

Cards Of Thanks

To all the staff at Warren Nursing Center. No matter when I come to visit you greet me with a smile, It means a lot to people Who have loved ones there awhile. Or even if their stay is long It always seems like home To see you show them with a song Your love will never roam. A kiss, a hug, a pat on the head When you pass them in the hall Or tuck them down in bed. This kind of love means all. The love that shines within your eyes They look for when you pass And in your back if you had eyes You'd see that love look last. God bless all who work here And keep you the way you are It makes them think their family's near And their family, you really are. If they get upset some-times And want to go back home You sit and love and talk to them And soon their heart-aches gone. I just want to thank you For the job you're doing there, May God richly bless you And keep you also in his care.

Love,
JUNE STEVENSON

The family of the late Charles L. Myrick would like to thank family, relatives and friends for the visits, flowers, cards, food and other acts of kindness shown during the passing of our loved one. May God bless you all.

SHIRLEY,
CHARLOTTE
AND GWEN

I would like to thank all our many friends and relatives for the cards, flowers, visits, prayers and all acts of kindness shown me while a patient at Community Memorial Hospital, South Hill, Va. and for me and my husband since my return home.

God bless each of you.
MRS. REVIS

Know your Carpeting

POLYPROPYLENE
Polypropylene, pronounced pol-e-pro-pa-reen, is the most widely used fiber for outdoor carpeting. Carpeting of terraces, patios, pool-sides, and other well-used outdoor areas has become prevalent today, and this durable fiber was developed to meet the rising needs of indoor-outdoor carpet. Polypropylene is resistant to mildew and is therefore well adapted to outdoor usage, where weather can take its toll of weaker fibers. It is highly resistant to fading, and has a fair resiliency, though not as good as strictly indoor fibers like nylon. Polypropylene does have a low melting point, so it cannot be used near fires, and care must be taken to keep cigarettes and the like from burning holes in it. For an introduction to fibers, see us the carpet experts. We know what you need, and can help you find what you want. See us today.
