Circle Members Hear From Bishop's Diary

Circle Three of the United Methodist Church met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Clint Hege with nine members present.

Mrs. Willie Robinson gave the program with excerpts from Bishop John Early's diary. Bishop Early traveled through Warren County from 1809 to 1814, and speaks of spending the night with the Robinson family, the Fitts family and the Perkinson family near the Roanoke River.

Mrs. Robinson, president, presided over the business meeting.

Members were reminded of the call to prayer and self-denial program to be held at the church on Jan. 28 at 8 p. m.

Members brought old Christmas cards to be sent to the mission field in Brazil.

The meeting was adjourned with the benediction after which the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Homemaker Members Gather

By EVA HOLTZMAN

The Zion Extension Homemakers Club had a luncheon meeting Thursday at noon at the home of Everlyna Norwood.

The meeting opened with the group singing "Let The Lower Light Be Burning."

The president, Mrs. Freida Holtzmann, presided over the business session. The hostess gave devotions and prayer.

Emily Ballinger announced the district meeting will be held March 19 at McKimmon Center in Raleigh. She also told of a peanut cook-out contest. The 1985 yearbooks were filled out and a program of work leaders were chosen.

Miss Ballinger gave the program, "Batling the Bone Thinner." She talked about osteoporosis, the disease affecting older people. Women have this disease eight times more often than men. It cannot be cured, but it can be prevented and slowed down. A well balanced diet is good for prevention with two-eight ounce servings of milk daily, four servings from bread and cereal, two servings of meat and four servings of vegetables and fruit. Walking is also good for the bones.

The meeting closed with the collect.

Members will meet with Myrtice Richardson in February.

Area Postmaster Gives Program

Mrs. Eva S. Holtzman, postmaster of Ridgeway, presented the Benjamin Franklin Stamp Club program to the Raleigh M. S. C. woman's program of the Woman's Advisory Council at the MGM Regency in Goldsboro at a dinner meeting on Monday evening, Jan. 14.

Other postmasters from this area were Walter Troy Freddy, postmaster in Manson; Mrs. Hallie Edwards, postmaster in Middleburg; and Graham Harris, postmaster in Kittrell.

Nursing Center News

Warren Nursing Center
The snow last week was just beautiful as it fell to the ground, but we didn't get enough to make snow cream or have a snowball fight. Oh well, maybe next time.

I know the children were excited to stay home from school and, at the same time, disappointed that there was so little snow. Some of the employees here at WNC ran into a little bit of trouble on their way to work. We are thankful that none were seriously injured.

Meek Is Speaker At Ruritan Meet

Butch Meek, member of the Warren County Planning Board, was the guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Norlina Ruritan Club.

Introduced by past president Wayne Kinton, Meek explained the success of zoning ordinances regarding lake front property and the importance of planning to prevent future problems.

Meek noted that proper planning can ensure that water and sewer systems will be adequate and power, telephone and school service will be ready for whatever development may occur.

We want to say a special thanks to Mrs. Effie Burnette of Warren Plains for the donation of a walker and undergarments. These items are very much appreciated and will be put to use immediately.

So many have donated magazines throughout the year to the facility and to you we also say "thank you."

Would you like to be a volunteer? If so, please contact Donna Robertson, activity director, at 257-2011. Volunteer services are greatly needed at the center and any services you are able to provide would be helpful.

This week I'd like to leave you with a mini-joke by Bert Crampton: "My mother told me carrots should become a habit. She said she never saw a pair of glasses on a rabbit."

Person Ends Basic Training

Army National Guard Pvt. Toris T. Person, son of James Boyd of Norlina, and vernell V. Person of Wise, has completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Person is a 1984 graduate of Warren County High School.

Winter Garden Activities

The gardener need not "settle down for a long winter's nap" for lack of things to do in winter.

Repair garden equipment before spring. Come spring-time, the grass will not wait for you to repair your lawnmower. Be sure garden tools are clean and stored in a dry place.

Take soil samples. For information on how to do this, contact your county agricultural extension agent.

Your poinsettia will last longer if it is moved to a cool room (no cooler than 50 degrees) at night. Water the plant when the soil feels dry. Poinsettias are not poisonous. Research on the poinsettia has effectively debunked tales that the plant is harmful to human and animal health if eaten, but don't eat it. Unfortunately, false rumors persist and keep people from enjoying this favorite holiday plant.

Turn the compost pile to hasten decomposition.

Continue to keep birdfeeders and birdbaths filled. Suet is available at the butcher counter in your grocery store.

Keep fallen leaves raked off newly seeded lawn areas. The seedlings need plenty of sunlight and air.

Watch for outbreaks of mealybugs, spider mites, aphids and whiteflies on your houseplants.

Wood ashes can be a beneficial addition to your vegetable garden's soil, because they contain about 5.5 percent potash. Collect wood ashes and store them in a dry place. If you put them out now, the potash will leach too deep into the soil to be reached by vegetable roots. Do not use wood ashes around acid-loving plants such as azaleas, rhododendrons, camellias or blueberries.
