Look At Diabetes Is Scheduled Here

By KATHERINE HILLIARD

Diabetes is a common disease that affects people all over the world. Diabetes is different from a cold, because you can't "catch" it from another person, and it is different from pneumonia because you can't cure it with medication. However, diabetes can be managed and the diabetic can feel good and lead an active life.

Of course, the person who has the most power to manage diabetes is the diabetic himself. A doctor, nurse, and dietician can help, but the diabetic has the key role in management.

What can the diabetic do to keep feeling good? What can you as a friend or family member do to help?

Join me Monday evening, July 16, from 7-8 p. m. at the Warren County Health Department for a closer look at diabetes. Learn the basics of "total-body care" for diabetics, including skin and nail care, personal hygiene and effective exercise.

For more information about this free health education "special," call 257-1185 for Katherine Hilliard.
