

Lakeland Art

Exhibit Shown

Fourteen miniature fine art originals by nationally awarded artist Diane T. Rodwell of Warren Plains are being exhibited at the Lakeland Cultural Arts Center in Littleton.

The exhibition entitled "Faces and Places" includes four faces depicting the flappers from the roaring twenties and 10 landscape scenes. All are miniature originals which the artist has painted within the last 10 weeks and which have not been shown previously. The faces are done in ink, line and wash, and acrylic and each flapper has a name.

Mrs. Rodwell used gouache (opaque water color) for the landscape scenes, and each six-inch by eight-inch painting is framed and triple matted.

The paintings will be on exhibit through December. Gallery hours are from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. Tuesday through Friday and from 10 a. m. until 1 p. m. on Saturday.

Inquiries are welcomed by the artist at 257-4589.

To Head Effort

Mrs. Virginia Fleming has been named Mental Health Bellringer chairperson for Manson for the October fund raising campaign, according to Gerald Niece, president of the Mental Health Association in N. C.

This recently purchased $45,000 pumper-tanker will be among the approximately 28 entries at the Annual Firemen's Day Parade on Saturday, October 13. The parade will begin at 10:30 a.m., leaving from the National Guard Armory, turning right onto Bragg Street and left onto Church Street, and will travel south on Main Street as far as the Warrenton IGA before returning to the Armory.

Twenty fire departments will participate, including the 14 in Warren County. The most distant fire department entry will come from the Parkwood Fire Department in Research Triangle Park. The parade is one event scheduled for Firemen's Day which is planned by the Warren County Firemen's Association in observance of National Fire Prevention Week. (Saff Photo)

Assistance Available Again For Low-Income Households

Low-income households in Warren County will again be eligible for assistance with heating costs this winter, according to Julian Farrar, director of Social Services for the county.

Application for assistance must be made at the Department of Social Services on Ridgeway Street in Warrenton.

To facilitate the process and to prevent long waiting periods applications will be received on an alphabetical basis, depending on the first letter of the last name.

The schedule is as follows: A, B, and C, apply Oct. 15 and 16; D, E, and F, apply Oct. 17 and 18; G and H, apply Oct. 19 and 22; I, J, and K, apply Oct. 23 and 24; L, M, and N, apply Oct. 25 and 26; O, P, Q, and R, apply Oct. 29 and 30; S and T, apply Oct. 31 and Nov. 1; U, V, W, X, Y, and Z apply Nov. 2 and 5.

Those who are unable to apply on the above dates may apply Nov. 6-30, except for the holidays of Nov. 22 and 23.

Matt Johnston, supervisor for the program has stressed the agency's need for the cooperation of all applicants so that application can be completed without undue hardship on anyone.

Applications will be accepted between 9 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. on weekdays.

Payments to eligible households will be mailed from Raleigh during the month of February, 1985.

To establish eligibility, the following information will be required:

1. A list of persons in the household, their birth dates, Social Security numbers and type of income.
2. The latest bank statement and/or savings passbook for each household member with a checking and/or savings account at a bank or savings and loan association.
3. Award letters for benefits received from

Social Security, unemployment, Veterans Administration, pensions from employers, or trust funds.

4. Food Stamp ID cards and Medicaid ID cards if receiving Medicaid or Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

5. Verification of farm income.

Farrar noted that the elderly, homebound, and handicapped persons who are unable to visit the office to make application may have a relative or designated representative apply in their behalf. Workers taking applications will be Dianne Tant, Margaret Campbell and Gladys Crowe.

One Last Chance

Warren County cat and dog owners who have not had their pets vaccinated for rabies will have one more opportunity to do so this year on Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Warren County Sanitary Landfill on Baltimore Road in Warrenton.

According to Frank Twitty, county dog warden, vaccinations will be given by Dr. George Davis of Louisburg from 1 to 5 p. m.

Cost of the vaccination, which is required by law, is $4 per animal.

What a lovely fall week we have had with beautiful, warm, sunny days and cool nights.

We have put out all the blankets on the beds, and they sure felt good these cool nights.

The leaves are all beginning to turn and it will soon be very pretty outside. Fall is our favorite time of the year, but we certainly don't look forward to winter and the snow and slick roads. Wouldn't it be great if we could have this kind of weather all the time?

