Homemakers Have Gathering

The Zion Extension Homemakers Club met on Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Kathlene Paschall. The president, Eleanor Hayes, presided.

The meeting opened with the group singing the club collect song. The hostess gave the devotion titled "Rules."

The club decided what they could do for two shut-in members.

The president announced that in November there would be an area meeting. The members decided to go as a group and have lunch after the meeting.

Officers for 1985-86 were elected. They are Frieda Holtzmann, president; Everlyna Norwood, vice president; Kathlene Paschall, secretary and Lena Holtzmann, treasurer.

Mrs. Norwood, Family Relations and Child Development leader was in charge of the program. She talked about knowing and trusting each other, accurately understanding one another, mutual support and help and learning how to resolve problems and conflicts.

The hostess served ice cream and cookies and assorted toppings to complement the ice cream.

Apples, pears, peaches, blackberries, strawberries, cherries, plums, raspberries and apricots are all members of the rose family.

COVETED AWARD—Lelia Bringham, coordinator of Autumn Arts '84, displays the Grumbacher silver presentation award which will be presented for the painting judged best-in-show at the Juried Art Show which opened Oct. 14 at Vance-Granville Community College. The national award will be given in the name of the Kerr Lake Art Society, selected by Grumbacher, Inc. as one of the most outstanding art societies in the country.

College Art Show Now Underway In Henderson

Henderson's fourth annual juried art show, opening Sunday, Oct. 14, will launch a series of special events and entertainment planned in conjunction with Vance-Granville Community College's Autumn Arts '84.

To be jointly sponsored by VGCC, the Kerr Lake Art Society and the Vance County Arts, the show will run Oct. 14-30 at the college. Lelia Bringham, part-time art instructor at the college, will serve as coordinator of activities scheduled throughout the week.

David Parker, head of the Division of Art at Chowan College, Murfreesboro, will be juror for the show. Well-known throughout the state as a teacher, exhibitor and judge, he has won numerous awards for his work in shows across the country.

Parker will be at the college on Friday to select works to be exhibited in the show and to award prizes. The most coveted prize to be given this year will be a silver presentation award furnished by M. Grumbacher, Inc., national supplier of art products and materials. Only 100 such awards are given annually in the United States. An engraved plaque with mounted silver medalion, the award will be given in the name of the Kerr Lake Art Society to the artist whose work is judged best-in-show. In addition, cash prizes will be given for winning entries in each of the three show divisions: paintings, graphics and miniature. Merchandise awards will be presented for honorable mentions.

Patrons for this year's exhibit are as follows: Vance-Granville Community College—Frank H. Madigan; Holland Supply Company—Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Holland, Jr., Owens-Illinois, Inc. of Warrenton—Mr. and Mrs. John Evans; Dr. and Mrs. James Kenny, and Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Wester, Jr.

The following will provide merchandise awards: Country Crafters, Crafters Gallery and Frame Show, Laffman Studios and Macons Office Equipment Co., all of Henderson and Windsor and Newton of Syracuse, N. J.

VGCC personnel and members of the Kerr Lake Art Society and the Vance County Arts Council will assist with show preparations and exhibiting selected workers. Chosen pieces will be hung in the reception area and front corridors of Building 1 on campus and will be open for public viewing through October 30, according to Vera R. Gatano, publicity specialist at the college.

Wayne Kinton Named Man Of The Year

Wayne Kinton of Norlina was named Man of the Year by the Norlina Ruritan Club at its annual Ladies Night held at Norlina Woman's Clubhouse recently.

Kinton, president of the club, was cited for his contribution to the community as a businessman and for his work in his church.

New officers elected for the coming year are: Russell King, president; Leigh Traylor, vice president; Hal Paschall, secretary; Erich Hecht, treasurer.

William Brauer, Steve Daniel, and Clifton Hicks were elected directors. Kinton presided over the meeting, which was opened by the singing of "America," led by Clyde Edwards.

Entertainment was provided by County Line Grass and the meal of turkey and dressing, potato balls, corn and string beans, congealed salad and lemon chess pie was served.

A toast to the ladies was given by Russell King followed by a response from Dot Newsom.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Good Night, Ladies" and the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

Circle One Has Thursday Meet

Circle One of the Norlina United Methodist Women met Thursday at 3 p. m. with Sudie Coleman.

The meeting came to order with a prayer by Gladys Norwood. She then read from Timothy and followed from a study book with "Christ Died on a Cross for Our Sins and Misgivings."

Mrs. Coleman read from "Response" magazine, referring to the scripture, and ended with a prayer.

Old business was discussed by all and new business was brought up.

Mrs. Julia Gallian called the roll. Mrs. Coleman read the minutes of the last meeting.

The meeting was closed with all members repeating the Lord's Prayer.

The group was invited into the dining room and seated at the dining table. Mrs. Norwood gave thanks. Refreshments and fellowship was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Coleman will host the November meeting.
