Little Garden Club Members Gather

The Little Garden Club met at noon on Tuesday, May 14, at the Emmanuel Episcopal Church Parish House for its final meeting until September. Hostesses for the covered dish salad luncheon were Mrs. Fern Boyd and Mrs. Nellie Gardner. The dining tables were decorated with baskets of pansies grown by garden club members.

A poem and blessing were read by Mrs. Rosa Fleming.

Yearly Garden Club awards were presented.

The "New Bud" award was given to Mrs. Jan Perkinson as the most active new member. The Hildegard King award was given to Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, as the most active continuing member.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Elizabeth Barnes, artist and Vance-Granville Community College basketry instructor, gave a program on basketry. Mrs. Barnes said that vines from our own back yards can be made into works of art.

The club's mini-garden project on Main street is particularly attractive now. Local citizens are urged to stop and admire the flowers and the foliage.

Each year the Garden Club gives a civic beautification award to a local business. However, this year there are four businesses that will receive awards: Hardee's, First Citizens Bank, Williamsburg Manor, and Warrenton Insurance and Real Estate.

The next club meeting will be held on September 10. At that meeting, members will construct bird houses.

Mrs. V. C. Henderson hosted the May meeting of the Town 'N Country Garden Club with Mrs. Sally Brown, president, in charge. Mrs. Brown opened the meeting with a floral quotation, after which she presented Dr. Nannette Henderson, plant pathologist, to give a demonstration.

Dr. Henderson talked to the club on budding and grafting ornamentals. Her talk included instructions on different methods and times of budding and grafting various plants. She gave illustrations of shield budding, plate bud, whip grafting, cleft grafting, side graft, saddle graft, and veneer graft.

After her demonstration, she gave each club member a list of instructions and a time table for budding and grafting common ornamentals.

During the business session, the club discussed taking tours to nearby nurseries and Mrs. Exum and Mrs. Gardner reported to the club that they had cleaned and weeded the garden plot in front of the Professional Building in Warrenton.

After some brief discussion reminding members to submit copies of their demonstrations to the Scrapbook Committee, the meeting was adjourned into a social hour.
