

Train Of Thought

News Of Norlina Public Library

By LILLIAN KILIAN

It's getting on to Christmastime! Youngsters can't wait for the holidays to begin. As exciting as all this may be, days of boredom will come, with questions such as this: "What can I do now?" This is the post-Christmas doldrums getting to you. Here's a remedy: read a good book. Get ready to defeat the nasty doldrums by checking out a few books now and having them on hand for this post-Christmas period of the blahs.

We have a plan to help. Heretofore our policy has been to loan a book for a period of only two weeks before it should be returned or renewed. Our policy has been temporarily changed: Books borrowed at any time during the month of December, 1984 need not be returned or renewed until January 7, 1985. So, come check out some books and make every day of your holiday a happy day!

Indexing continues with a little help from my friends, Sharon Paschall and Helen Jones. What a pleasure it is when someone now asks for a book on a certain subject, for us to be able to say, "Just a minute. I will check the index," and then to be able to locate the book requested. We have begun the 900 series—the last. Then we will begin indexing the Junior Section.

GIFTS: Mrs. Alice King presented three large bags of miscellaneous books, mostly for children. Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Traylor presented a beautiful book entitled, "The Medieval and Renaissance World."

YOU ASKED FOR IT: When the book by George Orwell entitled, "1984" was advertised, later receiving raves in the news, we were asked if we had a copy. We were sorry we did not. However, we have now purchased a copy for you, first come, first served. We have also recently purchased "Literary Terms" (a dictionary) and for the students of religion, "The Koran" and "Jews in the Roman World."

It is a joy when young people return to the library with a highly graded school paper they have written, using books from this library for their research, or when their writing has won for them national honors. It is a joy when others ask, "What can I do to help the library?" These are nice young folks, a credit to our community and it is wonderful that this little library is here for their use.

Please continue to either return or renew your books on time.

I am finishing my first year as librarian. I have made mistakes, but they were made from inexperience, and possibly from my being overly zealous to do a good job. I apologize for any inconvenience they have caused you.

Thanks to all for your friendship and cooperation in 1984 and we look forward to even a nicer 1985.

The library will be closed December 21, 1984 to January 7, 1985.

We wish for you and yours a joyous Christmas and a happy and spirit-filled New Year.

Fleming Gets Promotion

William P. Fleming, a Norlina native, has been promoted to regional vice president with A. L. Williams Co., according to National Sales Manager Larry Weidel.

A. L. Williams, a nationwide co-op of independent businessmen, was founded in Atlanta, Ga. in 1977 by 87 people and is now a sales and marketing organization of more than 60,000 people.

Fleming, who resides in Dunn, became associated with A. L. Williams in June 1980 and was named Manager of the Year in 1983.

In his duties as regional vice president, Fleming will hire and train other managers as well as manage his region which covers North Carolina and Virginia.

FLEMING

Also a real estate broker, Fleming has been in the business and financial planning profession since 1968.

He is married to the former Martha Sugg of Dunn, and they have five children.

Fleming is the son of Mrs. Myrtle S. Fleming of Norlina.

Telephone Position Filled By Mrs. Wood

Margaret M. Wood, Carolina Telephone's district commercial manager for the Roanoke Rapids area, has been named community relations manager in the company's Corporate Communications Department, with primary responsibility for the Roanoke Rapids and Henderson area.

In this new position, Wood is responsible for developing and implementing programs in public relations, public affairs, community development and customer relations.

Wood reports to Edward L. McGee, public affairs manager for the company's Rocky Mount Division, which includes the Roanoke Rapids and Henderson areas. Wood will continue to reside in Roanoke Rapids.

A native of Rocky Mount, Wood attended Chowan College. She joined Carolina Telephone in 1967 as a commercial clerk. Her management positions include business office supervisor in Rocky Mount from 1977 to 1979, communications representative in 1979 at Rocky Mount, and district commercial manager in Roanoke Rapids from 1979 until her new appointment.

Wood is a Baptist, a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, member of the board of directors of Becker Village Mall in Roanoke Rapids and member of the board of directors of the Employment Security Commission.

She has a son, Tony, age 17.

Hike Expected

College prices are expected to rise 6 percent, says the College Board, a not-for-profit New York association.

THE FAMILY

Susan Currie Enters Chapter

Susan Annette Currie, a Meredith College student and the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Currie of Norlina, was initiated into Gamma Rho Chapter of Delta Mu Delta in a ceremony recently at Meredith.

Delta Mu Delta is the national honor society in business administration. It is a member of the Association of College Honor Societies, an association of more than 47 national honor societies formed in 1925 to keep standards of honor societies at high levels and to increase their usefulness. Gamma Rho Chapter was installed at Meredith in 1980.

Under the national by-laws, each chapter may admit into membership students of good character who are registered in programs of business administration. Undergraduates must have completed at least half of the work for the baccalaureate degree with an average cumulative grade of at least 3.2, .2 above "B" or better.

Undergraduate students must be from the top 20 per cent of their total college class in cumulative grades. Delta Mu Delta is open to both men and women. Meredith, founded in 1891 by North Carolina Baptists, is the largest four-year, church-related liberal arts college for women in the southeastern United States.

In a study of business founders, researchers found that half had parents who had owned their own businesses.
