

The World Of Books

In The Warren County Memorial Library

Children's Book Week is Nov. 11-17. This observance will be an excellent opportunity to introduce your child to the library.

On Wednesday, Nov. 14, we will have another "Bear Facts" session at 10:30 a. m. for three-and-four-year-olds. The children must bring their bears. The session will last 30-45 minutes.

NEW BOOKS: "A guide Book of U. S. Coins-1985," Yeoman; "Tough Guys Don't Dance," Maller; "The Fourth Protocol," Forsyth; "First Lady from Plains," Carter; "Crescent City," Plain. Several books have been added to the Children's Room.

MEMORIALS: For Bobbie Cook, "The Flower of Light-Biography of Mary Webb," Coles, from Creighton Davis and "One Writer's Beginnings," Welty, from Charles and Grace Glass. For Cooper Leonard, "Savannah," Price, from Winnifred Thompson. For William Short, "Moses the Kitten," Herriot, and "The Very Hungry Caterpillar," Carle, both from Sam and Shirley Pitchford. For Mrs. Gladys Powell, "More Scrap Saver's Stitchery," Foose, from Ann Allen and Owen Shearin. For Panthea Twitty, "Fitts or Fitz Family," from Margaret Felts Campbell. For Patsy Rodgers Marshall, "Metropolitan Museum of Art Guide," Howard, from Katherine Register Rodwell.

Remember that all contributions to the library are tax deductible. Keep those Mini Pages coming in. The response last winter was marvelous, and the children appreciate them very much. Thank you.

Customer: "Hey waiter, why does this chicken have only one leg?"

Waiter: "It was in a fight."

Customer: "Well, take it back and bring me the winner."

Students in Mrs. Laura Kearney's second grade at Warren Academy adopted a whale named "Orbit" through the Whale Adoption Program. The students collected money and sent it to the Massachusetts Whale Program and in return, received an adoption paper, a photograph and a newsletter. The money they sent will be used to help stop the in-