Well, Halloween is right around the corner and we are planning to have a party for the residents on that day. We would like for some of you who belong to church groups or civic organizations to help us out by donating some items that we can use for prizes in bingo games, fishing games and other types of games. We would also like to some of you to donate some candy and fruit for us to distribute to them, or bake sheet cakes or cupcakes for them. The local groups have always come through and helped us out and we are asking one more time. We only need small gifts for prizes, possibly things you have around the house that the residents might be able to use.

Birthdays for the month are: Mary Lou Hall 1, Elsie Whitaker 6, Levi Daughtry 15, Nettie Wilson 16, and Russell Page 28. I am sure they would all appreciate a card from you.

We want to say "Thank You" to some folks who have brought some items to the home for our use. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nelson of Littleton brought large size clothes and shoes and Hy Diamond brought some clothes and other items that we can certainly use.

Several other folks have brought magazines by and some other things and didn't leave their names, but we want to thank them anyway.

We are always grateful for everything that is brought here and it is always used.

Until next week, God bless.

Bus Trip Plans Are Outlined

The Warrenton Junior Woman's club is sponsoring a bus trip to Lightfoot Va. on Saturday, Oct. 20.

The cost is $12 and proceeds left after expenses will be donated to Special Olympics. For more details, contact Bonnie Andrews at 257-1172 days, and 257-4076 nights.

Family Reunion Is In Virginia

The annual family get together of the late Price and Cassie Paschall of Warren County was held at the Thunderbird Club House in Chesterfield, Va. on Sunday, Sept. 30. Ninety-three members of the family enjoyed a pig-pickin' with all the trimmings.

Charlie M. Paschall of Norlina, was the oldest member present. The oldest grandchild was Rose Marie Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson A. Yager of Richmond, Va. The youngest great-grandchild was four-month old Jeffrey Canada, son of Darrell and Michelle Canada of Stern.

Health Awareness Night Planned

The Health Advisory Committee of Franklin-Vance - Warren Head Start will hold Health Awareness Night on Monday, Oct. 15, at 8 p. m. The program will be held at the Henderson

Head Start Center located at Dabney.

The purpose of health awareness night, according to Joanne Porterfield, Head Start nurse, is to provide medical, dental, and mental health information to Head Start families and other interested citizens to help them understand and support Head Start health services to children.

Information will be provided to participants in the areas of nutritional, dental, medical and mental health. Area professionals and health specialists will provide information on Head Start health services and address questions concerning child health problems.

Expected to attend are a variety of health service physicians and specialists including Dr. Joseph Leahy, Dr. Gilbert Sellars, Dr.

Alice Hannibal, Emily Robinson, Palma Adams, Ruby Spruill, and Sarah Pugh.

The F-V-W Health Advisory Committee is a support group organized to insure that Head Start provide appropriate health services to low-income children and to assist Head Start in providing health care education to the community.

The public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Hilliard Attends Meeting

Katherine Hilliard, health educator with the Warren County Health Department, was one of five North Carolinians attending the 10th Annual Southeastern Conference on High Blood Pressure Control held recently in Savannah, Ga.

Mrs. Hilliard, who is also secretary to the executive committee of the North Carolina association, was chosen to attend the conference on the basis of her work with the hypertension program of the local Health Department.

"It was very interesting to learn that our hypertension projects in North Carolina are equal to, if not superior, to others in the region, with far fewer resources available," Mrs. Hilliard said. "Obviously, there are public health professionals who are working extremely hard in North Carolina."

Attends Convention

Hair stylist Patsy Lewis of the Magic Finger Beauty Salon on West Franklin Street recently attended the Annual Fall Festival Convention of beauticians at the Mission Valley Inn in Raleigh.

The Warrenton hairdresser gave the Ultra II demonstration perm to thousands of convention-goers from around the world. She attended classes taught by famous stylists from France and England and from several states.

Gold Pagoda

The Shwe Dagon Pagoda soars 326 feet above Rangoon, Burma. Begun 2,500 years ago to enshrine eight hairs of Buddha's head, the pagoda is sheathed in $90 million worth of gold, reports National Geographic. It is capped by 4,350 diamonds and other precious stones.
