outstanding record of accomplishments during seven years in 4-H work. He was a delegate to the 1983 National 4-H Conference in Chevy Chase, Md. and he has held offices in the county 4-H council and served on the county's 4-H and Youth Committee. He has won district honors in the photography demonstration contest and county honors in the communications, photography and camping projects.

First Meeting Is Held By New 4-H Club

By SPENCER RICHARDSON

The first meeting of the Hollister Saponi 4-H Club was held recently with 11 members present.

Officers elected included Erika Hedgepeth, president; Tracie Richardson, vice-president; Brian Lynch, secretary; Heather Richardson, treasurer; Spencer Richardson, reporter; and Sharon Richardson, recreational leader.

The members selected their projects and viewed a film shown by Mrs. Wanda Sykes, from the Halifax County Agricultural Office.

Anyone who is 9-19, male or female, and interested in being a 4-H member should attend the next meeting on June 7 at 7 p. m. at the Haliwa-Saponi Tribal building.

We would also like to thank the Haliwa-Saponi Tribal Council for allowing us to have our meetings at the Tribal building, and Mrs. Linda C. Mills and J. Roger Richardson for volunteering their time to organize the club.

Accreditation Given Program

The North Carolina State Board of Nursing has granted full accreditation for the Associate Degree Nursing Program at Vance-Granville Community College.

The college had previously received a one-year provisional status last May, enabling the program to begin on campus in September, 1983. Since that time the college has met various guidelines and requirements set forth by the State Board of Nursing to acquire full approval from the state agency.

The State Board of Nursing also granted approval for the college to increase its first year class from 24 to 32 students. The sophomore class may be increased from 20 to 30 in June, while there currently remains 10 approved spaces in the parttime nursing class.

CAROLYN MAYFIELD

Honor Is Given Mrs. Mayfield

Carolyn Mayfield of Rt. 1, Norlina was named Secretary of the Year recently by the Wake Forest-Henderson Chapter of Professional Secretaries.

Ms. Mayfield has been employed with Vance-Granville Community College for the past six years and was recently promoted to coordinator of faculty secretaries at VGCC.

She received her B.A. degree in business management and graduated magna cum laude from Shaw University in Raleigh.

The award was presented to Ms. Mayfield, who joined the chapter in 1974 and currently serves as its treasurer, at an executives banquet sponsored by the chapter at Middleburg Steak House.

Approximately 54 executives, secretaries and guests attended the event.

Graduation Seen

By Mrs. Holtzman

Mrs. Eva S. Holtzman attended the graduation of her grandson, Douglas Keith Holtzman, from Wofford College in Spartanburg, S. C. recently. Holtzman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Holtzman of Spartanburg, received a B.S. degree summa cum laude. He was also a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Mrs. Holtzman visited in the home of her son and his family and Mrs. M. E. Franke for several days. From there she traveled to Hinesville, Ga. and spent several days with her son, George W. Holtzman, and his family.

Check Up

Check refrigerator and freezer temperatures periodically. The refrigerator should be 38 to 40 degrees and the freezer at 0 degrees or lower.

Watch For Termite Signs

Termites are most easily detected during the spring, so be on the lookout for these highly destructive pests around your home.

The termites swarm during May and June and this is about the only time you can see them without conducting a probe and search operation.

The swarming may have already taken place around your home and you didn't see it. Check any spider webs around or under the house. One good place to check is a web located near the entrance to the crawl space under the house. Swarming termites may have become entangled in these webs.

Identifying a termite is easy, even for a person who knows little about insects, suggests Agricultural Extension Service specialists at North Carolina State University.

Take a close look at the area directly behind the insect's legs. If that area is broad and about the same diameter as the rest of the body, it's a termite.

Take a look at the wings. On a termite all four wings are about the same size. Check the antennae. Those on the termite are more or less straight with no elbow.

Now that you have identified the pest, what do you do about it?

The best move is to call a professional licensed pest control operator. Don't panic. Termites work slowly. Call several companies and have them come out and take a look.

Get several estimates before contracting the job. Get each pest control operator who gives you an estimate to detail exactly how he will treat your house, so you will have a good basis for comparing cost estimates.

Don't be surprised if the estimates range upwards of several hundred dollars. Ask around of people who have had their homes treated for opinions of the work they received. Be skeptical of the trustworthiness of any operator who operates out of the back of an unmarked pickup truck. The vehicle should have on it the pest control license number. If it doesn't, ask about it.

A termite job done correctly will usually last as long as the building does. Some pest controllers will offer an annual inspection service and guarantee against future termite damage. These inspection services are a good idea, provided they don't cost too much.

In most cases, only an inspection will be necessary and the pest controller will not have to apply additional treatments.

If you need more information on termites, check with your local office of the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service. It is probably listed in your telephone directory under county offices.
